

MAN Y KILLED WHEN TANKER BLOWS UP

CURRENT COMMENT
By Chester H. Rowell

THE writer did not vote for the "federal" plan of reapportionment, which passed at the election. He supported the defeated "No. 20" the so-called "Los Angeles plan," for constitutional reapportionment. But the people thought otherwise. The federal plan passed practically the whole state, including all of Southern California, except Los Angeles. It is, therefore, the will of the people of California, now embodied in their fundamental law. There ought to be only one policy toward it, and that is to carry it out.

UNFORTUNATELY there is, in both San Francisco and Los Angeles a disposition to find loopholes to escape or delay the carrying out of this constitutional decision. There is no way to compel the legislature to act, and, if it does not do so, the decision of the commission, which is then to act, is subject to the referendum. That would hold it up for two years, and get another Senate elected, whose members would hold for four years more. Appeals to the courts are also threatened, on the self-contradictory claim that the constitution is unconstitutional. All these devices, if used, can easily stave off reapportionment under the 1920 census until long after it is due under the 1930 census. Inasmuch as that census will unquestionably upset the old balance even more than that of 1920, the same difficulty will reappear, and, by these tactics, the settlement could be delayed until after 1940—when, the situation being then still worse, there would be no excuse for acting until after 1950. The only way to end it is to end it. And the time for that is now.

ALSO, there should be an end of a talk of state division. The state will not be divided. Southern California, outside of certain elements in Los Angeles, will not vote to do so. Northern California, outside of a few elements in San Francisco, will not even discuss it. The agitation will produce no tangible results. But it might aggravate some serious intangible ones, in dissatisfaction and sectional feeling. Better drop it, and forget it.

THERE are temperamental differences between Northern and Southern California. The fact that San Francisco goes overwhelmingly wet, and Los Angeles even more sweepingly dry, is symptomatic of many other differences. There are also competing interests, which only conference and good will can harmonize. If you set one Californian against another, injustice is done, whoever wins. Just now, Los Angeles has real and serious grievances. It has, at times, demanded more than justice, and received less than justice. But the remedy is not to be found in conflict; still less in division. It is in the recognition by both sections that this state is essentially and permanently one. The differences between the section of whose inhabitants are recent arrivals, and the one dominated by the sons of the pioneers, will disappear with time. San Francisco will forget some traditions, and Los Angeles will acquire some. Then they will both be Californians, not Northern Californians, nor Southern Californians. Don't start them toward being citizens of North California and South California. Let us not Balkanize the Golden West.

CECIL De Mille, the dispatches say, has signed up the actors who are to play Jesus and the Virgin Mary in a new film, under a contract that they will not play any risk or questionable roles for five years to come. Their business value, in these sacred parts, would obviously be lessened if, while this film was still being shown, they should become familiar to the public in indecent parts. Therefore, to protect the cash value of the Crucifixion, decency is made a part of the contract.

"BUSINESS is business." And this certainly is good business. Which is business reason enough for doing it. But will Cecil De Mille enter into contract with himself not to hire these or any other actors, for five years or over, to play risky or questionable roles in any film whatever? That would be real business. It would have cash value. A study of the Book, from which this new film is to be taken, might suggest the existence of even other reasons for being decent. But the cash one is enough, and Hollywood knows what it means. How about a combine of all the producers, to insert this newest piece of good business in all of their contracts, with everybody?

AIRPLANE ELOPERS SEEK FORGIVENESS

WOODLAND, Calif., Nov. 19.—Jesse Hart, 22, and Miss Mabel C. Hobson, 19, who showed the world something new in elopements yesterday, when they jumped into an airplane at Corning and flew away from the girls' irate father, today returned to their home to seek parental forgiveness. But they returned as Mr. and Mrs. Jesse E. Hart. They were married by Justice of the Peace R. W. Harrison, here, late yesterday, shortly after their airplane landed at the local airport. Hart proposed the elopement by air after his bride's father, a state traffic officer, had attempted to block the ceremony by arresting them for speeding on their way to Sacramento, yesterday.

(By United Press)
SACRAMENTO, Nov. 19.—Starvation and exposure caused Thomas Griffin, "The Owl," whose body lies in the morgue here today, to stop behind his two comrades in their dash for freedom, declared Warden J. J. Smith, of Folsom prison, following positive identification of the body by the lieutenant of the guard.

The body, white-faced, and showing a terrific struggle against pneumonia from night of hiding in underbrush, was found along the Southern Pacific railroad tracks, half way between Ben Ali and Wadega, north of Sacramento, this morning. The body bore no scratches or injuries of any sort. Griffin wore the regulation prison shoes, shirt and underwear, bearing his number, 13,482.

SEARCH KEPT UP FOR TWO CONVICTS

FOLSOM PRISON, Nov. 19.—Warden J. J. Smith today refused to permit any relaxation in the hunt for the desperadoes, who escaped Monday afternoon. "The most critical point in such a search is just about the time it is being played out," said the warden. "We are asking everyone in the neighborhood of the prison to telephone us the slightest clue. Escaped men realize that interest is bound to wane, and they usually lie low until it does."

Descriptive circulars, bearing pictures of the men, were broadcast to all sheriffs and police officers in the state today. The first break in the three convicts suspected of being assistants in the delivery came last night, when G. Ross, one of the group taken back into the prison yard after leaving a gravel truck outside, admitted that he thought the men were under the car. The car was later found to have a false bottom, under which three men might hide unseen. The other two convicts, refusing to talk, are still being "sweated," in an attempt to wring a confession from them.

That the escaped men may show up anywhere in California or Nevada, was admitted by prison authorities, who are sending copies of the circulars to nearby states.

Must Face Jury For Auto Death

PASADENA, Nov. 19.—G. J. Morgan, 22, must face a jury trial in superior court, on charges of reckless driving and manslaughter, in connection with the death of Mrs. Zada Stagner. Morgan was held to answer, following a preliminary hearing before Justice Elliot Gibbs. Mrs. Stagner was killed instantly when an automobile in which she and Morgan were riding crashed into a boulder on North Foot-hill boulevard, November 7, at 4 a. m. Morgan was drunk at the time, according to police, but he claims that Mrs. Stagner was driving the machine. Bail was set at $1000.

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—A "Miss X" and not Aimee Semple McPherson was his companion at Carmel-by-the-Sea, last May—and the trunk containing filmy lingerie and the "dear darling man" letter is "bunk," Kenneth G. Martin gave out Ormiston's statement, in which the radio operator intimated that, inas-

PREXY BANISHES SMOKING AMONG CO-EDS AT U. S. C.

Von KleinSmid Edict Bars Girl Students From Puffing Fags

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 19.—There was a flurry of excitement in campus and sorority circles at the University of Southern California today, following the edict of Rufus V. Von KleinSmid, president, that women students shall not smoke. The student welfare committee has voted to co-operate with President Von KleinSmid and to refuse registration to smoking co-eds, and this action, said to be one of the harshest moves ever taken in university circles in the country, has caused quite a stir among sorority women.

The later will have an opportunity to air their grievances before administrative officials of the university within the next few days, according to Von KleinSmid. University officials, it was announced, would confer with leading women of the university and discuss the edict. If it is unfair, it will be rescinded. If the rule is deemed just, smoking co-eds may be suspended from the university, it was intimated.

"There shall be no smoking whatever, either in the residence hall or in sorority houses, or in any other home approved as student residence for women by the committee on student welfare, or at any student function under the auspices of the university," Von KleinSmid said, in announcing the new smoking ordinance for co-eds. "Believing that we are sustaining an important ideal in this declaration, we wish further to express the desire and the determination not to register as students any young women who cannot agree with us in the emphatic position against smoking, and who do not respect the regulation in both spirit and letter."

GANGSTERS BOMB HOME OF MAYOR

WEST FRANKFORT, Ill., Nov. 19.—Gangsters' bombs rocked Franklin county again today, when a group of men, riding in one car, rode by the home of Joe Adams, mayor of West City, and hurled bombs at the house. Although the bombs shattered the glass in the windows and did considerable damage to the front of the house, neither the mayor nor his wife and brother, Gus Adams, was injured. Last week's three carloads of gangsters drove by the Adams home and poured machine-gun fire into either side of the mayor's house.

RAIN DRENCHES NORTHERN PART OF CALIFORNIA

Downpour Is Expected to Reach Southland in Next 24 Hours

(By United Press)
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 19.—Northern California, on the outer edge of a disturbance centered 900 miles out in the Pacific, due west of Eureka, today felt the heaviest effects of the storm which has been brewing for the past 72 hours.

Accompanied by lightning and thunder, a downpour, following the lighter rains of the night and early morning, fell upon San Francisco about 8:30 o'clock this morning, and in less than an hour 35 of an inch had fallen, bringing the total rainfall for the last 24 hours to almost an inch.

Rain was general early today from the Santa Clara valley and lower portions of the San Joaquin valley northward into Oregon.

Weather bureau officials here said Southern California had escaped the storm so far, but rain will pass southward over the Tehachapi and drench practically the entire southern section of the state within the next 24 hours.

There is no prospect of a let-up in rain during the next 24 hours in northern California, officials stated. At 10 o'clock this morning, rain, diminished in quantity from that which fell for several hours before, was still coming down.

The storm seemed centered about two points in the northern section of the state, Santa Rosa and Stockton.

Up until early today, Santa Rosa reported .90 inches in the preceding 24 hours; Stockton, .72; Sacramento, .28; Chico, .08, and Oroville, .25. No rain was reported at Fresno.

Owner of Carmel Cottage Is Dying

CARMEL-BY-THE-SEA, Nov. 19.—The condition of C. H. Benedict, owner of the Carmel cottage allegedly occupied by Aimee Semple McPherson and Kenneth G. Ormiston, has taken a sudden change for the worse. It is doubtful if he lives 24 hours longer, Dr. C. H. Lowell, his physician, told the United Press today.

"His illness more than a week ago was regarded as hopeless," Dr. Lowell said.

"The chronic disorder had so undermined him that, when the present attack came, his recovery was seen as a virtual impossibility."

Benedict was one of the most important witnesses at the preliminary hearing of Mrs. McPherson on charges of obstructing justice.

EIGHT BODIES TAKEN FROM RUINED SHIP

DEATH TOLL MAY BE 40

Firemen Eventually Put Out Blaze and Hull Is Being Combed for Bodies

(By United Press)
BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 19.—The Norwegian tanker Mantilla blew up at her dock at Sparrow's Point today, while scores of men were working aboard her. Flames from the thousands of gallons of oil in the vessel's tank spread from stem to stern after the explosion and a heavy loss of life was feared.

Eight bodies had been brought out in two hours. The maritime bureau estimated 21 to 25 are dead. An ambulance driver, returning to Baltimore with injured men, said he thought 40 were dead and that many men were trapped in the white-hot hold. His report was entirely unconfirmed from other sources. Plant officials refused to estimate the number of dead, although they believed that it was more than eight.

Latest estimates placed the injured at 21 to 40. Spectators reported that most of the men were carried from the ship with some of their limbs missing and their bodies horribly mangled.

Firemen experienced tremendous difficulty in fighting the fire. They had to climb a sort of bridge, which was part of the drydock, and pour their chemicals downward. The heat and smoke on the bridge were almost unbearable, firemen said.

Fire Finally Extinguished

Firemen, after fighting the flames and billowing black smoke for hours, had the fire out this afternoon and the hull was being searched for bodies as far as rescue workers could penetrate the still hot interior.

It was reported that a preliminary check showed 17 men missing, in addition to the eight bodies recovered and injured in hospitals.

THREE SLAIN WHEN MOB STORMS JAIL

JUAREZ, Mexico, Nov. 19.—Two young women and one man were killed and six persons were wounded yesterday when a crowd stormed the Zocalo de Torres jail, and attempted to free rebel friends imprisoned there, according to advices received at military headquarters here today.

Colonel Pineda is a member of the staff of the chief of operation in the state of Jalisco, where the jail storming occurred.

MINERS TURN DOWN PEACE PROPOSALS

LONDON, Nov. 19.—Great Britain's 1,000,000 miners have rejected the Conservative government's proposals for settling the coal dispute, which has cost more than $2,000,000,000 during the last six and one-half months.

Rejection of the proposals was officially announced today, when the result of a vote in the district associations was reported to the Miners' Delegate conference.

The vote, as officially announced, was:

Against acceptance, 460,805; for acceptance, 313,200. The government charged that the method of voting was primitive and unsatisfactory, in that there was no individual ballot, but merely a show of hands at the various local association meeting places. Many men, it was said, thus were prevented from indicating their preference.

WALTER G. TABER, WHO SWAM CATALINA CHANNEL

Walter Grange Taber, 28, husky Huntington Beach oil worker, who today successfully swam the Catalina channel, in the phenomenal time of 13 hours and 27 minutes. It was his fifth attempt. He had never participated in swimming events in competition and made the attempt unheralded. Now that he has succeeded, he declares he will enter the contest, to be staged by William Wrigley in January.

DRY AGENT FOR SOUTHLAND TO SURRENDER JOB

Frith Prepares to Quit, In Midst of Roundup Of Rum Forces

(By United Press)
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 19.—Col. Robert E. Frith, prohibition director of Southern California, has prepared his resignation and will give up his job about January 1. Colonel Frith, in making the foregoing announcement, denied that he had been asked to resign, as reported in Washington, D. C.

Maj. Blaine A. Dixon, chief field assistant, has penned his resignation also, it was announced.

Announcement of Frith's contemplated resignation came in the midst of a coast-wide roundup of rum runners, conspirators and higher-ups in a gigantic liquor ring.

More than fifty arrests, in various Pacific coast cities, have resulted thus far in the drive on the $10,000,000 rum band.

Authorities were active today in checking up the financial holdings of the accused liquor barons. Records of banks which are holding their deposits are being examined, and the accused rum magnates may face additional suits charging violation of the income tax laws.

One bank alone, at Long Beach, has handled more than $1,000,000 in proceeds from liquor selling in Southern California during the last two years, it was claimed.

U. S. BREAK WITH MEXICO IS HINTED

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 19.—An angry editorial, in which the newspaper Excelsior discussed United States and Mexican relations with Nicaragua, today was interpreted by some observers to have semi-official status and to be the prelude to severance of diplomatic relations between Mexico and the United States.

So far, there have been no official statements regarding the United States' allegations that Mexicans have violated their international obligations by assisting the liberal revolutionary party in Nicaragua, except Foreign Minister Saenz' denial that there had been any official Mexican assistance afforded the revolutionists.

"The authors of the shameful Bryan-Chamorro treaty," said the Excelsior, referring to a treaty negotiated with Nicaragua while the late W. J. Bryan was secretary of state, "has been sustained in power through the armed aid of the United States."

Taber was accompanied on the trip by two motorboats.

Miss Helen Fee, pretty Hollywood girl, promoted the attempt made by Taber. Miss Fee accompanied him on the trip in one of the motorboats.

Alfred Higgins, of San Diego, was the owner of the other boat and it is to Higgins that Taber gives the credit for his successful completion of the swim. According to Taber, Higgins leaped into the water and urged him on to complete the swim for the last four miles.

Scores of swimmers, men and women, have attempted to swim Catalina channel, but with success, since Gertrude Ederle conquered the English channel.

William Wrigley, cigar king, has offered a purse of $25,000 for a free-for-all marathon across the channel in January.

OIL WORKER SETS RECORD IN SWIMMING

Walter Taber, Huntington Beach, Performs What No Man Has Done Before

IN WATER ALL NIGHT

Non-Professional Makes the Trip in 13 Hours, 27 Minutes; Eats 2 Breakfasts

PERFORMING A FEAT never before accomplished by man, Walter G. Taber, 28, oil worker, of 1133 Magnolia avenue, Huntington Beach, today hung up a new world's swimming record when he completed the 27-mile swim from Catalina island to the mainland.

First reports of the feat were received at the Huntington Beach police department, where Taber reported on completion of the swim.

His attempt was unheralded and the remarkable feat was accomplished almost unnoticed. Five friends accompanied the swimmer across the channel in a motor boat. Several of them were in the water, from time to time, with Taber.

13 Hours, 27 Minutes

Taber's time was 13 hours and 27 minutes, considered remarkable for a course declared far more difficult than the English channel. According to information that the swimmer gave to police officials, he entered the water at Catalina, at 2:38 p. m., yesterday, and waded ashore at the foot of Eighth street, Huntington Beach, at 4:03 a. m. today.

"I made it because the currents were just right, being favorable at all times, and because the moon was right," Taber said. The swim was Taber's fifth attempt to negotiate the cold waters that lie between Huntington Beach and the island.

Losses 10 Pounds

The swimmer lost 10 pounds while in the water, he told friends today. He weighed 214 pounds when he started, and weighed 204 pounds when he walked upon the beach at the end of the swim.

Taber is five feet, nine inches in height. He is an ex-service man. When Taber was four miles off Huntington Beach, early today, a fresh swimmer, from the accompanying boat, leaped into the water to encourage Taber. Both swam to the mainland. Taber, although extremely tired when his feet touched the sands off Huntington Beach, was able to walk up on the sand, where he sat down. Friends hurriedly threw blankets around him, and, after resting for a minute, the champion walked to his home.

Taber located in Huntington Beach a little more than a month ago. He did no extensive training for the feat and, according to his own words, did it more to "see if it could be done" than anything else. He formerly was employed by the Santa Fe railroad, at San Bernardino.

No Swimming Lessons

Taber never had any instruction in swimming, deriving all his knowledge thereof in the "old swimming" hole, and in the Hudson and East rivers, in New York.

His success in swimming the Catalina channel was the direct result of an argument with a friend in San Bernardino. The argument arose soon after Gertrude Ederle swam the English channel.

"I told my friend that I could swim the Catalina channel at that time," Taber declared today.

Taber was stiff, this morning, but otherwise experienced no fatigue. He ate bullion cubes on the trip when he became hungry.

Taber used the breast stroke, alternating with the side stroke. His body was greased. When he arrived in Huntington Beach, he ate two hearty breakfasts.

Neither Smokes Nor Drinks

He is an unmarried man and does not smoke or drink.

Taber was accompanied on the trip by two motorboats.

Miss Helen Fee, pretty Hollywood girl, promoted the attempt made by Taber. Miss Fee accompanied him on the trip in one of the motorboats.

Alfred Higgins, of San Diego, was the owner of the other boat and it is to Higgins that Taber gives the credit for his successful completion of the swim. According to Taber, Higgins leaped into the water and urged him on to complete the swim for the last four miles.

FOR GOOD PIES

If you ask most good cooks why they use Snowdrift for making pie crust, they will tell you it makes pie crusts light, tender and flaky. And that, you must admit, is quite reason enough. But if they'll let you pester them for one more "reason why," they'll probably say that its rich, creamy consistency makes it always easy to use.

PACKET LINES ON MISSISSIPPI RIVER DWINDLE

KEOKUK, Ia., Nov. 19.—With the commerce bearing season brought to a close several weeks earlier than usual by high water from the fall floods, the upper Mississippi river has taken on its winter quietude.

Fourteen fleets, with crews, pilots and clerical staffs of about 1000 men have sought their winter quarters and soon the lighthouse tenders will desert the Father of Waters, marking the end of another season of maintenance work for the dwindling river traffic.

The packet boat business seems to belong to the "show boat" age and apparently only some unusual transportation development will restore the one-time demand for river carriers.

Few Packets Operate

Only a few packets now are in operation on the upper river. Some excursion boats, which formerly were passenger carriers, still make short pleasure jaunts, but for the most part the traffic is made up of barge-lines and their convoys.

Occasionally the river towns are visited by the show boat of another generation. These floating playhouses, still retain the trappings that characterized their first venture, but their productions have changed. Now, instead of Uncle Tom's Cabin East Lynne, etc., they offer vaudeville, motion pictures and the latest in stock shows.

U. S. Deepens Channel

The government maintenance work on the river is designed largely to meet the requirements of the barge line services. The six-foot channel is being built to meet the needs of these craft which promise to become more numerous if the upper Mississippi barge line proposal is successful.

The upper river district includes 686 miles—from St. Paul to the mouth of the Missouri—and is carefully worked over by the government fleets each year. The lighthouse department looks after the lighting on the 81 bridges of the district.

The season closed November 15, when the Dandelion—appropriately named, as the first craft out in the spring and the last one in the fall—extinguished the lights for the winter in this region.

Increased Span of Life Seen by Mayo

ROCHESTER, Minn., Nov. 19.—The future hope of the human race lengthening its life span lies in the microscope, according to Dr. William Mayo, noted surgeon.

"The microscope has already added 38 years to the average life of man," he said.

"The ultra-microscope, or more powerful microscope of the future, may raise the span of life to 70 years or more."

Dr. Mayo laid stress on the value of religion in healing, saying its appeal to the emotions must not be ignored. But he called "spiritual sciences" the work of fakirs.

NEW LEPER OIL

RIO DE JANEIRO, Nov. 19.—Dr. Antenor Machado has found that a certain Brazilian tree gives an oil which has been found effective in treatment of leprosy. It is declared to resemble chaulmoogra oil in many respects, but is not so painful for the patient. Dr. Machado has been pleased with the results of experimental treatments.

TIGER SHOT DEAD WHEN IT

Beast Scents Rat in Visitor's Pocket and Tries to Kill

HOUSTON, Tex., Nov. 19.—Why go to India to look for trouble with wild Bengal tigers when you can get it right here in Texas?

That, at least, is what Bert Wilson thinks.

Wilson lives in Minot, N. D. He came to Houston to attend the national convention of park executives. With the other delegates, he went to Herman Park zoo here to have a look at El Tex, a beautifully striped tiger from the Bengal jungles.

In his pocket, Wilson carried a live white rat. He was to go to a dinner party that evening, and planned to make the rat do tricks for the other guests.

The house cat loves to chase mice, and apparently the tiger is just as keen on going after rats.

When Wilson stepped into the tiger's cage, El Tex made a lunge for him. El Tex, either by smell or by some mysterious jungle sense, knew Wilson had a rat in the pocket. Tiger and man went to the floor together.

Zookeeper Hans Nagel, outside the cage, drew his revolver and shot El Tex, saving Wilson's life and killing the tiger. Wilson, however, had to go to a hospital and have 39 stitches tawen in his wounds.

Now El Tex's skin, stuffed, will adorn a museum somewhere—probably the first Bengal tiger to be killed in Texas.

The rat? It was dead, but it had not been harmed physically in the fight.

"It died of fright," Wilson says.

Man, 71, Smokes
His First Cigar, Saved Since 1874

GREENVILLE, O., Nov. 19.—T. J. Burns smoked his first cigar on his 77th birthday.

As he smoked, memory pictured for him in the fragrant blue haze a scene in a little crossroads store at Gettysburg, on his 25th birthday, when the proprietor presented him with a "10-center."

In those days, a "10-center" was considered quite a cigar. Burns decided to keep it "until after supper." Afterward he decided to save it until he was older and better able to appreciate it.

And the longer he saved it, the more attached to it he became. He lavished every kindness on it. He wrapped it carefully in cotton, and moistened it now and then to keep it from cracking.

The day he was 77, he decided to smoke the cigar which had furnished him so much anticipatory cheer during 52 years. "I was afraid I might not be here to smoke it next year," he said. "Oh, yes, I been smokin' all my life, but this was my first cigar I jest smoked. Right good one, too."

Golden Bells of Mission Stolen

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 19.—The famous bells of the Santa Ysabel mission, valued at $20,000 and cast of a gold alloy, which made them noted for their beautiful tone, have been stolen.

The theft was reported at Ramona, 20 miles from the mission, by Indians of the Santa Ysabel mission, who regard the place as a shrine.

Several months ago a fire ravaged the mission, but the golden bells were not harmed. The mission was built 150 years ago in the days of Father Junipero, Franciscan priest.

California Co-eds
Eat Ton of Candy

BERKELEY, Nov. 19.—A ton of candy a week is required to fill the sweet tooth demand of the co-eds in the University of California. It has just been estimated.

And during one month recently 55,000 candy bars, which amounted to about five tons, were sold to the girls, according to Christian Telford, of the Associated Students' store.

How the young women remain thin and slender in spite of all this candy eating is a mystery to Telford—and to everybody else.

Fur Catch Drops;
Demand Increases

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Fur coats may gain an enhanced standing as luxuries if the supply of fur-bearing animals continues to decrease as steadily as during the last year. The department of agriculture said that the number of fur-wearers was increasing much faster than the fur-bearers.

The fur catch during the 1925-26 season was 20 per cent less than in the previous year, the department quoted collectors of raw furs as asserting.

World-wide Wheat
Pool Idea Scouted

CALGARY, Alta., Nov. 19.—There is no hope for a world-wide wheat pool under a central organization. H. W. Wood, president of the United Farmers of Alberta, asserted his return from Australia and the Orient. The pool system, however, will be the dominating factor in the separate grain centers of the world, he believed.

Wood predicted that the Australian pool ultimately would achieve the fullest measure of success despite the difficulties which operators there have to contend with.

HOODOO CAR

VIENNA, Nov. 19.—The motor car in which Archduke Ferdinand, of Austria, was slain in Sarajevo, Bosnia, June 28, 1914—the incident that precipitated the World war—seems to be pursued by tragedy. A dealer acquired the automobile recently, and while trying to pass another car, the machine skidded, four of the party being killed.

Plea for Cotton Clothing Causes
Stir in Atlanta

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 19.—Women's rights have apparently assumed all of the old importance of state's rights in the southland. The suggestion that women wear cotton clothing to alleviate distress of the farmers and create a demand for Dixie's chief agricultural product has created a heated controversy as to what sacrifices loyalty demands.

Varying opinions are expressed. Friends and families are divided. Agitation has been created to have the debatable clubs and the junior league pass resolutions on the question.

Miss Idolene Lewman, member of Atlanta's social set, is quoted as being "tickled to death" with the idea of cotton stockings. "I think they'd make a wonderful hit with the boys," she said. "They'd know you weren't extravagant and that as a wife you'd cost less. And really the underthings would be awfully warm and protecting in cold weather."

Miss Yolande Kwin takes an opposing view. "Why I'd rather wear red flannels," she said. "And stockings? I'd much rather go bare legged. I'm afraid all I can contribute to the farmers will be a little cotton handkerchief."

PRELATE FILM FAN

PARIS, Nov. 19.—Cardinal Dubois, archbishop of Paris, has confessed himself converted to the movies, after a visit to a studio where he saw a film made. Wearing smoked glasses to protect the eyes from the light, the cardinal watched the making of the film for a whole morning.

STRANGLER BLAMED FOR WOMAN'S DEATH

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 19.—
Discarding their early theory that Mrs. Willie Anna Edmonds, 56, wealthy widow, had died from heart failure, police today came to the conviction that the woman was a "strangler" victim.

Portions of the skin from her neck were turned over to Dr. E.
C. Heinrich, Berkeley criminologist, for finger print analysis.

Mrs. Edmonds' body was found by her son, Raoul, last yesterday, in an upstairs room of her home. The door was locked from the outside. His mother was lying dead on the floor. Absence of marks indicating violence at first indicated she had died naturally.

A "dark stranger" was reported seen entering her home yesterday afternoon, presumably to inquire regarding a "for sale" sign, displayed in front.

California Poet Is Laid to Rest

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 19.—Funeral services were held this afternoon for George Sterling, California poet, who ended his life Tuesday.

A public service was conducted at a downtown chapel, and eulogies were delivered by Halp Patgan and former U. S. Senator James D. Phelan, both long friends of the poet.

Dean Wilmer J. Gresham, of Grace cathedral, read the Episcopal funeral service and later conducted committal service in Cypress Lawn Memorial park, where Sterling's body will be cremated in accordance with the wish of relatives.

plane. Officials of the port explained the plane was not Ford property and said its pilot had "regularly dropped in" for the past month to make use of the airport facilities.

dent Coolidge is opposed to the Democratic tax reduction plan for elimination of automobile taxes, it was officially announced at the White House today. With the gov-annually for roads, Mr. Coolidge believes automobile owners could well afford to contribute to the federal treasury.

according to Terry Stephenson jr., commissioner of forensics, owing

T. B. PREVENTION WORK BEING DONE IN ORANGE COUNTY AND HEALTH CAMP HIGHLY PRAISED

Mrs. Edythe Tate-Thompson, executive secretary of the California Tuberculosis association, made it clear to the board of directors of the Orange County association, at a meeting here, that children's health camps, sponsored by the association, cannot be turned over to counties or boards of health for maintenance, as they are integral parts of the work of the organization.

Many kinds of clinics and other matters in line with the tuberculosis prevention program, however, are being turned over to other bodies after they are placed on good working basis, she said. The diagnostic chest clinic here has been taken over by the county hospital.

The executive secretary, who also is director of the bureau of tuberculosis, state board of health, explained the situation following a query from Dr. Bessica Ralche, of Anaheim, prominent physician, who is deeply interested in child welfare.

Pleased With Camp Site
Mrs. Thompson was well pleased with the present Orange county park camp site, made possible through the co-operation of James Irvine jr. Dr. Gladys Shakovitch, who made a survey of camps in the state, had reported to Mrs.
Thompson that Orange county had the best site, the best regulated camp, the best selected children and the lowest maintenance cost of any camp visited. The cost per child is only $1 per day in the Orange county camp, it was explained.

The state secretary, said that in the maintenance of children's health camps a sharp line must be drawn between prevention and treatment and she urged the Orange county association to work for the proposed tri-counties hospital, with an up-to-date preventorium.

Immediately following the Christmas seal sale this year, Mrs.
Thompson hopes to inaugurate a two months' educational campaign in the high schools, as investigation has shown much tuberculosis among students.

People of moderate means, or the lower salaried folk, form the greatest problem in the treatment of illnesses, it was shown, as the indigent class is cared for and the rich can afford the proper care. It is necessary, therefore, said the speaker, that hospitals, where persons may receive attention at a medium cost, be provided.

To Solicit Funds
Dr. John Wehrly, president of the Orange County Tuberculosis association and a pioneer in tuberculosis work in this county and in the annual Christmas seal sales for many years, told of his plan for a drive among philanthropists of the county to raise $3000, which it was necessary to borrow in order to erect the proper buildings for the children in the health camp. This will be done, he said, so that the money will not have to be taken from the seal fund.

A resolution of thanks was voted by the directors to Dr. F.
W. Slabaugh, county purchasing agent, and John C. Lamb, county tax collector, for providing headquarters for the Christmas seal work in the Hall of Records, where the work almost has been completed. The little seals, which mean so much to victims of tuberculosis, will be in the mails
the day after Thanksgiving.

Mrs. Thompson said that her day in Orange county had been a pleasant and inspiring one and she was convinced that before another year had passed, Orange county would boast of an up-to-date preventorium maintained the year 'round, with a school for pre-tubercular children, who would be cared for as long as necessary to make them 100 per cent healthy.

she was convinced that before an-

$3000, which it was necessary to

SUMMER GUARD FOR PRESIDENT MAY BE INDIANS

TOPEKA, Kas., Nov. 19.—When President Coolidge goes on his vacation next year, he may have as his official guard at the summer White house a troop of full-blooded Indians, representing 26 different American tribes.

The Indian department at Washington, aided by Senators Curtis and Capper of Kansas, is trying to obtain this privilege for Troop C, 114th cavalry, Kansas National Guard. That troop is not only the "show troop" of the Kansas military forces, but is the only exclusively Indian unit in the entire army, navy and marine corps.

Recruited from 26 Tribes
They were recruited from 26 tribes in 20 different states, and a few decades ago their forefathers were fighting tribal wars of extermination against each other. But they are all under one banner now, and on the banner of their troop is written:

"We have buried the hatchet, smoked the pipe of peace and all belong to the same tribe, troop C." Paul Cannaday, himself an Indian and a World War veteran, conceived the idea of an Indian cavalry outfit. He asked, and was given, authority to enlist the best men of Haskell institute, Lawrence, Kas., a government Indian school, to form the unit.

It was mustered into service in May, 1924. Three months later military circles all over the country were buzzing with favorable comment about the work of the Indian outfit.

In addition to the natural ability to ride horses gracefully, the troop's "silent drill," without mounts, has won the commendation of some of the highest military officers for its outstanding excellence. For ten minutes it goes through the most intricate military formations without a single guiding movement, executing 118 separate movements.

Tribes That Are Represented
As for membership, there are 13 Cherokees, 11 Sioux, six Pimas, and five Navajos. The other tribes represented are the Ute, Seminole, Shawnee, Apache, Sac and Fox, Creek, Pawnee, Oneida, Cheyenne, Chippewa, Seneca, Choctaw, Comanche, Arapahoe, Omaha, Kiowa, Kiowa, Wichita, Stockbridge, Klamath, Arickaree and Shoshone.

In the past years when the president has gone on his vacation a company of marines was sent along to guard the summer home. The Indians would like this privilege just once. So a request that it be extended next summer to the only Indian organization in the government service has been submitted to the president.

PROSPECTOR IN SEARCH OF LOST VEIN 50 YEARS

HILLSBORO, N. M., Nov. 19.—After 50 years of search for a "lost lead" of red ore, said to have assayed $2100 gold to the ton, Manuel Taylor, aged but active American-Mexican who says he is a descendant of Gen. Zachary Taylor, still pokes about this section of the southwest with two burros, confident that he yet will "strike 'er rich."

His life and the faith that goes with it stamp him as one of the last of that picturesque type—the old-west gold prospector.

Taylor now is eking out a living and saving toward one more grubstake by prospecting and placer mining near Gold Dust, N. M., with a primitive machine he calls "the por man's concentrator." But he is reputed to have mined on a vast scale at various times in his life and to have made at least six big mineral strikes and spent as many fortunes.

For instance, in 1906-1907, when an epidemic of influenza struck this part of the country, Taylor is credited with having bought 150 coffins and paid the funeral expenses of as many of the poor of his community.

Early in the '70s an Indian friend told young Taylor he could lead him to "heap much gold." They outfitted and penetrated the wild San Matillo mountainous country. Finally they reached a spot from where the Redskin pointed to a streak of red earth, much like brick dust, and grunted dramatically:

"Here heap much gold!" Taylor was disappointed to see no trace of gold in it. He was then ignorant of metallurgy. However, he wrapped some of the stuff in a handkerchief and threw it into one of his packbags. They returned to Silver City, N. M.

One day months later Taylor was cleaning his bags and found some of the red dust. Idly rubbing it between his palms, he suddenly noticed many particles of fine gold appearing as the coarser grains broke away. He went to an assayer to learn that the dust tested $2100 gold to the ton.

In them canwhile, his Indian guide had died. And for 50 years Taylor has failed to relocate the treasure spot again.

STATE RESTS IN HALL-MILLS MURDER TRIAL

SOMERVILLE, N. J., Nov. 19.—The state today completed its case against Mrs. Frances Stevens-Hall, Willie and Henry Stevens, charged with the murder of the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills, and rested at 1:55 p. m.

The prosecution completed its case after Inspector Underwood, of the state police, had been perfunctorily questioned with regard to statements to newspapermen.

"That's our case," said Alexander Simpson, prosecutor.

"I understand the state has rested, then?" queried Robert McCarter of defense counsel.

"Yes, we rest," reiterated Simpson and the way was cleared for immediate beginning of the defense's testimony.

Today's session of the trial opened with Mrs. Barbara Tough, Scottish maid in the Hall home recalled once more to the stand.

The featured player in the trial has withdrawn from the scene.

The long anticipated appearance of Mrs. Jane Gibson has passed into history and her final "I've told the truth, so help me God—and you know it!" has left the trial in an anti-climatic state.

Mrs. Gibson yesterday identified the three defendants as having been Dr. Hall and Mrs. Mills were slain at or near the murder scene on the night of Sept. 14, 1922, when as they kept a tryst on the Phillips farm, near Brunswick.

Today the witness, keeper of a pig farm, was back in a Jersey City hospital.

TELLS TRUTH AND IS READY TO DIE
JERSEY CITY, N. J., Nov. 19.—"I have told the truth and am ready to die," Mrs. Jane Gibson, star witness in the Hall-Mills murder trial, said, in a dictated statement from her cot in the Jersey City hospital, today.

Mrs. Gibson, who was taken to the trial yesterday and from a bed in the courtroom accused the three defendants of the murder, feels she is dying, she told doctors, and wanted her statement put on paper to justify herself to the world.

It was reliably reported today that she has cancer, that an operation is impossible and that her death within six months is probable.

MORGAN IS 9 TO 5 FAVORITE TO WIN

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Tod Morgan, of California, was a 9 to 5 favorite to win his fight tonight with Carl Duane, of New York, after the fighters had weighed in this afternoon.

Morgan will defend his junior lightweight title at Madison Square Garden. He weighed in at 127 1-2 and Duane at 129 pounds.

Morgan caused a surprise when he weighed in two and one-half pounds under the class limit of 130 pounds.

"He looks like a featherweight," William Muldoon, senior member of the boxing commission, who acted as the scales, said.

Muldoon ordered Dr. Walker, the examining physician, to give Morgan a second examination and the physician pronounced him "perfect every way."

Joe McMahon, Tex Rickard's matchmaker, who was present at the weighing in, said that the big garden had been practically sold out.

BOTHERS BIRDS
LONDON, Nov. 19.—If you don't know what to blame it on, try the "disturbance of ether by wireless," on which a great number of things is blamed here. One recent complaint is that the birds are singularly affected by the disturbance in the region of wireless stations, and that doves especially find it hard to find their way home.

$50,000 OFFERED FOR FAMILY BIBLE

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 19.—A reward of $50,000 has been offered for recovery of an old family Bible, which, it is claimed, will establish the rightful heirs to the millions left by William P. Cowan, former president of the Standard Oil company, of Indiana.

B. M. Bower, authoress, her husband, Robert E. Cowan, and the latter's brother, James Cowan, of Mexico City, are making the offer. They claim that the Bible, which disappeared 10 years ago on a South Dakota homestead, proves the Cowans are the sons of William P. Cowan's uncle, James.

William P. Cowan died intestate in Wheaton, Ill., in 1918, and his enormous estate was divided among six claimants, who asserted they were cousins of the deceased.

Mr. and Mrs. Cowan claim the "cousins" were not blood relatives of the dead oil magnate.

They have been searching for the family Bible for years, they declared, this being the only documentary evidence of their asserted relationship to William P. Cowan.

Mrs. Cowan, whose pen name is B. M. Bower, wrote "Chip of the Flying U," "The Phantom Herd," and other western novels. Her husband, "Bud" Cowan, is police chief at Las Vegas, Nev. James Cowan is traveling representative in Mexico of an American manufacturing firm.

POSTMASTER OUSTED
LANKERSHIRE, Nov. 19.—Charles K. Niblack has supplanted Postmaster Osborne, following a demand from national postal authorities at Washington that Osborne surrender his position.

Osborne served as postmaster for the last 12 years and was associated with the local office for more than 20 years.

Bridge Luncheon Adds To Social Gayety Of Season

Luncheon followed by bridge was the program yesterday afternoon for over sixty friends of Mrs. Cood Adams and Mrs. Hugh Plumb, at Mrs. Adams' very lovely suburban home on South Tustin avenue, the hospitality to be repeated this afternoon, when another group was to be entertained at a party, the duplicate of yesterday's.

The hostesses chose to clothe their luncheon in accessories of orchid and yellow, the two colors being combined in the table which adorned a candlestick centering each table. Candles repeated one or the other of the colors, while nut cups alternated them. Butterfly place cards also indicated places at the bridge tables following luncheon.

The very attractive gifts were awarded for high, second high and low scores and were presented to Mrs. Alice Harris, Mrs. J. P. Hatfield and Mrs. Marvel Baker. Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Plumb were assisted in various ways by Mrs. Henry Adams of Anaheim, Mrs. Arthur Lot of Los Angeles and Mrs. Victor Hawk, all sisters of Mrs. Cood Adams, and Mrs. Howard Turner.

The Adams home made an attractive setting for a party of such large proportions. Many of the guests had not seen it since its completion and took the opportunity to inspect the entire dignified interior, to which quantities of flowers arranged in masses of yellow, orchid and pink, added their charm.

Wedding Plans Related To Sorority Sisters At Smart Party

Announcement of the engagement of Miss Josephine Quick, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph G. Quick of 1608 East Fourth street, at whose home the marriage will be solemnized on December 19, at 4 p. m., was made to Iota Sigma Theta sorority, University of Southern California, recently.

Miss Quick was charming hostess at a sorority party given at Marchetti's in Los Angeles. While the dainty refreshments were being served, a box of candy was sent by the groom-to-be, Charles W. Jeffrey, and concealed among the sweets was the interesting announcement.

Miss Quick, who has made many friends in Santa Ana, during her numerous visits at her uncle's home, is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Quick of Platt, Ill., and for the past two years has been attending university. Her parents are expected in time for Thanksgiving, and will attend the wedding.

Mr. Jeffrey is a member of the Phi Alpha Mu fraternity, and his parents reside at Salinas.

Flower Street Club Has Pleasant Meeting

The South Flower club of eight members had a happy meeting Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. P. H. Peters, 1117 South Main street, where the hours were devoted to fancywork and quilt making.

Mrs. Peters is still retained as a member of the club although her home is now on Main instead of Flower street. After her guests had devoted the greater part of the afternoon to their needlework, she served a most appetizing menu of veal and pork salad with cranberry jelly, hot rolls, coffee and pumpkin pie with whipped cream.

During a short business session, Mrs. Whipple was elected as president of the club. The next meeting will be with Mrs. J. E. Weston on December 8.

Those present yesterday were Mesdames F. S. Whipple, A. E. Fowler, T. F. Cruzen, J. E. Weston, A. H. Meyer, Baldwin and the hostess, Mrs. Peters.

When Santa Ana Business and Professional Women met with their club sisters from other sections of the county in a club council at St. Ann's Inn Wednesday night, they were warmly congratulated on their share in the Armistice day parade, having been the only B. and P. W. club in the county to take part.

The members had the satisfaction of knowing that their entry attracted approbation and favorable comment all along the line of march, even though it failed to take a cup. Development of the business woman was expressed by the entry which was in two sections, a group of modern business girls in the lead, sedately seated in a smart closed car, and followed by a horse-drawn carriage of damsels in old-fashioned array.

George Dunton, of the Lincoln agency, very generously loaned one of their new cars for the entry, and this was driven by R. B. MacDonald of the agency. Miss Louise Kaiser, club president, Miss Peggy King, Miss Elaine Wharton, Mrs. Robert Jeffrey and Mrs. Eleanor Elliott comprised the members in the decorated automobile.

Directly back of them, and exemplifying the motto on the banner, "The business girl aint what she used to be," was a canopy top basket surrey, loaned by James Irvine Jr., and driven by John Beard in linen duster and hat, Miss Lee Patton, Miss Mayme Brightwell and Miss Mabel Larrick in gowns of ancient mode, were the prim passengers who were greeted with delighted laughter all along the line.

Mrs. Laura Murray had charge of the entry and had a great deal of difficulty in finding a carriage until Mr. Irvine came to her aid with the quaint vehicle which had been his mother's own carriage many years ago and which is one of the cherished possessions at the Irvine ranch.

Artist Entertained By Local Friends

Following the appearance of Vladimir Lenska, were Miss Cleo Ebell auditorium Wednesday night, the distinguished violinist was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sid Holland, South Flower street, for a late supper.

Asked to enjoy the affair with the virtuoso and his wife, Mrs. Vladimir Lenska, were Miss Cleo Johnson, his accompanist; W. Lonsbach, Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Dobson and Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Brooks. The guests had all had the pleasure of hearing the splendid program given by the artist at the clubhouse. Mr. Holland is studying violin under him.

AD CLUB

A merry group of young matrons forming the A. D. club which meets at frequent intervals for cards, needlework or other friendly diversion, was entertained Wednesday evening by Mrs. Lloyd Lyman at her home on Barton street.

Mrs. Lyman was aided in her hostess duties by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Kathryn Milligan of Illinois, who will spend the winter in Santa Ana.

Cards were introduced as the evening's amusement and at the close of the series, Mrs. Nina Davis, holding high silver bud vase, while a novelty pencil was given as consolation to Mrs. Verna Campbell.

Pretty lilies were substituted for the card table covers and crystal bowls of pink roses added charm to each table where the guests remained seated to enjoy fruit salad, wafers, coffee and pumpkin pie topped with whipped cream.

Those enjoying the evening were Miss Gladys Young, Mesdames Elsie Harris, Eloise Ray, Aimee McBride, Verna Campbell, Olive Seba, Bess Mathis, Nina Davis and Sara Rorman with the hostesses, Mrs. Lyman and Mrs. Milligan.

O. E. S. Worthy Matron Entertains Officers At Luncheon

With her successful year as worthy matron of Santa Ana chapter, O. E. S. drawing to a close, Mrs. Sam Jernigan yesterday gave one of the final parties of her term, when she entertained her officers in delightful fashion at her North Sycamore street home.

Quantities of bright chrysanthemums were used to adorn the home and baby 'mums centered the tables arranged in the soft light of numerous floor lamps. One large table and a group of small ones were in readiness for a three course luncheon served by the hostess assisted by her daughter, Mrs. La Mont McFadden.

Covers were placed for Mr. and Mrs. Elton R. Roehm, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Parker, Mrs. Amelia Prather, Mrs. Nellie Sylvester, Mrs. Irene Wiley, Mrs. Edna Timm, Miss Lettie Stowe, Mrs. Jessie Overton, Mrs. Maude Swarthout, Mrs. Imogene Reif, Mrs. Jennie Shippe, Mrs. Emily Lyon, Mrs. Elizabeth Kloess, Mrs. Ethel Thompson and Mrs. Henrietta Roberts.

Mrs. Jernigan took the opportunity to present an attractive piece of china to each of her officers with the exception of the two men, her patron, Mr. Roehm and the sentinel, Mr. Parker to whom she gave nested ash trays.

The men did not remain for the afternoon of bridge in which the other guests shared, with success for Mrs. Dean and Mrs. Sylvester and none at all for Mrs. Overton. Mrs. Dean was presented a hand-embroidered linen towel, Mrs. Sylvester a pretty bath towel, and Mrs. Overton was consoled with an embroidered tea towel.

Golden Wedding Is Happily Celebrated

One of November's happy affairs was the celebration of the golden wedding day of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Lindsey, of this city, who welcomed their relatives at their home, 1313 East Third street, at a family reunion.

The house was decorated in gold and white flowers, and the table, where an appetizing dinner was served at 2:30 o'clock, was centered with an elaborate white and gold wedding cake.

Many beautiful and useful gifts were presented the hosts by their guests who included children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren. During the afternoon, they gathered on the lawn where many pictures were taken. Games and music furnished entertainment until a late hour.

Those present were Charles Gamble, Mrs. E. A. Elliott and Bennie Elliott and Miss Virginia Lindsey, Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. Bert D. Southard, Mrs. A. A. Samuelson and little sons, Ward and Gene, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Southard, and George Southard, Compton; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. M. McDowell and little daughters, Betty Lee and Malorie, Miss Helen Williams, Costa Mesa; Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Moore and daughter, Luan, Miss Beulah Green, Reuben Green, Miss Gladys Takko, Walter Brosius and Bud Mitchell, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Elliott, Garden Grove; Mr. Ross D. Brown, Huntington Beach.

Two daughters, Mrs. Fannie McWaters, Willits, and Mrs. Frank Miller of Sacramento, were unable to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey settled in the Talbert district nearly thirty years ago, where they raised their family and later moved to Willits, returning to Santa Ana about a year ago.

Teachers New to City Extended Welcome By Associates

Planned to welcome a group of teachers new to Santa Ana and the city schools, was a delightful 6 o'clock dinner of recent date, given by Miss Linda Paul, principal of the Lincoln school, assisted by her staff of teachers.

The dinner hour was an enjoyable one, the menu being served to an accompaniment of attractive decorative details and friendly chat. Several of her Lincoln school teachers assisted Miss Paul in serving as did small Jean Sherrill and Anna Hart.

The evening was spent in contests, guessing games and amusing stunts, and effectually served its purpose of making the newcomers feel more at home, and fully acquainted with their sisters in the profession.

The Lincoln teachers associated with Miss Paul, were Misses Minnie Penman, Maxine Zolman, Alma Steward, Barbara Selway, Doris Schenck, Priscilla Allen, Bernice Poyd, Mrs. Frances Hart and Mrs. Georgia Sherrill. The new teachers were the Misses Ethel Brazella, Marian Dean, Gladys Dunning, Deborah Elliott, Mildred Hillard, Abbie Harvey, Lillian Johnson, Ada Justice, Hazel Kinsell, Pauline Zolman, Aurelia Koch, Viola Penman, Kathryn Ryan, Ellen Schubert, Maurine Simms, Gertrude Streets, Anita Summers, Mrs. Lula Galbraith, Mrs. Norma Newman, Mrs. Florence Rorabaugh and Mrs. Grace Wolff.

S. A. Woman's Club

Santa Ana Woman's club met Tuesday, November 16 at the home of Mrs. Frank Ey, 201 East Ninth street, with Mrs. Chandler presiding.

At the conclusion of the business session, the program committee presented Mrs. Chas. H. Stanley, Mrs. Henry Diers and Mrs. Frank Ey, the subject of the afternoon papers being "Did you know?"

Mrs. Stanley's paper was replete with interesting items, among others of local interest was mention of Santa Ana's poets, a number of whom are nationally known. Mrs. Diers' very interesting "Do you know?" next held the attention of the audience. Among the many items of interest to which she called particular attention, was the fact that Edison invented the first typewriter, and that eleven years elapsed before he received any royalty on his invention. An amusing incident of the origin of the name of porter-house steak was also related by Mrs. Diers.

The paper by Mrs. Ey contained many items of local history, among them being the interesting announcement that the I. O. O. F. was the first fraternal order to prize in Orange county. Also that Philip Davis was the first banker of Los Angeles county, now Orange county.

The three papers were full of interesting and unusual items and held the close attention of the audience. At the conclusion of the program Mrs. C. Caswell was received into membership.

Mrs. J. H. Tompkins, 711 South Sycamore street, will be the club hostess on November 30. The past presidents will have charge of the program for that date, and the members are anticipating a very interesting afternoon.

the younger women of Ebell are urged to join.

Ebell's Current Events section will be entertained Tuesday, November 23 at 1 o'clock luncheon at St. Ann's Inn, where the members will be guests of Mrs. John Kettler and Mrs. J. Riley Huber. Those unable to attend are asked to call Mrs. Huber at 117 by Monday noon.

Calumpit card party, to have been given by the Calumpit auxiliary, U. S. W. V. next Tuesday, has been postponed until Saturday night, December 4, in G. A. R. hall.

TAKE TO BOATS

PARIS, Nov. 19.—The poor condition of French roads is causing the French auto-moving public to take to the water. ## Town Thrills In Anticipation of Great 'Oil Rush'

GREENVILLE, N. C., Nov. 19.—Greenville is on the verge of an "oil rush."

The magic word is whispered on every street corner, and in the jammed circus-day crowds in the giant tobacco warehouses the question that hangs on everyone's lips is "Will Greenville be the scene of a big oil strike?"

Meanwhile, as Doubting Thomases and overoptimists debate the mooted point of whether eastern North Carolina is to be transformed overnight into a great oil producing country, one Greenvillean—a woman—is confident that she has struck oil and is starting out to prove it.

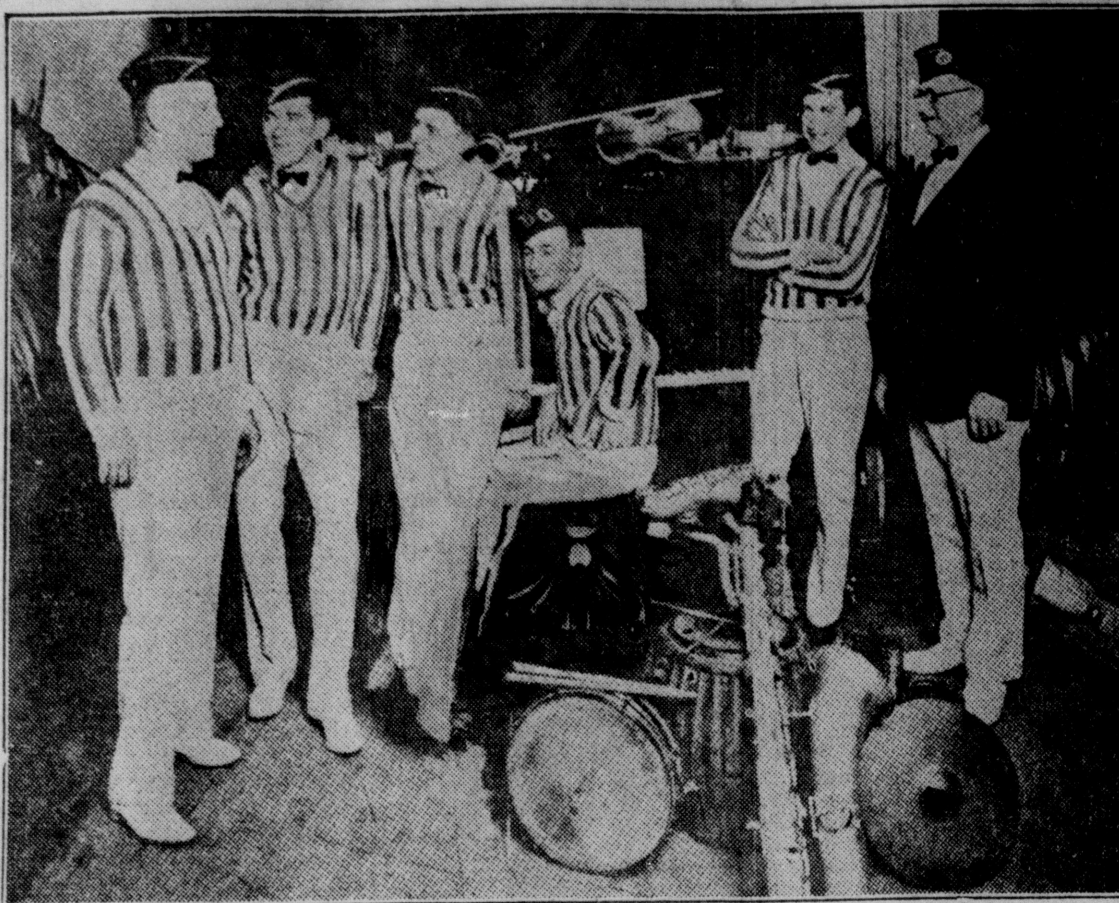

Greenville's "oil king"—already she is referred to as such—is Mrs. Jack L. Westbrook, formerly of Chicago. Mrs. Westbrook declared she was preparing to begin operation on the "fields" within the next few weeks.

With the assurance of state chemists that jars of liquid she brought them was oil of some kind, Mrs. Westbrook expressed confidence that she has struck one of the richest oil veins in the country.

The new "oil king" declared that while no arrangements had been made for drilling as yet, such procedure would be made within the next few weeks at the latest.

The discovery of "oil" on Mrs. Westbrook's 12-acre suburban tract of land here was entirely accidental, she said. Several wells and springs on the Westbrook tract are reported to be giving forth an oily substance following a discharge of dynamite a few days ago.

20,000 ACRES OF WATERSHED RUINED BY FIRE

S. A. Nash-Boulden, forest supervisor, Francis Cuttle and a representative of the San Bernardino Chamber of Commerce made a trip of inspection over the burned area on the watersheds of the Santiago and other canyons in Orange county yesterday and report complete devastation of the watersheds covering approximately 20,000 acres. Several houses were burned and one man lost his life. Great damage undoubtedly will ensue from erosion when rains occur and it will be many years before there will be a growth on this watershed; some of it probably will erode to such an extent that no cover ever will replace that which has been burned off, they said.

Summing up the economic loss, by reason of greater run-off from this area, Francis Cuttle made the following statement:

"One inch of rainfall is equal to 100 tons of water per acre. Eighty-five per cent of this amount will be absorbed into leaf mould or other satisfactory watershed cover, while fifty per cent of this amount will run off at time of precipitation where there is no cover to hold water. This would mean a loss of forty tons of water per acre per inch of rainfall. Assuming that the rainfall on these mountains would be no less than ten inches per annum, the loss would be 400 tons of water per acre per annum. Over the 20,000 acres burned, this would mean a loss of 6,560 acre feet of water, sufficient to irrigate 3,300 acres at two acre feet of water per acre per annum. As this water naturally would be used on intensively cultivated horticultural and agricultural lands in Orange county, the gross return probably would be not less than $200 per acre, which would mean an annual gross loss of $656,000 per annum by reason of the burning off of this watershed cover as the result of one careless act of one man.

LAND BOOM IS HEADED OFF BY CITY IN TEXAS

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex., Nov. 18.—This is a town that paid $30,000 for a boom. But the newest port in the country has charged the $30,000 up to valuable experience and thinks the money well spent.

Early in September, Corpus Christi, which nestles beside the Gulf of Mexico, became Uncle Sam's latest port of entry, and thereby got right down to the business of living. Six months before that even, however, it was among the boomiest spots on the American continent, all because an enterprising chamber of commerce had gone out in the highways and byways and invited everybody far and near to come settle in Corpus.

$30,000 to Advertise City
The chamber of commerce last winter spent $30,000 on an advertising campaign to bring new residents to the city. About the time the paid invitations got well under way, messages began to pour in from high-powered and wide-awake real estate agents, and many of the agents soon followed their messages in person.

Almost before the city knew what was happening, it was in the midst of an effervescent estate stimulation. The town was inundated with wild-eyed boomers. Staid citizens, who had never before thought of the thing called real estate, began to talk it and breathe it. The hotel lobbies looked like a stock market on a busy day, as real estate was traded by a nod of the head, or a tense-voiced shout.

Soon the saner heads saw that it was mostly talk and paper trading and what they had wanted for $30,000 was buildings and permanent residents. So they turned in to head off the boom.

Town Doesn't Want Boom

The chamber of commerce began sending telegrams and letters to head off some of the prospective citizens. There was no boom in Corpus; Corpus didn't want a boom and didn't intend to have one. The boom was stopped.

It had lasted about two months and a half, and in that time Ralph Bradford, secretary of the chamber of commerce, estimated that $8,000,000 worth of property was exchanged. The town got down to a tual building. Two hundred houses and business buildings have been under construction the past summer, and in one month building permits reached $320,000, which was considered good for a town of 25,000. The population increased 5000 in 10 months.

FAMOUS RUBY OF RUSSIA IS BRANDED FAKE

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 19 — The "great ruby of Russia," pride of crowned heads for centuries, once treasured possession of Catherine the Great and considered one of the most valuable of the Russian crown jewels, is now declared by a Russian scientist to be merely a large rubellite and far from precious.

The bogus character of this long famed jewel is disclosed by Prof. Gregor Aminoff, head of the mineralogical section of the Swedish royal museum.

His statement is based on a report by Prof. A. Fersman, noted Russian mineralogist, published in the bulletin of the Russian Academy of Science, in which the Russian authority writes about it as follows:

"It was, as a matter of fact, a light red tourmaline from Burma (rubellite)—genuine rubies are always dark red—weighing 250 carats of irregular shape and representing nothing exceptional either as to size or quality."

Thus ends the appeal of one of the most noted pieces of jewelry that have figured in Swedish and Russian history.

Originally the Swedish crown obtained it as war booty at Prague, its earlier history being shrouded in mystery, and Queen Christina, the spendthrift daughter of Gustavus Adolphus, once "hocked" it for ready cash at Antwerp, where it was later redeemed by the Swedish government.

It was the summer of 1777, while visiting Catherine the Great in St. Petersburg (now Leningrad) that the Swedish king, Gustavus III, had it removed illegally from the Swedish collection in order to bestow it on the empress in return for similar favors. Since then there have been many proposals to have it redeemed once more by the Swedish authorities, but it is still kept in the Russian collection, and now the Swedish interest has cooled off.

Victim Will Not Prosecute Man

OIL FIELDS, Calif., Nov. 19.—Elmer Hurd, who according to police, has admitted entering the home of Mrs. C. A. Brennen, early yesterday, and attempting to strangle the woman, probably will not be prosecuted.

Mrs. Brennen refused to sign a complaint against Hurd when he apologized for his act and promised to leave this city. Hurd was arrested after he had visited a doctor for medical attention to a finger which was bitten by Mrs. Brennen.

Dr. C. D. Ball to Give Support to Water Measures

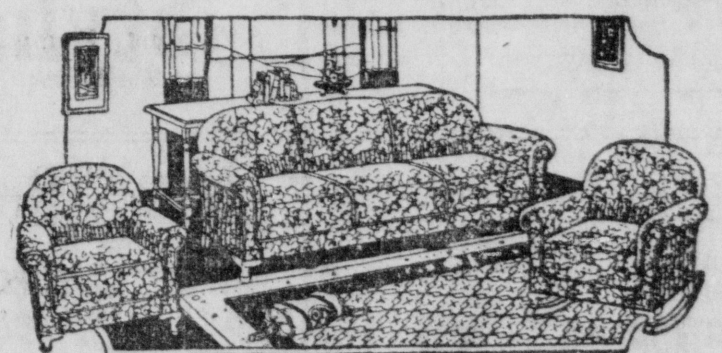

Support for water conservation measures was promised by Dr. C. D. Ball, newly-elected assemblyman from this district, at a meeting of the Orange County Water Conservation association, last night, in the city hall, in Anaheim.

Water conservation will be the major topic at the next session of the state legislature, Dr. Ball said. According to a report by William Lauerhan, gun clubs are drilling numerous wells on their properties. Steps to see that water is not wasted will be taken, Lauerhan reported.

Willard Smith, county supervisor, reported on forest roads, stating that the federal authorities had authorized $10,000 for new forest trails and that this sum would be matched by a like amount from the county.

Carl Leonard, mayor of Anaheim, and Harry Crooke, mayor of Fullerton, also made brief talks.

FAMOUS DIAMOND CLOSELY GUARDED

PARIS, Nov. 19.—With the famous rose diamond, the Grand Conde, in the hands of clever thieves, steps to increase the safeguarding of other valuable state jewels are now being taken in Paris.

The principal one of these is the "Regent" diamond, now in the hands of the French government, and is being guarded by a detachment of the French gendarmerie. It is surrounded by an iron wall and the glass protecting it is so thick that a shot from a gun could not even break it. Aside from the special guardsmen who watch over it, hourly rounds are made by others and at night it is placed in the safe of the gem museum.

It would probably be a difficult task to make away with it now that it is so safely guarded in the Galerie d'Apollon. It is surrounded by an iron wall and the glass protecting it is so thick that a shot from a gun could not even break it. Aside from the special guardsmen who watch over it, hourly rounds are made by others and at night it is placed in the safe of the gem museum.

Sailors' Morals Equal Those of College Youths

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Nov. 19.—"The moral character of the United States sailor is just as high as that of the college student of the same age," said Curtis D. Wilbur, secretary of the navy, in an address here in the United church forum.

This fact was proved, he said, by the conduct of the gobs when the western fleet visited New Zealand and Australia last year.

Prominent citizens invited the boys to their homes and treated them as their guests and their moral behavior, Wilbur said, was as high as would be expected of college students of the same age under the same circumstances.

Farmer Turns Out Prize Sculpture

GALESBURG, Ill., Nov. 19.—A farmer whose hobby is sculpture is Ben Cable, who has turned out some models that have received high praise from art critics. His latest piece, "Homeward Bound," was cast in bronze and was the only such exhibit to be accepted for the all-Illinois art show, now being held in Chicago. Cable farms several hundred acres of land a few miles south of here. His studio adjoins his residence and in his spare hours, when "the spirit moves" him, he turns to his clay modeling. Animals and birds have received his chief attention.

Boy Enjoys First Civilization Trip

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 19.—"Civilization and 'easy living' is being put to the test by Thomas 'Mickey' Gordon. The 'trial' will determine whether Mickey, who was born at Point Barrow, Alaska, 21 years ago and lived there until this fall, will go back to the north or not."

Mickey was brought here by his father, Tom Gordon, fur trader at Point Barrow for 40 years. Tom Gordon fitted out the 1915 expedition of Vilhjalmur Stefansson, the explorer, and is a personal friend of Roald Amundsen. The Gordons, father and son, came south on the fur trading schooner Charles Brower. "Ever since he was a small boy

I promised I'd take him 'outside' to see the bright world of make-believe," said the elder Gordon. "Make-believe, because it doesn't seem substantial to me any more. Let the boy look around. I go north next spring, when the ice breaks."

Mickey can choose for himself between "make-believe" and the frozen land of his birth.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

Fidelas Class
About twenty members of the Fidelas class of the First Baptist church met on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. D. Meyer, 410 West Santa Clara avenue. Several garments were made and quilts tied for White Cross week. These are to be sent to a mission station at Phoenix, Arizona.

In the social and business hour which followed, the president, Mrs. Baldwin, appointed Mesdames P. H. Peters, Haines and Wilbur the nominating committee for new officers for 1927.

The hostess served refreshments of popcorn, apples and candy.

Berean Class
A happy Thanksgiving party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Gibson, Edgewood street, when the Berean class of the United Presbyterian Bible school met Wednesday for the monthly afternoon social.

Thanksgiving games and decorations were the order of the day and late in the afternoon delicious hot plum pudding with coffee was served. Plans were started for a Christmas party when the husbands of this group will be included.

Besides the hostess, Mrs. Gibson, the guest list included: Miss Myra Gibson and Mesdames Anderson, Dunbar, Horbart, Hatch, Harris, Henderson, Hoskins, Kyper, Kennedy, Ketchner, Lindsey, Millman, Milligan, McAuley, McFadden, D. McBurney, W. McBurney, Porter, Raitt, J. Thompson, S. Thompson, Torrains, Whitney, Warren and Walker.

SOUNDING DOOM OF HUMAN NO PLEASURE FOR JUDGE MARKS

Unable to Describe Sensation Gripping Him When Sentencing Actor-Priest

TRIED TO PUT ASIDE PERSONAL FEELINGS

Can't Evade Consciousness That He Was Instrument Bringing on Man's Death

A judge pronounces his first sentence. What are his feelings?

They may vary with different judges, but Superior Judge Emerson E. Marks, who has just had the experience, says that his feelings were such that—well, he doesn't care to repeat it.

That was as near as he could come to describing the sensation that possessed him last week, when he was called upon to sentence Philip A. Goodwin, American Catholic priest, to hang for the murder of Joseph J. Patterson.

Although he is the senior jurist on the Orange county bench, Judge Marks is a young judge. His judicial experience is not yet reckoned in years. Passing sentence of death on a fellow being was a shock to him, he concedes.

Can't Describe Feeling

"Can I describe the feeling? he repeated, in response to a question. "Why, no, I cannot. It is indescribable. I can just say that —well, I wouldn't care to repeat the experience unless I have to."

Philip Goodwin was not the only one to whom pronouncement of the death sentence was an ordeal. It was noted in the courtroom, at the time, that the judge seemed to feel the weight of his task keenly. It was a duty, apparently, to be met unwaveringly, but the court's manner did not hide his lack of enthusiasm for it. There may be judges who would have been tempted, in the presence of a great thrill, to make a ceremony of the situation. The Goodwin sentence was no ceremony. Judge Marks seemed striving to make it as matter-of-fact and ordinary—and brief—as possible.

"There was a duty to be performed, the law to be enforced and I tried to put aside my personal feelings. That was my attitude toward the matter," said Judge Marks today.

Anything But Pleasure

"But," he added, "I found anything but pleasure in the experience. Others may not be affected by such a task. I frankly admit that I am. If I had the duty to perform again, I would perform it.
But I devoutly hope it never falls to my lot again.

"One may say that the responsibility is on the state, but

BUNNIES FROM NEAR AND FAR TO EXHIBIT FINE FUR COATS

By Baby Bunting or some such lullaby is being caroled to the little bunnies by Eleanor Rairdon and Madeline Gardner, Santa Ana high school girls. Daddy Bunting is going hunting for honors in the exhibit at the rabbit breeders' association convention in Anaheim next month. These rabbits are owned by Stanley Clem.

520 'DRUNKS' ARRESTED HERE IN FOUR YEARS

How dry is prohibition?

During the last four years, more than one person every three days has been arrested here for being drunk.

According to records in the office of City Marshal Claude Rogers—and Santa Ana is supposed to be one of the driest cities in the state.

A total of 520 arrests for drunk-ness show on the police records from November, 1922, to November, 1926, an average of 130
"drunks" arrested each year in the past four years.

The records show that from November, 1922, to November, 1923, 197 persons were arrested for being drunk. The next 12 months showed 125 arrests on the charge. From November, 1924, to November, 1925 there were 112 arrests. For the year just ended, 89 "drunks" were arrested.

"The records show that although there are plenty of 'drunks' arrested in this arid city, the number is decreasing each year and, at the present rate, in 10 years officers will not have to be worried by this particular kind of law enforcement," City Marshal Rogers said.

September of 1923 was the biggest month in the four-year period for the arrests of "drunks," the records show, there being 30 arrests during that month. The lowest number for any one month was four.

Several Hundred Delegates Expected at Breeders' Anaheim Meet

California's first national convention of the American Rabbit and Cavy Breeders' association, to be held in Anaheim December 6 to 11, is expected to attract several hundred delegates to the Mother Colony according to Mrs. Etta E. Powers, of Ontario, national secretary. Mrs.
Powers is one of the best known rabbit breeders in the United States. The cavy, or guinea pig, industry will be represented by a dozen or more breeders of those animals, it was said.

Over $1500 in cash prizes has been offered to the winners in the respective divisions. In addition to the money awards, 57 cups have been put up for distribution. As California is the second state in the union in the number of rabbit dealers and breeders, it is expected that the majority of the delegates will register from the Golden state.

Most of the rabbit breeders reside in the Southland and this section is looked upon as the leading district in the United States, according to Mrs. Powers.

It was explained by rabbit breeders in Santa Ana that the bunny meat is higher in protein (25.50 per cent) than any other meat and its food value is given as 627 calories, compared with 565 for broiler chicken. The meat of the domestic rabbit, when properly handled after the butchering, is white, whereas the meat of the wild rabbit is a dark red, it was explained.

The raising of rabbits for their fur has become an extensive industry in Southern California, with thousands of dollars invested in it by city dwellers and ranch people, Mrs. Powers said.

ple taken from the write-in names on the ballots cast in the general election this month. Of course, the persons for whom the votes were cast, as above, were not elected, but they can pass the word down from generation to generation that they received recognition at the hands of the voters in November 1926. Not much recognition, it is true, but recognition is recognition.

The deputies and assistants in the office of County Clerk J. M.
Backs now are spending long hours pouring over the ballots to see that the big election result books are properly filled out. Every vote must be recorded, no matter whether it be serious or in fun.

It was pointed out, however, that the real old time ballot joker has just about joined the auk and the dodo in the classification of extinct animals. Time was, it was said, when any number of practical jokers trooped to the polls and cast votes for such characters as Napoleon Bonaparte, Simon Legree, Little Red Riding Hood, Carrie Nation and Barney Google.

But that time has passed, judging from the returns on the ballots, which show that the sense of humor of the great American voter is at a very low ebb.

For the most part, the write-in votes cast were for candidates defeated in the primary election and merely were to compliment the eliminated one. But in all Orange county, probably not 100 of these "freak" votes were cast, which might be construed as a body blow for the calamity howlers who insist that the American voters don't know who they are voting for any how.

HELD TO ANSWER ON FRAUD CHARGE

H. W. Gullage, Los Angeles, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses, was held to answer to the superior court, when his preliminary examination was completed yesterday afternoon in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court.
Ball was fixed at $2000, which the defendant furnished.

The complaining witness in the case is E. Rockhill, Los Angeles, who alleges that when Gullage sold him interest in the Gullage, Hall and Lundblade bakery, in Tustin, the liabilities of the company were more than represented by the defendant.

The transaction involved approximately $7500 it was said.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS SEEK PRIZES OFFERED IN SANTA ANA SONG CONTEST

Students of the harmony class in the Santa Ana high school, taught by Miss Abbie L. Harvey, may be among the winners in the song contest being conducted in Santa Ana by the junior chamber of commerce for the Santa Ana boys' chorus. Left to right, first row, Rose Marie Smith, Justina Palmer, Helen O'Brien and Helen Overton. Second row, Miss Harvey, William Harmon, Kenneth Adams, Forrest
Severance and Harold Garland.

WOMAN BURNED WHEN ESCAPED GAS EXPLODES

The bobbed locks of Mrs. Roy A.
Parker, West First street, today are considerably shorter than they were as late as 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

They are shorter by reason of Mrs. Parker's experience when she applied a match to the gas oven in her home. A sheet of flames flared from the oven and burned her hair.
She also suffered minor burns on her arms and face.

When Mrs. Parker left home yesterday, about noon, she left the fire under the oven burning, as she was preparing a roast for the evening meal. Returning home at 5 o'clock, she found the fire out and applied a match.

The flareup, it is believed, was the result of gas escaping through the burner for at least three hours.
According to reports made by a neighbor, a man, about 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, was working on the service line to the Parker residence. It is supposed that the workman shut off the gas to make whatever repair or observation necessary. The operation cut off the fire under the oven. The gas then was turned on again by the workman, who was not aware of the fact that the housewife had left the fire burning under the oven.

Neither the stove nor kitchen was damaged.

JUAN MAGANA, DESERTED BY SEVENTH SPOUSE ON WEDDING DAY, THROUGH WITH WOMEN

Juan Magana is through with matrimony, even in reverses, as represented by the divorce court.

Magana is more than 100 years old. He doesn't know just how much over 100 years old he is, but he admits that it is plenty, five or six or seven years, or something.

He has been married a number of times, five or six or seven, or something, and Matilda—ah, what a Matilda?

Whereas Juan may have thumbed the pages of "The Merry Wives of Windsor" or "The Taming of the Shrew" in the romantic past, he now may find the balm of recollection in the exploits of "Don Juan" or the "Restless Six" and Matilda, who makes seven, the favorite number of the seers and mystics.

The patriarch of Stanton could hardly talk about his matrimonial history. A maid in a house near by acted as interpreter.

But of this Juan was sure—he is through with matrimony, even in reverse.

Husband Requests Decree of Divorce

Otto A. Keim, of Sunset Beach, filed suit in superior court for divorce from Grace Keim, on grounds of alleged desertion and cruelty. They were married Jan. 1, 1922, in Huntington Beach, and separated Aug. 1, 1925, in Sunset Beach. Keim formerly conducted and electric repair shop in Seal Beach, but abandoned it, he said, when his wife's treatment of him affected his health. Attorneys Harvey and Harvey, Santa Ana, represent the plaintiff.

Reckless Driver Draws $200 Fine

Charged with reckless driving, H. M. Young, 63, El Monte, was fined $200 in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court early today.

Young was arrested near Brea last night by Vernon Barnhill, state traffic officer, who jailed him here on a charge of being drunk. Today the complaint filed against the man was for reckless driving.

AT THE THEATERS

May McAvoy and Ramon Novarro in a scene from "Ben Hur," picture opening three-day engagement at the Yost theater here Sunday.

Fred Thomson in a scene from "Lone Hand Saunders," current attraction at the West Coast-Walker theater.

YOST BROADWAY THEATER

An attractive stage bill of five acts of vaudeville comprises the extraordinary program of vaudeville to be seen at the Yost Broadway theater for two days, beginning tonight.

Assuming the headline position is Billy Gross and company in "Oh You Flirt," said to be one of the most amusing comedy skits of vaudeville. Excellent singing voices, tuneful music and bright comedy lines are used to bring the skit to a happy conclusion.

Second honors belong to Charles Olcott, who will exhibit a number of special song numbers and a good burlesque of an operetta performance sitting alone at the piano, in which he interprets all the roles, and is the orchestra too.

"Train Time in Dixie" is the title of the offering to be presented by Harry Greene and Katherine Gale, a black and tan team of unusual comedy talent.

Among some of the acts which have turned to vaudeville from the big top and open air shows are Patrick and Retta, tight wire artists and tumblers. Their type of work is better across the footlights than in the mammoth rings.

Trained cats and rats—a most unusual sight—will be presented by J. Swain, who bills his act as "The Friendly Enemies." The cats and rats work together in perfect harmony and follow instructions with an almost human insight.

Marie Prevost's new comedy, "Almost a Lady," which comes to the Yost Broadway tonight, provides Miss Prevost, the star, with a splendid opportunity for pathos and the colorful roles in which she is at her best. Her supporting cast includes Harrison Ford, George K. Arthur, Barney Gilmore, Trilixie Friganza and John Miljan.

YOST THEATER

Given but five minutes to live, alone with the man who has been commissioned to kill her, a beautifully gowned Russian aristocrat looks wildly around a gorgeous room, desecrated by plundering revolutionists.

William Boyd is the crude Volga

boatman, servant turned master, leader of revolutionists, Elinor Fair, De Mille's newest "find" is the girl. What transpires in that room, how the unusual situation is built to a climax, provides the high spot of the strongly virile love story De Mille has constructed against the most gripping dramatic background of current history.

WEST COAST-WALKER

Featured by an unusually original and interesting story, and abounding in strong dramatic situations, Fred Thomson's newest production, "Lone Hand Saunders," opened yesterday at Walker's.

Continuing Thomson's methods of getting away from the usual hackneyed western plots, the theme is not only novel, but is well worked out, and steadily builds up the interest to the powerful climax.

Bess Flowers, who played the lead with Thomson in "Hands Across the Border," again is lovely and delightful as the heroine, and the work of Billy Butts as the boy is splendid.

The Fanchon and Marco stage show features Way Watts and his Play-boys with several specialty acts. Outstanding among the entertainers is Bobby Gross who has a national reputation as a comedian. He got off to a good start last night and should be the hit of any bill wherever he may be. He is well known in Southern California as the former "master of ceremonies" of Coffee Dan's in Los Angeles.

Stabler and Duffin, and Edna Scofield complete the program.

FEAR FELT FOR LAKE STEAMER WITH 21 ABOARD

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 19.—Fear was expressed here today for the safety of the lake steamer Andaste, of Sturgeon bay, which was reported to have left Muskegon, Mich., for Milwaukee, Wednesday night, but which has not arrived here.

The vessel carries a crew of 21 men and was in command of Capt. Frank Savage and Engineer William Collopy.

The steamer William H. Fitzgerald, Milwaukee, bound with a cargo of coal, due to arrive here last night, reached port today. The crew reported having much trouble fighting the storm which raged on the lake.

The steamer W. F. D. Fitch, now safe in Waukegan, had a tempestuous voyage Wednesday night and Thursday, in a trip from Mackinac City, Mich.

FREIGHTER BELIEVED DISABLED IN LAKE

DULUTH, Minn., Nov. 19.—The freighter Peter A. B. Widener was believed to be disabled and drifting helplessly in Lake Superior, off Duluth, today. She lost her rudder Wednesday and has been at the mercy of the elements since.

Tugs were to put out from this port today to put lines on the vessel and tow her to port.

The Widener is a 7054-ton freighter.

STEAMER REPORTED DESTROYED BY FIRE

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 19.—Mysteriously catching fire while bound from this port with a cement cargo for Rappahannock Landing, the 150-ton bay steamer Annie Kent was reported today to have burned to the water's edge.

The Merchants' and Miners' passenger boat Juanita, which stood by and took off the little craft's crew of three, was in-bound this forenoon with them.

The Annie Kent left here two days ago and the fire started below Baltimore light, about 20 miles from the city.

ADDRESSES FOR Y. CLUB MEET ARE ANNOUNCED

One of the most interesting sessions of the Santa Ana Toastmasters' club is scheduled for next Wednesday night at the Y. M. C. A., according to announcement of the program, made today by Martin Warren, secretary.

Ridley Smith will act as toastmaster. The following speakers and topics were announced:

H. W. McAlenran, "What Has America to Be Thankful For;" F. D. Grandy, "The History of Thanks giving Day;" C. N. Grace, "Honesty is the Best Policy;" C. E. Hawk, "The Santa Ana Community Chest;" Martin Warren, "How the Civil Service Works;" C. W. Rowland, "Scandal Sheet or Why Do Our Popular Newspapers Print So Much Fith?"

David Roberts, a member of the Santa Ana high school debating team, at the meeting of the club Wednesday night, presented his speech on the negative side of the question, "Resolved: That the United States Cancel the Entire Allied Debt Contracted During the War." Roberts gave the speech in the debate last night with the Los Angeles high school team.

LeRoy Dobyns, G. O. Berry, W. K. Hillyard, C. E. Camm and E. S. Steffensen made short talks at the last meeting.

ADVERTISING IS BIG FACTOR IN GETTING VOTES

Does it pay to advertise?
Results of the state election, November 2, might be taken as indication that it does pay.

Every candidate elected was shown to have "advertised" more heavily than his opponent, by expense accounts, just filed with County Clerk J. M. Backs.

Comparative figures are not available in all the contests, because several of the candidates failed to file their expense statements within the legal time limit, November 17. But wherever both candidates filed, the winner is seen to be the candidate with the largest expense account.

In the campaign for superior court judge, James L. Allen, the winner, expended $544.99, while his opponent, W. H. Thomas, reported expenditures of $210.11.

County Treasurer J. C. Joplin, re-elected in a contest with James Livesey, expended $230.45; while Livesey was spending $137.42.

There is no comparison in the contest for supervisor in the second district. John C. Mitchell, who was elected, expended $170.70. Sterling Price, his defeated opponent, filed no statement.

W. A. Goodwin spent 105 in winning the contest for constable of Fullerton township, while George Annin, his opponent, expended $513.50.

Justice G. W. Ingle of Orange township, spent $9 in retaining his office. B. E. Garrison, the other candidate, did not file a statement.

Constable G. M. Bartley, of Orange township, reported an expense account of $56.00. His defeated opponent, E. E. Kirkwood, has not filed a statement.

The final bit of canvassing of votes was completed by the county supervisors yesterday, when the three absent voter ballots cast in Orange county were officially "counted."

the Santa Ana station, to be operated by Dr. J. W. Hancock.

Nominal Admission Price
A nominal admission price has been set for the first concert by the chorus, it was said. Those in charge of the organization want as large a crowd of Santa Anans as possible to hear the boys and, for that reason, the price has been set at a low figure. The money taken in will be used to pay for the uniforms of the boys, which will be purchased through a Santa Ana store. The expense of printing programs also will be provided by the admission fee, it was said.

The following is the tentative list of boys in the chorus:

OFFER OF LAND SALE OPEN FOR ANOTHER WEEK

An offer to the county supervisors to sell the 45-acre tract adjoining the present county fair grounds on the north, at a figure of $1200 per acre, which was made this week by J. E. Schumacher, owner of the property, will remain open until after the next meeting of the board, next Tuesday, Schumacher has informed the officials.

The board was undecided upon the matter when the offer was submitted, although urged to accept it by a committee headed by F. L. Purinton, Santa Ana mayor and member of the fair board. Accordingly, Schumacher stated that he would hold the offer open for a week.

Schumacher's original price for the property was said to be $1800 an acre. Added to the present fair grounds, upon which the county now holds an option, the adjacent tract would complete a tract of 62 acres.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

The American Woolen Mills astounding and startling offer has proven to be the greatest tailoring event in Santa Ana history. I have brought the price down to where every man can wear Tailored Clothes. So, gentlemen don't fail to take advantage of this wonderful 2-FOR-1 OFFER.

The American Woolen Mills, Tailors
404 North Main Street—Tomorrow
WILL MAKE ANOTHER GENUINE

GIGANTIC OFFER

To the Men of Santa Ana and Vicinity—An Extra

SUITS FREE

with each suit purchased in their GREAT TWO-FOR-ONE OFFER. Think of it! You get two suits of equal value—both made to measure,—guaranteed to fit, and your choice of over 145 patterns (especially procured at "rock bottom" prices for this event).

Here's How We Do It!

GENTLEMEN: There are no strings to this offer. It means just exactly what it says. Nobody but the American Woolen Mills could make such a stupendous offer. The vast resources behind this organization make it possible. Successful merchandising today, especially at popular prices, requires a mammoth organization and facilities for creating a tremendous sales volume. The American Woolen Mills have both. Volume tells the story. The firm selling 100 suits per week does not have to exact a big "overhead" and "profit" fee (which is one of the biggest items in the construction of a suit) as the small merchant only selling ten or twenty. The big operator can content himself with 20% of what the small one makes, and yet give the customer a garment of equal or better standard and even make more money in the aggregate.

37<sup>50</sup>

And Up in Our Great 2-for-1 Offer

Our Cash Buying Power

—Has enabled us to give the customer a strictly hand-tailored, high-grade garment substantially below that of our competitor. But in keeping with our policy of "ever working" to "hammer" the prices of made-to-measure suits down, and yet maintain the highest standard of fabric and workmanship, we have evolved another plan that enables us to give TWO SUITS FOR ONE PRICE and you have your choice of over 145 patterns to choose from at $37.50 and up.

During this great Two-For-One Sale our usual large volume of business will be increased three to five times, making it possible for us to content ourselves with about one-fourth the usual profit on the original suit (although always below that of the small operator) and no profit on the second. This, together with the advertising value, absolutely permits us to give two suits for the price of one, and at the same time we guarantee there is no undermining the original quality of the fabric or grade of workmanship.

The excellence of both is maintained. Each and every one of you, by gathering in large numbers at a given time to buy, are mostly responsible for this offer. We don't have to figure $15 or $20 "overhead and profit" as is the case with the small operator. Because of the creation of a big volume of business, we take less profit on the first suit and none on the second. And you, doing your part by appearing in large numbers, and we doing ours with our cash buying power, low rent and unpretentious quarters and the benefit derived from a quick "woolen turnover" and the host of new customers gained through this advertising feature, is it any wonder we make this gigantic offer tomorrow? Absolutely two suits for one price, and over 145 patterns to select from at $37.50 and up. It isn't necessary to take our word. Seeing is believing. Step into the American Woolen Mills tomorrow and be convinced. A full and complete line of the season's latest fabrics awaits you. Fit is positively guaranteed. Come early. Doors open at 8 a. m.

Sincerely,
"BUD" COLMAN, Mgr.

PASTOR TRIES REFORM PLANS ON BOOM TOWN

AMARILLO, Tex., Nov. 19.—Borger, the naughty boom town of the Texas Panhandle, has a new "sky pilot."

He is the Rev. Mathey C. Dickson, 52, college graduate, legionnaire, who saw service on the Meuse-Argonne front and claims the distinction of being the only minister to enter the service of his country as an ordinary "back private" in the Thirty-fifth division.

The Rev. Mr. Dickson, who also is called the "fighting parson from Tennessee," and who has a predilection for the "ragged edges" of civilization, arrived in Borger last week. His coming was coincident with a series of raids staged by the federal authorities and he had ample opportunity to view the conditions prevalent in this notorious town.

He was welcomed, he says by both the better class of citizenry and those who do not come so high in the Blue Book of Borger.

While conceding that the usually efficient intelligence service of the underworld might have furnished advance information in regard to his sacred calling, Dickson says that this section of the Borger citizenry received him very kindly. The women, as well as some of the men whose callings are not regarded favorably by the so-called better element of the town already are brining their troubles to him, he says, and they find sympathy because, he says, he understands them and loves their rough, adventurous life.

The Rev. Mr. Dickson, who is the second "sky pilot" to try his hand at the redemption of Borger, from his preliminary investigations is of the opinion that the underworld "has been wronged."

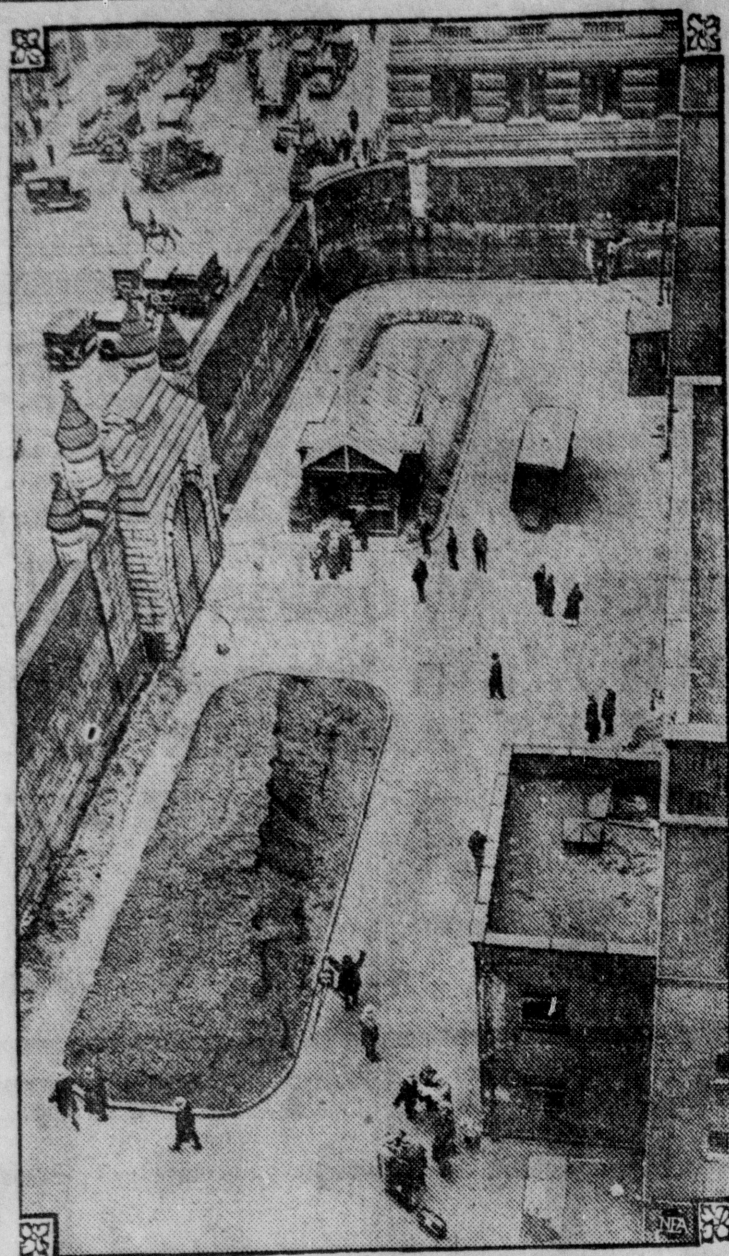

Plans for the erection of a Presbyterian church, under whose authority the Rev. Mr. Dickson officiates, now are under way in Borger. When that is built and he gets settled down, the minister is going to bring his family to Borger, for he likes it, he says.

Jacob M. Bower Is Laid to Rest

LOS ALAMITOS, Nov. 19.—Jacob M. Bower, who died on November 7, was laid to rest in Fairview cemetery on Wednesday afternoon. Services were held from St. Isidore's church, the Rev. Father Ralley, of Seal Beach, officiating.

Mr. Bower was born in Belleville, Ill., in 1861. He was a member of the Woodman of the World. He leaves to mourn four daughters, Mrs. Edward Brown of Cody, Wyo., Mrs. Della Kelly, of Indiana; Mrs. Elsie Shultz of Butte, Mont.; Mrs. Claud Allen of Compton, and three sons, L. C. Bower, of Cody, Wyo.; P. Bower, of Westminster and Charles Bower, of Los Alamitos.

SCENE OF PRISON BREAK

An attempt by Hyman Amberg, Aaron Rodack and Michael McKenna to shoot their way out of the famous Tombs prison, in New York, with smuggled guns culminated in a prolonged battle in which bullets took the lives of Amberg and Rodack, Warden Peter J. Mallon and Keeper Jeremiah Murphy and brought perhaps fatal wounds to McKenna and two others. This picture of the jail yard, the scene of the combat, was taken immediately after removal of the casualties.

Alcohol Plant Plans Disclosed

ANAHEIM, Nov. 19.—Reports on various projects claimed the attention of the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce directors at the first open membership meeting of the chamber held in the Elks' clubhouse at luncheon yesterday.

Fifty members of the chamber attended the meeting, which was held in line with the newly adopted policy of the chamber having frequent open membership meetings for the discussion of pending projects. It was voted that henceforth these meetings be held in the city hall chambers in the evening.

President H. E. W. Barnes presided, calling upon Dr. Gustave T. Reich, manager of the Anaheim plant of the United States Industrial Alcohol company, who discussed the recently announced plans for enlarging the plant.

H. N. White reported on the recent meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce held at Placentia.

J. Clarke Chamberlain was appointed to represent the Anaheim chamber at a dinner to be given by Los Angeles county Legionnaires at the Ambassador hotel November 23, in honor of Byron Pitts, lieutenant governor-elect.

MAHARAJAH IS EAGER TO SEE FILM CAPITAL

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 19.—"T. Raju," professed ex-Maharajah of Indore, started "seeing California" today, with an ovie camera under his arm and the tourist's usual desire to wind up at Hollywood.

Up to this morning, he had successfully avoided answering the direct questions of any newspapermen.

"I am determined to avoid publicity. I am awfully sorry. It is a temptation," the visitor announced by way of warding off interrogators.

"T. Raju," with a retinue of two secretaries, four servants, William Ewart, a travel agent, and Mrs. Jennie Miller and Miss Nancy Miller, of Seattle, stepped off the Gold Coast Limited at West Berkeley, yesterday afternoon, motored the rest of the distance and left newspapermen waiting at the Oakland mole. They caught up with him at the Fairmont hotel.

"We can't give you any interview," said M. F. Bechtler, "T. Raju's" English secretary.

"As for the maharajah's visit here, it is taken purely on the advice of his physicians. You see, His Highness has not been in sound health."

"His Majesty is observing everything American and taking copious notes in his diary. He is taking all kinds of pictures. You see, he thinks that America's motion pictures are one of the greatest industries, and he has a splendid movie camera."

"All of us are eager to see the famous Hollywood, and when that is accomplished we will return to New York and Europe."

Questions hinting at a possible romance between "T. Raju" and a beautiful brunette, induced surprise from members of the party.

It was recalled that the maharajah's favoritism toward brunettes contributed to the series of events that led to his abdication in favor of his son, Prince Geshwant Rao Holkar, following the scandal involving Mumtaz Begum, a beautiful nautch dancer, the maharajah and Abdul Mawla, wealthy merchant. Bawla was murdered and Mumtaz disfigured for life.

FATHER, SON TO FIGHT FOREST BLAZE CHARGE

The case of Fred Hathaway, Los Angeles insurance man, and his son, Neil, who face criminal charges in connection with the starting of the recent Santiago canyon forest fire, has been postponed in Justice K. E. Morrison's court to November 26.

At that time, Hathaway's attorneys announced yesterday, they will interpose a demurrer to the complaint. That the Hathaways expect to make a spirited fight against the charges is indicated by the fact that they have employed two prominent legal firms of Santa Ana and Los Angeles to defend them.

The defense includes Scarborough, Forgy and Reinhaus, Santa Ana firm, and O'Melveny, Milliken and Tuller, of Los Angeles. The arraignment yesterday was continued because of the demurrer.

CLUBWOMEN SCORE 'TRASHY' STORIES IN MAGAZINES AND RISQUE SCENES IN MOVIES

Resolutions protesting against publication of alleged indecent and trashy stories in national magazines; the showing of bedroom scenes in motion pictures, and also against showing pictures in which smoking, drinking and crime are evident, were adopted at the closing session of the annual convention of the southern district, California Federation of Women's Clubs, in Fullerton, yesterday.

Letters will be written to magazine publishers by the various clubs, protesting against all stories that might tend to lower the moral standard of the young people of this country, it was agreed.

Will Hayes, czar of the motion picture world, also will receive a protest from the clubwomen against bedroom scenes being shown in pictures. Hayes will be asked, also, to censor pictures which reveal smoking, drinking or crime, unless a penalty also is shown.

Care of Drug Addicts
A resolution was passed urging the governor of California and the state legislature to create and maintain an institution for taking care of drug addicts. This was introduced by the Ocean side Woman's club.

A resolution presented by Mrs. E. E. Knight, president, of Yorba Linda urged that California's representatives to the Hall of Fame in the University of New York be Father Junipero Serra, missionary, and Thomas Star King, missionary and philanthropist.

Conservation of natural resources and reforestation were the subjects of several discussions at the last day of the convention.

Francis Cuttle, member of the state forestry board and president of the Tri-County Reforestation committee, delivered an address to several hundred women in the morning session. He spoke on "Reforestation." A "conservation" luncheon at the noon hour followed out the same theme of discussion.

Cuttle's address follows in part:

"The American people at large do not seem to realize the necessity of reforestation. We have been surrounded by so much in forests we have not appreciated this great asset. In France, the penalty for setting an incendiary fire is imprisonment. When our trees are gone, this country will be impoverished and depopulated, for it takes two generations to grow forests.

Vast Areas Cut Down

"We reforest 50,000 acres in the United States annually and we cut 10,000,000 acres. We are depleting our forests four and a half times as fast as we reforest. Our prosperity here comes from common ditch water and when that is gone we will go back to desert conditions. In one county, the water level has dropped 219 feet below the former level. The loss of the watershed cover in Orange county is a very serious matter."

Cuttle concluded his talk by showing the connection between the conservation of the forests in the watersheds and the amount of water which would be saved for irrigation purposes.

Mrs. Clark McEuen spoke on education during the afternoon. She told of the home management course, recently instituted in the Riverside junior college, largely through efforts of women's clubs in that community. She also referred to the forward strides made in teaching methods in the rural schools of Riverside county.

Mrs. George Wing, state chairman of education, stated that concentration by the women's clubs in this district will be asked on the Curtis-Reed bill on education, which provides for federal funds for education.

On Reciprocity Bureau
Mrs. H. E. DeNise spoke of the information-reciprocity program bureau. She said that it was necessary that the information department must be featured early in the coming year. She told of the urge made by Redlands clubs toward a "forward progressive movement" for the clubs.

"Radio" was the subject of a report given by Mrs. G. H. Goodale. She said that the Orange county clubs would use KFON station for the purpose of broadcasting a program, the date of which will be announced later. Mrs. Goodale urged that the women exert their influence to see that better radio programs were used.

A complete report on the work accomplished by the Orange county clubs was given by Mrs. A. P. Nelson, of Santa Ana, who is the county president.

Reports of other county clubs were given. Constructive work in conservation was included in the report by Mrs. J. E. Hencke. She told of the communities in this district which are planting trees and beautifying places of interest. The Boy Scouts' aid had been secured in several instances, Mrs. Hencke stated.

1 ALLEGED SPEEDER APPEARS IN COURT

The smallest docket in more than a year faced Justice Kenneth Morrison today, in speeders' court. Only one alleged violator appeared and only eight complaints of road law violations were filed.

This lone defendant, E. N. Lamb, Long Beach, charged with speeding 28 miles an hour in a 15-mile zone, was given a continuance until November 26.

The small number of complaints is explained by the fact that officers last week were in attendance at the state convention of motor police, in Sacramento, and the week before many were on fire duty in the Santa Ana mountains.

EMMA GOLDMAN IN DEFENSE OF WORLD'S YOUTH

NOTE—Emma Goldman retains the youthful spirit, she insists, in spite of struggles and disillusionments. She has modified her old denunciations of America and seeks to re-enter the country. She has compromised on matrimony to the extent of entering wedlock. Here, in the fourth of a series of five articles, is her opinion of the rising generation.

BY EMMA GOLDMAN

Shortly after my arrival in England two years ago, a group of American students invited me to address the American Students' club, at Oxford. This surprised me not a little, coming from American college boys.

I found the group of young men gathered in the rooms of a fellow student after the lecture to entertain me and fire questions on every imaginable subject at me. They were well read in all the best their own country and Europe had created—keenly alive to the problems of our time, and singularly free from the provincialism and the priggishness which used to cramp the body and spirit of American youth of many years ago.

No doubt, their contact with Europe helped much to awaken and broaden the American youth. Travel is a better medium of education than college. It makes one see that there are others, rich in culture and experience, who can teach us much, if we will but bring to them a receptive mind. And the events since 1914 at home and abroad have made the American youth much more receptive than was the generation preceding him.

From the vantage point of his European reaction, the American youth is now able to see with a clearer eye what is real in his own land.

There is no blinking the fact that youth everywhere is in a ferment, in revulsion against old ideas, old habits, old values—against a world which is presided over by toothless old men and spiritually withered old ladies. In vain, they have sealed America hermetically against the contamination of fresh and invigorating ideas.

Youth, like love, laughs at locks. Youth has other ways of fraternizing with the awkward generation in Europe. It has social ideas in common, literature, the drama, painting, music. All peak a common language and sing the same inspiring songs. The foremost dramatist in the English language is the young American, Eugene O'Neill. With him are scores of young men and women, who do vital and telling work in the country. They have imagination, fire, daring. And the same holds good of the young generation in the rest of the world.

"But," say the wiseacres, "youth is reckless, frivolous, without stability. It has no roots in the past." Fortunately, how else is youth to become a factor for progress and innovation? Only those grown gray and stale would attempt to dampen the ardor of youth—censure and suppress all that makes for breadth of vision, gaiety of spirit, keen delight in the danger of life, in the intense struggle for greater freedom and beauty.

The young generation will have no interference. It is not only "knocking at the door," it is breaking it with the flourish, the crash and the bang of jazz which by the way is itself the symbol of youthful folly and abandon.

Those of us who have retained a youthful spirit will rejoice in the regeneration of youth in the world and will bid it nail and god-speed.

ASKS MEXICANS RALLY TO CAUSE OF REBEL ARMY

JUAREZ, Mexico, Nov. 19.—Gen. Nicolas Fernandez, who crossed into Mexico with a band of revolutionists near here, November 1, has called upon all Chihuahua citizens in circulars to rally to the banner of Alfonso de la Huerta and "religious freedom."

The circulars say: "The cry 'viva La Huerta,' that is enervating the Yaqui fight in Sonora, has been heard from one end of the country to the other. It is the call for all good men to fight the tyranny of the spurious president, P. Elias Calles, and the tragic clown, Alvaro Obregon."

"The state of Chihuahua cannot remain indifferent to this situation. This is addressed to all brave and honest citizens of Chihuahua. We invite them to group around the flag and help us overthrow the authorities who have mocked the people's freedom, the freedom of the religious press and conscience and violated the principles of 1910."

WOMAN TO BE PROSECUTOR IN RUM RING CASE

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 19.—The government's case against the coast-wide rum ring, allegedly uncovered with the arrest of nearly 50 men in San Francisco and Los Angeles this week, will be conducted by Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant U. S. attorney general.

"The government considers this one of the most important prohibition cases with which it has yet to deal," U. S. Attorney George J. Hatfield said.

The opinion was expressed today that the Consolidated Exporters, Ltd., of Vancouver, B. C., would be forced out of business through the wholesale apprehension of its reputed agents in Pacific coast states.

The "Consolidated" is said to have poured approximately $1,000,000 worth of liquor each month into Washington, Oregon and California.

Officials hinted that additional arrests, expected momentarily in California cities, might include a number of prominent bankers, alleged to have given financial backing to Consolidated Exporters.

SERIES OF BUSINESS STUDIES
By James H. Collins
Come West, Old Man, and Grow Up With Your Customers!
ARTICLE XV

In the Los Angeles telephone book, I saw the name of a friend
—this company rather. A fine old concern, with leadership in its line, and branch factories scattered over the United States.

"Oh, that's just a sales office," he answered, when I wrote him.
"For we take care of customers in the Pacific Southwest from our factories in Blanktown and Dash-ville."

Some days later I heard a young engineer who had been east talking to men like my friend, present facts pointing toward branch factories in Southern California.

"I know him!" said the engineer.
"He's heard the story several times and we've sent him a detailed report on the situation, but he things his customers are being served well enough from his two nearest plants."

Telling the engineer that my friend was conservative, I wrote again.

"If you say so, maybe there's something in it," was his reply,
"but we've always felt that part of the country was full of boosters, and that statements coming from there were subject to very large discounts. I'll look into the situation again."

"If he doesn't," said the engineer later, "some morning he'll wake up to hear that a competitor has captured the Pacific southwest by building a factory and taking his customers. We're working now with another concern that is very much awake to the possibilities."

As far as I know, Southern California business organizations are the first to send the engineer on this sort of mission. Instead of the salesman and where the salesman often made an impassioned argument, the engineer just spreads out a few curves and charts. No argument, no community pride, no climate ecstasies. To anyone who can read engineering graphs, the story is plain.

"Three years ago, when I first went east," says this engineer, "it was hard to get a hearing. 'Another booster from Southern California!'
they laughed. Two years ago it was easier. Last year the story was distinctly good. This year I found it hard to get away from them. They wanted to hear all about it, because something has been happening to their sales here.
"What's the matter with Southern California, anyway?" they ask this year. "The way our sales have fallen off out there, you must be all shot to pieces. Of course, you boosters won't admit it—but you are shot, ain't you? Come on—own up that you're shot!"

He could only tell that population, bank clearings, building and other activities are steadily increasing in the Pacific southwest, and suggest that decreasing sales might be due to shortcoming in their products or distributing methods.

The past lives long in the memory of folks at a distance. An American in London wants to see Dickens characters, the European in this country looks for Indians, and in the east they have not yet discovered that the western booster is passing away—has passed in many localities.

My friend, the manufacturer, is taking care of customers in this region by methods that are satisfactory in the days of big ranches, cowboys, horse transportation, few towns and long credits. He must come here and see that the West has become a cash-and-carry country, like the East, in manufacturing and distribution, and that his customers need better service.

JAMES H. COLLINS

wages for people living here, and some of it ultimately comes back to those who spend it. There is a million dollars' worth of orders which can be massed for the first factory that comes.

The belief that times are bad in Southern California is so prevail-ent in the East that many an executive, guiding the policy of a great manufacturing concern, attributes shrinkage of business to that apparent cause. There is a feeling that the long "boom" has broken at last, and that the westerners are trying to revive it by day-to-day-in-every-way incantations. Many folks living here in the Pacific southwest complain of dull times, because they do not understand that the solid growth and normal conditions have replaced the excitement of "boom" days. If some home folks have that viewpoint, in easterner's mistaken ideas are comprehensible.

"You're shot to pieces," declares the eastern manufacturer. "And besides, you're a hot air artist."
Meanwhile, out of the west, he might hear a paraphrase of Horace Greeley's famous advice: "Go West, old man, and grow up with your customers."

Again and again, in my investigations, I have found cases where the eastern concerns were trying to hold their customers here at long distance, against handicaps like high freight rates, the importation of raw materials through Pacific ports, the higher wages and manufacturing costs of the eastern industrial centers, the impossibility of man-to-man deal-ings and adjustments, and so forth.

But the alert fellows are investigating. Branch factories have begun coming. More will come the next five years should see remarkable happenings here.

Southern California is encouraging the establishment of branch factories, and also the establishment of new factories.

MARLAND OIL WELL FLOWING 3600 BARRELS

SEAL BEACH, Nov. 19.—The Marland Oil company yesterday had its gusher well in the Seal Beach field under control, and last night the well was reported to be making an actually gauged output of 3600 barrels a day.

The well, Sealer No. 1, the most southerly well in the new field, blew in while the crew was making a test on Wednesday, and flowed wild for several hours. Estimates of its production during this period ranged from 6000 to 10,000 barrels, but when the control head was finally installed, and the oil turned into the tanks, the well actually made 1800 barrels in 12 hours. This production was made with the well "beamed" down, so that oil men figure the yield during the eruption was probably in excess of 7000 barrels.

Completion of this well gives the Marland a total output from the three producing wells of more than 75000 barrels a day, with another well ready for completion in a few days. The next well will be Bixby No. 4, and it is understood that the Marland expects this well to make the total yield of the field at least 10,000 barrels a day.

Bixby No. 4 underwent a production test last week, but it had drilled into gray water sand for about 15 feet, and had been plugged back, and after a test of several hours it was found that the plug was not holding.

The Associated Oil company was drilling ahead at 4200 feet in its Bryant No. 1 well in the eastern part of the Seal Beach field yesterday, and at that point began taking cores, according to field reports. The well is a considerable distance east of the producers of the Marland Oil company on the Bixby property, and information gained in the drilling of the Bixby wells makes it possible that the Bryant well may pick up the sand somewhat shallower than was originally expected.

Program by L. B. Children's Band Set for Nov. 23

LAGUNA BEACH, Nov. 19.—The Children's band of Laguna Beach will give its first concert the evening of November 23 in the Community club auditorium. For four months the boys and girls have been busy trying to learn how to play and now find mothers and fathers are to be given a chance to see what their offsprings can do musically.

In addition to the band numbers, there will be numbers by the Anna Priscilla Risher quartet, William Riddell will sing, Mrs. Belle Armstrong will give some readings and Ruth Woodward will do a solo dance.

LAGUNA SCHOOL GETS 2 PAINTINGS

LAGUNA BEACH, Nov. 19.—The permanent collection of paintings owned by the Laguna Beach school has been augmented by the addition of two gifts this week. One picture was given to the school by Clarence Hinkel, noted artist of the Southland and the other by Virginia Woolley, secretary of the Laguna Beach Art association.

The picture given by Mr. Hinkel is the original sketch for a large figure painting which has been hung in many exhibitions. The sketch shows a woman seated on a garden bench, the background being a glimpse of the sea through a mass of tangled trees. The Hinkel picture is hanging in the room where the principal, George K. Bingham, teaches.

Miss Woolley's gift to the school is possessed of a charm that has made it a favorite with the children. Miss Zella Handy's room is the lucky one in this case. The painting represents a scene in Atlanta, Ga. It is an old southern doorway with its arched quaintness worked into a picture of romance.

The addition of these two pictures gives the school a collection of paintings that probably has no equal in any other school in the state. There are other pictures by Edgar Alwin Payne, Elsie Palmer Payne, Norman Chamberlain, Irving Manoir, Catherine Strode, William Swift Daniel, Henry Revell, Conway Griffith, Emily White and many loan pictures which are to be left in the school indefinitely. Other artists who have promised pictures for the school include William A. Griffith, Anna A. Hills and Ruth Peabody.

Laguna Club to Hold Masked Ball

LAGUNA BEACH, Nov. 19.—Regarded as the most important event in the life of this town, socially, the masked ball to be given this evening at the Community club, bids fair to outshine the masked balls of the past two years, according to a statement by members of the decoration committee.

This ball, sponsored by the Players, the dramatic part of the Community club, is the third one of its kind to be given in the club and it is an inviolate rule that only costumed and masked dancers shall be allowed on the dancing floor. All others must sit on the stage, where they can watch the festivities in comfort. The Newell orchestra from Anaheim, will play.

The first prize will be a painting by the celebrated marine painter, Frank W. Cuyper, who is a resident of Laguna Beach and a member of the Community club. This picture will be given to the person exhibiting the handsomest costume. A second prize will be given for the most grotesque costume and a third prize for the funniest costume.

200 Present at Alamitos Dance

LOS ALAMITOS, Nov. 19.—The hard times dance given by the Improvement association on Wednesday evening in the Administration building, was a huge success. About 100 couples danced to music rendered by Polly Play Boys of Long Beach.

Prizes were awarded for the best costume, Miss H. Lange, of Anaheim, and Ed Shaub, of Long Beach, being the winners.

LAGUNA BEACH ART EXHIBIT

LAGUNA BEACH, Nov. 19.—Miss Kate Overton has returned from Pacific Grove and has opened her Laguna Beach home on the boulevard at Arch Beach. With her returned Miss Knerr, who accompanied Miss Overton on her northern trip.

Miss Jessie M. Stewart, of Pocatello, Idaho, and Mrs. John Ross of Hilo, H. I. were recent guests of Miss May Hattwell. Mrs. Ross owns a sugar plantation in the islands and comes to Los Angeles to do her shopping. Miss Stewart is Mrs. Ross' sister.

Students of bird life have noticed the great number of birds seen around here since the fires in the San Diego mountains. Quail are running about in the hills but are protected by the range riders of the ranches. Several varieties of mountain birds have been noticed in this vicinity.

Mrs. Ethel Lea, widow of the former military advisor to Sun Yat Sen, General Homer Lea, was a Laguna Beach visitor this week. Mrs. Lea is living in Buenos Aires and is in America for a visit.

Charles A. Lloyd, of Los Angeles, an uncle of Miss Jessie M. Washburn, has been a guest of his niece.

Mrs. Grace Vollmer, one of the Laguna painters, is holding an exhibition of her work at the Cannel and Chaffin galleries. Mrs. Vollmer is distinctly original in her method of work and has achieved an enviable success. She is a constant exhibitor in the Laguna Beach gallery.

Coming from Taos, N. M., the artist's colony, Miss Mair Haines is going to paint in Laguna this

SOIL MOISTURE DISCUSSED AT CITRUS SESSION

FULLERTON, Nov. 19.—Thursday's program at the citrus extension school in session at the Fullerton high school continued to hold the undivided attention of more than 150 growers. W. R. Schoonover and Gordon Surr were the lecturers at yesterday's school.

An interesting lecture and one of much value to the growers, was the one given yesterday morning by Gordon Surr on "Soil Moisture and Nitrate Studies at the Citrus Experiment Station at Riverside."

Among other things discussed by Mr. Surr was the overhead irrigation system for citrus groves. He said that this system had proved very satisfactory where used with few exceptions. This method of applying moisture to certain types of soils had been highly satisfactory in providing an even distribution of water and had been very successful in carrying the nitrates down to the roots, he said.

W. R. Schoonover talked on a satisfactory soil management program and defined correct irrigation practice. His talks were followed by numerous questions from his listeners. The willing point in orange trees was one of the points stressed by Mr. Schoonover and which interested his listeners. He said that there was no laboratory test which at present could accurately determine the wilting point of a tree. At the first signs of wilting in a citrus tree water should be applied soon after.

He also talked of the proper irrigation methods and stated that all of the talks made in this connection were for the purpose of showing the individual grower how to handle his own situation.

Shortly before 3 o'clock all of the members adjourned for another short field session in some of the groves near Fullerton, with Mr. Schoonover taking charge of the work.

On Saturday, a field tour will take up the entire day. Orchards in the vicinity of Fullerton, Anaheim, Orange and Villa Park will be visited. Some orchards will be visited which were damaged by the recent winds and an investigation will be made of wind breaks in the same vicinity. Mr. Wahlberg stated.

A display of many of the most approved types of smudge pots was on the high school grounds. Mr. Wahlberg stated, and could be inspected by the growers at any time.

ORGANIZED OPPOSITION TO HUNTINGTON BEACH NEGRO COLONY IS POSSIBILITY

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 19.—An organization to oppose any further efforts of colored people to establish a colony on the ocean front south of this city, will be formed here, according to reports from a number of prominent citizens of this city. The negro colony has been a bone of contention for many months.

When the colony was first established more than a year ago, the local chamber of commerce and other civic organizations passed resolutions tending to discourage the project.

The new efforts to stop the colony will be launched as the result of a national campaign inaugurated recently by colored people to raise $25,000 to revive the colony.

The colony, sponsored by the Pacific Beach club, has experienced difficulty ever since it was launched. Trouble was experienced getting a right-of-way across the railroad tracks onto the property, more trouble was experienced in getting contractors to build the clubhouse and one contractor gave up the job, and then the buildings burned to the ground when nearly completed. Now the project is in financial difficulty, according to reports.

REV. WILLIAMS' RESIGNATION IS REVEALED

ANAHEIM, Nov. 19.—The Rev. Otho H. Williams, who has served as pastor of the First Christian church since the resignation 10 months ago of Leon J. Myers, militant pastor and asserted Klan leader, has presented his resignation, which has already become effective. J. A. Baker chairman of the board of trustees revealed this morning.

The Rev. Williams left Anaheim three weeks ago for a church convention now being held at Memphis, and will not return to the Anaheim pastorate, Mr. Baker said. His resignation was filed with the board at the time he left for the convention, it is said.

The Rev. C. C. Root, of Montebello, an evangelist, is being considered to fill the pulpit and action is expected to be taken on his application for the post at next Sunday's services.

During the period that the Rev. Williams was in charge of the pulpit, he undertook the task of re-financing the church debt and instituted many changes in the church policy. Mr. Baker said this morning that the Rev. Williams will likely accept a similar task in some other large Christian church.

Mr. Baker declined to state whether or not there has been dissatisfaction on the part of the congregation towards the church management during the past few months.

Rumors to the effect that the Rev. Myers, the former pastor of the church, who is now in Dodge City, Ia., is being considered for appointment to the local pulpit were discredited by church leaders.

COULD NOT PUT ON HER SHOES

Mrs. Daugherty Was so Weak

In a little town of the Middle West, was a discouraged woman. For four months she had been in such poor health that she could not stoop to put on her own shoes. Unable to do her work, unable to go out of doors or enjoy a friendly chat with her neighbors, life seemed dark indeed to Mrs. Daugherty.

Then one day, a booklet was left at her front door. Lily she turned the pages. Soon she was reading with quickened interest. The little booklet was filled with letters from women in conditions similar to hers who had found better health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"I began taking the Vegetable Compound," Mrs. Daugherty writes, "and after I took the third bottle, I found relief. I am on my eleventh bottle and I don't have that trouble any more, and feel like a different woman. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to every woman I see who has trouble like mine. I am willing to answer any letters from women asking about the Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. E. DAUGHERTY, 1308 Orchard Ave., Muscatine, Iowa.

THESE GOPHER STARS MAY UPSET YOST'S TITLE HOPES

Michigan and Northwestern now hold the inside track in the Big Ten football chase. The Purple, with only Iowa yet to face, stands a good chance of sticking to the top, but the Wolverines are apt to meet a tartar in the husky Minnesota eleven when they clash at the Gopher stronghold tomorrow.

Above are four stars of the Spears aggregation—Joesting, Nydahl, Almquist and Peplaw. They make one of the strongest backfields in the middle west. In case one of them gets injured the Gophers have still another flashy fellow to shove in the lineup—Barnhart.

Joesting is one of the best full-backs in the game, while his mates are all fast and clever ball-toters. They're certain to cause Michigan plenty of trouble.

HARVARD'S THREAT
The ill-feeling between the two institutions dates back to 1921, but in reality didn't break out until the following season.

Princeton beat Harvard 10-3 in 1921 and certain allegations were made relative to the rough play of Princeton in winning.

It is customary to hold a big Harvard rally at Cambridge prior to the Princeton game. At this affair are a number of invited Princeton men, usually former grid stars, the idea being to preserve the atmosphere of good sportsmanship that is supposed to exist between the two colleges.

I saw the Princeton game of 1922, which Princeton won, 10-3, contrary to the forecasts of experts. At the rally prior to this game a former Harvard star said many unkind things about Princeton.

He practically stated that Harvard would beat Princeton on the morrow and then, after spanking the Tiger, would quit associating with him for all time.

PLAN FRUSTRATED
Princeton didn't relish the speech of the former Crimson star. A lot of Harvard men didn't approve of it.

I discussed the situation with one of the Princeton coaches the evening before the game. He remarked to me:

"Harvard may sever athletic relations with us after the game, but Princeton will win it."

George Owen was the outstanding star of the Harvard team that year. Crimson supporters figured he would run wild against the Tiger. Princeton stopped him and emerged the victor. Athletic relations were not severed.

Harvard triumphed in 1923 by the score of 5-0. In the meantime some of the cooler heads had patched up most of the differences and all seemed well.

CRIMSON POLICY
The following year Princeton ran roughshod over Harvard, winning 34-0, the worst defeat a Crimson

HERSHEY HOLDS HIGH PISTOL ON POLICE RANGE

Santa Ana police officers continued to smash their own records on the pistol range yesterday, when more than 20 gathered for the weekly shoot. Shooting at possible 300 scores, four officers shot 260 or better, the high gun for the day being held by Motorcycle Officer E. A. Hershey, who shot 266. Earl Lentz was second, with 262, and L. E. Peterson, third, with 261.

Shooting was done over the 25-yard range, slow fire, 20 second fire and 10 second fire.

Plans are being made by the department for building a new range, which will accommodate more officers on the line. The range will be prepared with an idea of organizing civilian teams in Santa Ana.

Scores made yesterday by the 10 best shots were as follows: Hershey, 266; Lentz, 262; Peterson, 261; Howard, 260; Jaynes, 253; Rogers, 249; Smithwick, 241; Holmes, 238; Perry, 234; Knight, 221; Wolfel, 218; Fink, 207.

Oregon University Ready for Aggies

CORVALLIS, Nov. 19.—One of the largest football crowds ever to assemble at Corvallis, more than 25,000, is anticipated for the University of Oregon-Oregon Aggie clash. While the Aggies appear slight favorites, the lemon and green will be playing the biggest game of its season and under the fire of Coach John McEwan's spirit they should rise to outdo their normal ability. It would be quite a feather in Oregon's headgear to stop the heavy Aggie line and the plunges of Wes Schuler.

CUE ACES TO MEET

team had suffered at the hands of the Tiger.

In 1925, Princeton did an even better job, the final total being 36-0, making a total of 70 points in two years against Harvard without being scored on. Those two blows all but killed John Harvard. This year it was Princeton again 12-0.

Aside from the many Harvard threats and the foolish editorial policy of the Lampton, the Harvard humorist publication, Princeton keenly objected to a clause recently adopted by Harvard relative to its athletic policy, which read as follows:

"Harvard will play Yale every year at the scheduled time but will play other colleges intermittently." Princeton, in breaking relations, refused to be kicked around by Harvard's board of control after the Princeton athletes had been kicking Harvard around for years on the football field.

Simple Remedy for Bad Stomach Gives Quick Relief

No Need of Strong Medicines or Diet—Famous But Simple Old English Recipe Keeps Stomach in Fine Condition, Banishes After-Eating Distress

If you are a victim of Stomach Troubles—Gas, Sourness, Pain or Bloating—you may have quick and certain relief by following this simple advice.

Don't take strong medicines, artificial digestants or pull down your system by following unnecessary starvation diets.

Never hurry your meals or overeat of anything, but within reason most folks may eat what they like—if they will keep their stomach sweet, clean and active and free from the souring acids that hinder or paralyze the work of digestion.

And the best and easiest way to do this is to follow every meal with a small amount of pure Bismarck Magnesia—a pleasant, harmless and inexpensive form of Magnesia that promptly neutralizes acidity and keeps your stomach sweet and clean.

A week's trial of Bismarck Magnesia, which may be obtained from any druggist "at small cost," will easily convince you of the great value of this old English recipe.

Pay your body a living wage

The cheerful functioning of all parts of the body never results when the tissue is starved and the vitality depleted—which follow irregular or incomplete elimination.

The only method which will insure a successful, smoothly operating bodily machine is: Full absorption of necessary food elements—complete and regular elimination of waste.

Roman Meal, the perfect grain food, is the "Happy Medium" between the too-finely refined cereals and white flour foods, and the necessary, but coarse bran which contains very little nutrient, and which should not be used except when "relieved" by a grain product such as flaxseed which dilutes the harshness of the bran and gently lubricates the "tract."

Serve Roman Meal—you worried mothers of under-nourished children, each way some day, in any one of the twenty-five different ways, and see your proud little ones improve! See, too, how tired husbands enjoy it and improve, too!

SANTA ANA FRATERNAL AND PATRIOTIC ORDERS

NEW OFFICERS ARE NOMINATED BY DAUGHTERS

Santa Ana parlor, No. 235, Native Daughters of the Golden West, entertained Monday night in Knights of Columbus hall, where bridge and 500 kept a large party happy for several hours.

The hall was decorated with dahlias, chrysanthemums and zinnias, and at the close of the evening's play, prizes for bridge were awarded to Mrs. George W. Young, A. G. Plagg and Mrs. W. C. Watkins. For 500, the trophies went to Mrs. Nelson Stafford, Fred Marsile and Mrs. Camblin. Mrs. Stafford also won the door prize and Mrs. I. A. Meham was the winner of the fancy cushion.

Refreshments of cocoa and cakes were served after the card games. A business meeting was held before the card party, at which the following named officers were nominated for officers for the coming term: Mrs. Mamie Conn Schenberger, president; Mrs. Mary Moore, first vice president; Mrs. Eunice Fox, second vice president; Mrs. Genevieve Hickey, third vice president; Mrs. Muriel Bray, marshal; Mrs. Mailda Lemon, recording secretary; Miss Mildred Fox, financial secretary; Mrs. Olive Seba, treasurer; Mrs. Clara Gerken, inside sentinel; Mrs. Mary Cope, outside sentinel; Mrs. Elizabeth Marsile, Mrs. Cora Ross and Miss Elsie Carter, trustees, and Mrs. Stella Stiffler, organist.

The officers will be elected at the next meeting, December 7, in El Camino hall, corner Third and Ross streets. The grand president, Mrs. Pearl Lamb, will make her official visit to Santa Ana parlor, December 20.

PYTHIANS ARE TO MAKE NOMINATIONS

All members of Santa Ana lodge, No. 149, Knights of Pythias, are urged to be present, Wednesday evening, November 24, when nominations for officers for the coming year will be held.

Special entertainment features will be provided by the entertainment committee. Efforts are being made to secure vaudeville numbers from one of the big-time circuits in Los Angeles.

Members of Santa Ana lodge are to visit the Anaheim lodge, Monday evening, November 22, when the rank of knight will be conferred in competition for the $100 prize offered by district council, No. 31, to the lodge most proficient in the work.

Turkey Dinner Honors Officers

Division Commander Parker, of the Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War, arranged a turkey dinner at Ketter's cafe, Tuesday evening.

Guests of honor were Senior Vice Commander-in-Chief D. B. Bowley and his mother, and Division President Ella Mae Cloud, of the Sons of Union Veterans. Twenty-six plates were laid. Commander Davis, of the Santa Ana camp acted as toastmaster. Mrs. Bowley outlined plans for better service by the sons, and Mrs. Bowley related early experiences when they resided at Westminster. Mrs. Ella Mae Cloud predicted a prosperous year for the auxiliary.

Readings and songs were given and after a social hour, the evening came to a close.

OUTING ENJOYED BY FATHERS AND SONS

Eighty fathers and sons from the First Methodist church enjoyed an evening of fun together last night, when a caravan of automobiles started from the church at 6 o'clock and carried the group to Orange County park, where a meal, cooked by the young men, under supervision of Huestis Snow, was served.

Richard Taylor was in charge of the program. Games were played by the fathers and sons. A serpentine, conducted by Gale Harrison, proved to be one of the fun features of the evening.

After two hours in the park, the caravan went to the B. H. Sharpless ranch home, where a great camp fire was burning. Camp fire songs and funny stories from the dads then were in order.

Dr. Seitter, pastor of the church, delivered a short talk. The program closed with the singing of two verses of America.

Vote Recount Is To Be Demanded

SANTA ROSA, Calif., Nov. 18.—E. Douglas Bills, veteran Santa Rosa deputy sheriff, today was declared Sonoma county sheriff, on the strength of seven ballots cast by absent voters November 2 and opened, according to state law, by the county supervisors.

All seven votes were cast for Bills, giving him a four-vote edge over Mike Klor, Petaluma police chief.

Flohr immediately gave notice of intention to demand a recount.

REBEKAHS PLAN WINTER AFFAIRS

Mrs. Martha Taylor was guest of honor yesterday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. W. W. Chandler, 301 North Garnsey street, when members of Sycamore Rebekah lodge held their regular meeting.

At the business session, several affairs for the winter months were planned and disposition was made of the usual business matters.

A social hour followed, during which refreshments were served. Included in the refreshments was a huge white birthday cake, on which was lettered "Martha," and around which were placed birthday candles.

Wednesday night, officers of Sycamore Rebekah lodge went to Fullerton, where all Rebekah officers in this district were gathered for their annual meeting. Both of the Santa Ana Rebekah lodges were represented, as well as were the lodges in Fullerton, Anaheim, Orange and Brea.

Each group of officers put on a stunt as a part of the evening's entertainment. Sycamore Rebekah officers, it was conceded, had one of the most clever stunts. In it each officer appeared on the stage with a fan bearing one letter of the alphabet. When the whole group was on the stage, it was found that the letters spelled the word "Sycamore." Refreshments were served by a committee of Fullerton members.

TWO DEPARTMENT OFFICERS GUESTS

Mrs. David Beecher, department president, and Mrs. Ada Belle Wagner, senior vice president, made their official visits to the Santa Ana lodge, Daughters of Union Veterans, Tuesday afternoon, when the Daughters met in G. A. R. hall.

Committees were appointed to arrange details of the program, to be given Monday night, when the Sons and Daughters celebrate Veterans' night, in G. A. R. hall.

HONOR PAID TO CALUMPIT CAMP AUXILIARY HEAD

Mrs. Bertha Dugdale, president of Calumpit auxiliary, No. 39, U. S. W. V., was surprised Tuesday night at G. A. R. hall, when members of the order made her a guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower.

The shower was in celebration of Mrs. Dugdale's birthday anniversary and also was to show the appreciation of the members for her work during the last year as president of the auxiliary. The shower followed the regular business meeting.

A social event was held at Mrs. Dugdale's home, one night last week, when both auxiliary members and camp members aided in giving her a surprise party.

Four new members were initiated. They were Mesdames Haskell, Bickell, McNaught and Dresser. The first three are wives of Spanish War veterans and Mrs. Dresser is the mother of a veteran.

Plans were made for the auxiliary to go to Sawtelle, Sunday, November 23, and a committee was appointed to prepare suitable entertainment and refreshments for members of ward No. 14, at the soldiers' home. The committee includes Mrs. Vera Bean, Mrs. Gertrude Rowe and Mrs. Anna Patmore.

It was announced that the booth, of which the auxiliary was in charge on Armistice day, was a success.

Guests at the meeting were Mrs. Stella Dresser, of Tulare, past president of the local lodge; Mrs. Emily Reburg, who is president of Clark auxiliary, Inglewood, and Mrs. Ida Alley, also of Inglewood.

NEWS FROM ORANGE AND SURROUNDING DISTRICT

DENIES ORANGE CENSUS TAKERS NOT ACCURATE

ORANGE, Nov. 19.—Taking exception to reports that the recently completed census of Orange was done hurriedly, with many people being overlooked as a result, Mrs. A. D. Burkett, one of those who took the census, declared today that the local workers covered their territory thoroughly. The workers finished a day sooner than had been anticipated, she said.

Furthermore, the census report shows a natural growth for the city of Orange with a gain of approximately 2500 people in the past six years, according to Mrs. Burkett, who assisted in taking the 1920 census.

That many people were not personally interviewed but that they were listed in the census records through a personal acquaintance or that of a neighbor, was the explanation given for those who believe that because they were not personally interviewed, they were not counted.

The census figures as compiled during the recent canvass showed the population of Orange to be 6973.

Three Admitted To Membership In Rotary Club

EPISCOPALIANS WILL VISIT NEW LAGUNA CHURCH

A pilgrimage to St. Francis-by-the-Sea, Laguna Beach, by the Los Angeles diocese of the Episcopal church, will take place on November 22.

The celebration of solemn high mass will take place at 11:30 and, with the Right Rev. Bishop Stevens, of Los Angeles, as the celebrant. The officiating deacons will be Father Dodd and Father Malson. The preacher will be the Rev. Dean Beall, dean of St. Paul's cathedral, Los Angeles. The crucifers are to be Father Holly and Father Ruggles. The servers will be Father Dexter and Father Adams. Father Craft will be the chanter. The Rev. Percy Wise Clarkson, rector of St. Francis-by-the-Sea, will serve as the sacristan. Acolytes will be Ida Griffith and Tilly Smith. The organist will be Father Noord and the wardens will be Canon Brown and Father Renison.

Following the high mass, the wives of the clergymen will be entertained at luncheon in the abbey house by the guild of St. Francis. The visiting ministers will dine in the village. Father Davidson will be chairman or arrangements.

At 2:15 p. m., there will be meditation in the chapel, where an opportunity will be offered to study the pictures which have been hung recently. These pictures, the stations of the cross, were brought from the continent by the rector, the Rev. Mr. Clarkson, who will recite the stations at 2:30 p. m. Bishop Stevens will make the address.

Following meditation, the pilgrimage will travel on to San Juan Capistrano, where the clergymen and their wives will be the guests of the Rev. St. John O'Sullivan, and will view the famous mission. Then the pilgrimage will wind its way to the Church of St. Andrew, at El Toro, and from there go to Orange, where vespers will be said in Trinity chapel by Dean Evans, canon of the diocese.

The guild of Trinity church will give hospitality to the pilgrims at 5:15 p. m., and at 8:30 p. m. the benediction will be said at St. Andrew's church, Fullerton, by the oldest preacher, Fullerton.

The church of St. Andrew was built by the Rev. Percy Wise Clarkson, as was Trinity church in Orange, and St. Francis-by-the-Sea in Laguna Beach.

The exterior is carried out along the Spanish mission line. Red tile was used for the roof. Lined colored stucco was used for the outside finish.

An entry vestibule, found in early day homes, has been revived. An extra large hallway running the entire length of the house lends to comfort and pleasing appearance. An alcove for the buffet proves an interesting diversion from the ordinary design. Fullerton windows throughout the home and an electrically controlled gas heating system tend to give the utmost in ventilation and heating convenience.

All woodwork in the principal rooms of the house is of extra grade imported mahogany.

LIONS HEAR TALK ON CHEST BENEFITS

Questions designed to test the knowledge of certain members as to details of the Community Chest drive, and craft talks by four men, who recently have been admitted to membership, featured a program arranged by Program Chairman Warren Hilyard, county surveyor, at the meeting yesterday of the Lions club.

G. K. Rogers, manager of the Santa Ana store of the Western Auto Supply company; A. G. Tucker, county manager for the Richfield Oil company; the Rev. J. H. Hughes, director of religious education for the First Methodist church here, and C. H. Van Antwerp, owner and manager of Antwerp's, were the "quads" who related some interesting points regarding their respective lines of endeavor.

O. H. Barr, president and manager of the Barr Lumber company, was the program speaker. Barr spoke briefly on the chest drive, and pointed out that the participating organizations were, in effect, insurance against crime and defects and at the same time insurance of care and assistance for orphaned and chipped children.

ORANGE ARTISTS TO PARTICIPATE IN L. B. PROGRAM

ORANGE, Nov. 19.—The radio broadcast Monday night over station KFON at Long Beach of Orange county American Legion Auxiliary units will include several numbers from Orange, it was announced this morning by Mrs. Nello Ragan, president, following the completion of the program by the county chairman, Mrs. Vernon Shippee.

The period from 9 to 11 o'clock will be given over to the program. Joe Kozina, de luxe band leader of Villa Park, will head the list of artists who will represent the Orange unit. He will strum "Southern Melodies" and "Songs for Old Folks" as his feature numbers. An incidental number, the title of which was not announced, will conclude his performance. Miss Melba Fletcher, vocalist, will sing "A Cottage Small by a Water Fall" and "In the Garden of My Heart". She will be accompanied by Mrs. May Burkett at the piano.

The program was arranged through the efforts of Mrs. Bertha Chase Dobbin, of Long Beach, who is the department publicity chairman for the American Legion auxiliary, and Mrs. Vernon Shippee and Mrs. Nello Ragan, officials of the Orange county and the Orange city units.

ORANA ACQUIRES 'CITY MARSHAL'

ORANGE, Nov. 19.—Joe Johnson, Orange's picturesque dog catcher, has annexed another title. It is that of city marshal of Orana. Although Orana isn't a city and therefore cannot have an official city marshal, Johnson has annexed the honorary title by becoming night watchman for the Murphy playhouse, which is Orana's leading business house.

Johnson has been quite successful as the official dog catcher for Orana. Predictions made by city officials that the office would become little more than a name after the first two or three weeks of enforcement of the newly created dog license ordinance have been upset by Johnson, who catches from four to six dogs every day.

Very few of the canines have to be destroyed, says Johnson. Those which are picked up without tags and are not claimed by their owners, readily find good homes, he states.

Stories of Johnson's ability with a lariat, said to have been acquired while a cowboy in Oklahoma, are rather exaggerated, according to Johnson.

True, Johnson formerly roped cows, but not in Oklahoma. He gained his cow punching experience in Texas. Also, his roping ability cannot be given credit for catching local dogs. The "rope" which he uses on stray hounds in Orange is merely a window cord.

However, Johnson intends to continue "roping" the canines in Orange during the day and to keep an eye peeled for trespassers on the property of Murphy's Comedians in Orana at night.

Attractive Orange Dwelling Occupied

ORANGE, Nov. 19.—What is said to be one of the most comfortable and most complete homes in Orange was occupied by D. C. Drake yesterday. Drake aimed for a house to satisfy his every desire when he designed his new seven room bungalow. It is located at 222 North Pine street.

The exterior is carried out along the Spanish mission line. Red tile was used for the roof. Lined colored stucco was used for the outside finish.

An entry vestibule, found in early day homes, has been revived. An extra large hallway running the entire length of the house lends to comfort and pleasing appearance. An alcove for the buffet proves an interesting diversion from the ordinary design. Fullerton windows throughout the home and an electrically controlled gas heating system tend to give the utmost in ventilation and heating convenience.

All woodwork in the principal rooms of the house is of extra grade imported mahogany.

An extra large basement, double garage and chicken house are fitted out with every conceivable convenience to allow Drake and his family the utmost enjoyment and a minimum of inconvenience.

Inventor of the I-ON-A-CO

The I-ON-A-CO is a simple magnetic device. It is attached to an electric light socket and placed about the wrist or shoulder without removing the clothes. There is no shock or discomfort. On the contrary, the experience is delightful.

Has I-ON-A-CO Revolutionized Medical Science?

By GAYLORD WILSHIRE

IN the treatment of disease, the I-ON-A-CO has produced results which are nothing short of amazing. In some instances, it has given relief almost instantaneously. It has undoubtedly revolutionized former methods of healing. Yet this must not be construed that the I-ON-A-CO upsets all scientific precedent, nor that the treatment was evolved overnight.

PROVEN PRINCIPLE

The basic principle underlying the I-ON-A-CO is no new, unproven theory. It is a fact which medical science has known for years—namely, that most forms of ill-health are caused by toxemia. And toxemia simply means an accumulation of dead cells in the body. When the oxygen, carried by the blood, does not unite with these dead cells, they cannot be eliminated. They remain in the body and become highly poisonous.

IRON AND OXYGEN

Added to this fact is another fact recently discovered by the German biologist, Professor Otto Warburg, and demonstrated by him before the Rockefeller Institute. He proved that it is the iron in our chemical make-up which acts as a catalyst between the oxygen and the cells. That is, the iron causes the oxygen to unite with the cells. Hence, by magnetizing the iron, its value as a catalyst is increased, and there is a corresponding increase in the oxidation of dead cells.

INSTANTANEOUS RESULTS

This, then, explains the seemingly miraculous effects of the I-ON-A-CO. Through magnetization the dead cells are oxidized, then quickly eliminated. And with the source of disease thus removed, health returns.

SEE FOR YOURSELF

There is nothing mysterious about the I-ON-A-CO. It is a simple, natural, delightful treatment. You can visit the Wilshire I-ON-A-CO office and see its amazing results with your own eyes. You can try it yourself, absolutely without charge, and judge by your own experience. Come in today. Make this delightful 10-minute test. Surely a return to health is worth it. If you cannot call, send for our booklet giving details about this new method of drugless healing which is used right in your home. The coupon brings a free copy. Mail it today. If you prefer we will gladly send a representative to give you a Free Demonstration in your own home.

Countless girls and women now know how foolish and needless it is to "purge" and "physic" themselves to avoid sick headache, dizziness, biliousness, sallow skin, colds, or sour, gassy stomach.

They have found that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin helps to establish natural bowel "regularity" even for these heretofore chronically constipated. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin not only causes a gentle, easy bowel movement but, best of all, it never gripes, sickens or upsets the most delicate girl or woman. Besides, it is absolutely harmless and so pleasant that even a cross, feverish, bilious, sick child gladly takes it. Buy a large 60-cent bottle at any store that sells medicine or write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, for a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE and just see for yourself.

Actors Once Kids In S. A. SCREEN STARS ATTENDED SAME SCHOOL Set No Histrionic Goals

SEE-SAWING Up and Down FOURTH STREET

By The Rambler

Santa Ana is tremendously proud of those persons who leap its boundaries to win name and fame in the American whirl. The oldsters look with not a little fear on the younger generations in whom they see a breaking down of old customs and traditions and tastes and ways but let these youngsters go forth to win and the whole city turns out to cheer.

Names of men and women of national significance have, at times, been associated with the comings and goings of the town and we will make them a subject of discussion in this nondescript column sometime.

There are those who have emigrated from here and achieved wide recognition in various pursuits like Glenn Martin, the one-time automobile salesman of Santa Ana, whom some termed as "just a darn young fool who will break his neck some of these days" when he began experimenting with crude flying machines down on what was known as the Polytechnic school tract. Now, Martin is so widely recognized as an expert in his line that he need not open his mouth to talk and the whole country pauses to listen.

It is not about these we shall write this Friday. There are others who spent some of their toddling days in Santa Ana and who may have been forgotten as one-time Santa Anans in the rush of time who are worth a story.

No less than four, present or recent celebrities of the motion picture world, once trudged along our sidewalks to the same schoolhouse, played in the same games and went to kid parties together. It is probable that, on certain occasions, they may have even "acted" together; that is, they may have posed as cowboys and pirates and sheriffs and motormen because children the world over invent games to suit their own peculiar fancy.

But it is not on record that they dreamed dreams of some day becoming real actors or of entertaining thousands of folk back in the "sticks" with their antics on the screen.

Thus, another good Sunday magazine section story has gone to wrack and ruin.

Be that as it may, Wade Boteler, now a right-hand man of Douglas MacLean, was once a little red-headed imp who was known to the residents in the vicinity of North Broadway and Tenth street as anything but a potential moving picture celebrity.

Mary Brooks, a pretty little thing with a flock of black curls, never gave promise of being a screen star until Santa Ana saw her, years later, in Westerns as Ann Little.

Roscoe Arbuckle was just a pudgy, round-faced, mischievous lad who used to go to Central school and nobody thought much about him until he became a screen comedian of note.

Robert McKim was a Santa Anan, too, but it is doubtful if he ever seriously considered "villain" roles when he used to screw up his face and holler "Hold up them thar hands" at North Main street home thieves, products of an imaginative young mind.

Al St. John, the acrobatic-comedian, is a Santa Ana also, in the true sense of the word, for it is a matter of record that he first saw the light of day in the Rossmore hotel, where his parents lived for a time.

by Fullerton Rebekah lodge, Wednesday night, were Mesdames Blackmore, Stoddard, Kerr, Keene, Lackey and Miss Margaret Lackey.

J. G. Crooke, local scout master, accompanied by J. R. Collins, attended the regular monthly meeting of the county Boy Scouts organization at Santa Ana Monday night.

Mrs. D. F. Richardson has been brought home from the Murphy Memorial hospital, of Whittier. She is recovering from a major operation.

Hostesses for the American Legion card party to be held in Legion hall tonight are Mrs. Sandman, chairman; Mrs. Rudd and Mrs. Rogers.

Revival services at the Nazarene church have been somewhat handicapped because of the illness of the Rev. Fugett, who has been confined to his room with influenza.

The Rev. H. N. Dickerson, of Ashland, Ky., and a friend of the Rev. Fugett, has been secured to continue the services which are held every evening and both morning and evening on Sunday.

Arriving in Brea recently from New Salem, W. Va., Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Burdick and two daughters are visiting with relatives. They expect to make California their home.

Miss Rose Apel, who has been visiting her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Hilgenfeld, has returned to her home in Oakland. Miss Esther Sohl, also a guest in the Hilgenfeld home for several days, has returned to her home in Glendale.

Several Brea members of the 40 and 8, together with their wives and friends attended the annual reception and dance given by that organization at Santa Ana Wednesday night.

The new Balkite "B" at $27.50 and the Balkite Trickle Charger furnish all radio power from the light socket

The New Balkite Charger
MODEL J. A low trickle charge rate and a high rate for rapid charging and heavy duty use. Can thus be used either as a trickle or as a high rate charger and combines their advantages. Noiseless. Large water capacity. Visible electrolyte level. Rates with 6-volt battery, 2.5 and 5 amperes; with 4-volt battery, 8 and 2 amperes. Special model for 25-40 cycles. Price $20.

Balkite Combination
Supplies automatic power to both "A" and "B" circuits. Controlled by the filament switch already on your set. Entirely automatic in operation. Serves any set now using either 4 or 6-volt "A" batteries and requiring not more than 30 milliamperes at 135 volts of "B" current—practically all sets of up to 8 tubes. Price $59.50.

All Balkite Radio Power Units operate from 110-120 volts AC current with models for both 60 and 50 cycles. The new Balkite Charger is also made in a special model for 25-40 cycles.

The light socket is your most convenient source of radio power. Use it by adding the new Balkite "B" and Balkite Trickle Charger to your radio set. Balkite "B"—the unique "B" power supply—eliminates "B" batteries entirely and supplies "B" current from the light socket. The new Balkite "B"-W at $27.50 serves any set of 5 tubes or less requiring 67 to 90 volts; Balkite "B"-X at $42 sets of up to 135 volts and 8 tubes; Balkite "B"-Y at $69 any standard set.

The Balkite Trickle Charger at $10.50 is probably the most popular of all chargers. It can be left permanently connected to the light socket, thus automatically keeping the battery at full charge. In effect it converts your "A" battery into a light socket "A" power supply.

Both Balkite "B" and the Balkite Trickle Charger are noiseless in operation. Both are permanent pieces of equipment, with nothing to renew or replace. Over 650,000 radio sets are already Balkite equipped. Make yours a light socket receiver too by adding these Balkite Units. Fansteel Products Co., Inc., North Chicago, Ill.

A FALL?

Think back through your life. Did you ever slip, fall, tumble, strain or bump yourself? Is one shoulder higher than the other? Is one leg longer than the other? Can you see any connection between these falls or injuries you may have had and any present sickness or weakness that you now have? Think and think hard before you say no, because nine hundred and ninety-nine times of a thousand there is a direct connection between your old falls and injuries and your present condition of sickness or trouble.

Why do you always try to protect your head when you fall? The seat of life is there. How does this life get out of the head into the body? Through the bones in the spine. To absorb all shocks to the brain and nervous system from falls or injuries. It is for this reason all falls or other external concussions of force have a direct bearing on your health. The falls destroy the small cartilage cushions in the spine, throw the small segments of bone out of alignment causing a direct pressure on the nerves that carry life to the many parts of your body. Weakness of this kind if not corrected brings on sickness or disease, while on the other hand if these troubles are corrected sickness or disease disappear.

If you are sick we can prove by the X-Ray that your spine is out of alignment, and if given the opportunity will gladly show you how this takes place. As we have made an intensive study of the spine and nervous system, we realize the great importance of keeping the segments of your spine in proper position. Our work is not painful to you in any way. We do not twist your neck, pull your arms or legs or use hammers. We use only our hands on your spine. This is not a clinic. Each patient is given individual attention. No students to work on you. Only the best Palmer Chiropractors. If you are not well, consult us. It costs you nothing.

Once Immodest

Sea bathing for pleasure may be said to have been popularized by Dr. Russell of England about 1770 although for thirty or forty years previously a few brave souls had made a custom of splashing about in the waves. Soon sea bathing was all the rage and Margate became the first fashionable seaside resort. Out of respect for the modesty of "refined ladies," says the American Review of Reviews, "a Quaker named Benjamin Beale invented a bathing machine with an awning over the back so that the blushing bathers were concealed even while entering and leaving the wagon."

The Germans were the first on the continent to get the seaside habit, and by 1812 the craze began in France. At Dieppe, one bathed in a basket, secure against the waves and tides. But not until the adventurous little duchesse de Berry actually learned to swim in 1824-5 were the fashionables of France really won. She was always attended by the director of the beach, an elegant person clad in evening dress and white gloves, who took her by the finger and walked with her a little way into the water, when a loud gun went off announcing to those on the beach that her royal highness was really in.

In order to post their fair readers on the new pastime, the Journal des Dames and Des Modes writes at about this date: "In sea bathing you sit or stand on the shore, taking care that someone holds you from behind by the hands, lest the wave in receding carry you with it. An excellent precaution is to wear a woollen shift. This will not reveal the form, and with it on you can take a sea bath in presence of seamen and other curious observers."

Belgium will produce 25,000,000 tons of coal this year, breaking all records.

THE ROMANCE OF AMERICA: Roger Williams

Sketches by Redner
Synopsis by Braucher

Roger Williams

Roger Williams, "apostle of religious toleration," was born in England. Authorities differ on the date and place of his birth, but it has been fairly well established that he was the son of a London merchant tailor, and was born between 1599 and 1607.

At about 14 young Williams used to frequent the Star Chamber, a noted London court. There he met Sir Edward Coke.

Sir Edward Coke placed the youth in the Charter House School, and in 1624 Roger entered Pembroke College, Cambridge.

After studying law a short time, young Williams took to theology and aligned himself with the radical Puritans. He vigorously advocated freedom of conscience, and persistently attacked liturgies and ceremonies of the English church. In 1630, he and his wife, Mary, embarked for America. (Continued.)

Just Folks by Edgar A. Guest

TEMPTATIONS OF YOUTH

Now wandering with Caesar through the various fields of Gaul And fighting with the Romans doesn't interest him at all, For who would follow Caesar in some ancient time affair When the Tunney-Dempsey prize fight is being shouted on the air?

They give the youngster homework as one-time they gave it me, He's supposed to find the value of 3x plus 2y, But an algebraic problem is a trifle stale and flat When Alexander's pitching 'and Babe Ruth is at the bat.

I may tell him that I studied through the winter evenings long, That I proved my tough examples till I knew that none was wrong, But when I was reading Caesar by the lamplight's mellow glow The room was always quiet, for we had no radio.

Now the nights are filled with music, and the air is full of song, There's a prize fight in the parlor, you can hear the ringside gong, You can hear the crowds applauding as the battle is begun, And I wonder that a youngster ever gets his homework done.

BEAUTY CHATS

POLISHED NAILS

If you are very busy, and haven't time to keep your hands in the artificial perfection modern fashion demands, you can save many minutes by using liquid tinted polishes. I recommend them only for the very busy women, properly used I think they're harmless, though I don't think they do any special good. Badly put on, they are harmful, but that's true of many other beauty aids. It takes five minutes a week to remove old polish and apply new, and it must be done weekly or the polish peels and turns brown.

Ordinary polishing with a buffer and powder or paste takes ten minutes with the weekly manicure, and about four or five minutes every day. But the friction of the buffer is so good for the nails, that I'd like to recommend this to every woman who can take the time.

Nails show neglect at once. But as they are renewed several times a year, you can see how quickly their whole character can be changed by proper care. Their shape can be improved by using the orange wood stick every day to mould them, their quality is enormously improved by the invigorating polishing with a chamomile covered buffer. Dryness and brittleness are stopped by rubbing the nails with grease of some sort every day, ridges disappear by the combination of cream and good care, particularly by polishing which brings the blood up to them and feeds them, just as massage feeds and invigorates the skin. The polishing powder or paste cannot harm them, any more than polishing powder hurts a fine piece of gold plate when it is being polished. Besides, it is washed off, and the nails rubbed with a clean buffer afterwards.

V. W. X.—Your measurements appear to be all right and in no way so out of proportion as to worry you about your figure. With a height of five feet, five inches and 120 pounds, your figure must be youthful just as it should be for a girl at 23 years of age. It is not unusual that one side of the body is larger than the other side.

NEW DISEASE DISCOVERED

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

Dr. George Draper, a professor of clinical medicine at Columbia University, renowned for his research work abroad and at home, and author of many articles and two books, says there is a new disease among children that he calls "spirit crippling."

To its doors he lays the increase in juvenile crime and other shortcomings known to those in close touch with the newest generation, bad behavior, anti-social attitudes, and so forth.

He blames the thorny path that leads from the nursery to the college degree, for breaking down unique personality, that fragile heritage of every human being. He compares the process of preparing for college and compelling boys and girls to jump the hurdles of entrance examinations, to the custom of strapping the feet of Chinese women. The educational effort uses its powers all in one direction, that of preparing for the school ahead—the small school for the boarding school, and the boarding school for the college or university.

"This process retards the natural development of the boy or girl in any other direction," says Dr. Draper, "and it is a biological truth that the process of growth or development whether it be of the foot or the soul of man, cannot be restricted with impunity."

It seems then that during adolescence the problem of child welfare should not be pedagogical, but biological and psychological. In other words, parents lay too much stress upon school and education, and too little stress upon other things.

I know a girl whose parents were so intent upon her "doing them credit" and getting into a certain big college that months before her college examinations she was almost a nervous wreck. She was made to feel that they would never get over the disgrace if she failed.

There is a great variety of schools. Some are "harder" than others. All children cannot "make" the same college, but parents do not seem to understand this. They try to force a boy or girl along until they get into a certain college because it has standing. It is the parents who are to blame. Half the time they know nothing about the standard their child is trying to reach.

They are surprised if his health breaks and they are more surprised if constant strain and suppression show itself by the spiritual paralysis Dr. Draper has brought to

THE TINYMITES

BY HAL COCHRAN

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The Tinymites rose with the dawn, and shortly found the food was gone that they had left the night before upon the little cart. Said Copy, "Gee, that's mighty mean," on seeing all the plates licked clean. "I'd planned a lovely breakfast and it nearly breaks my heart."

Then Scouty said, "Why make a fuss? I guess that's what was due for us. We were the first to steal the food, so why should we complain? Someone has turned the same old trick on us and turned it mighty slick. It ought to teach us all that we should never steal again."

Well, anyway, the food was shy, so Ukey said, "We'd better try to plan another breakfast with whatever can be found. Let's hike to yonder field of corn. It does no good to sit and mourn. There'll be no harm if we just eat what's lying on the ground."

So off they ran, and ate their fill and sat and loafed in peace until they heard some hoisterous laughter in a tree not far away. "Ha, ha, ho, ho," the laughter came. "You're eating corn? Well, that's a shame," and they knew 'twas Clowny and they whole band yelled "hurray!"

The Tinymites rushed up in glee, and looked up in the maple tree. "Come on and join me," Clowny said. "This tree's a cinch to scale. It seems I've been away for a year. My story you'll be glad to hear." So they all climbed up in the tree to listen to his tale.

Then Clowny had a heap of fun in telling of the things he'd done since Mister Farmer'd taken him away from all the band. "And weren't you scared?" wee Ukey said, and Clowny merely shook his head. "Why should I be? The trip I had was really very grand."

Queer Quirks of NATURE.

A GOOD MEMBER OF A BAD FAMILY

Red Shouldered Hawk

By ARTHUR N. PACK
President, American Nature Ass'n

It is the present custom to regard all hawks as destructive, and birds to be destroyed whenever possible. This practice is founded mainly on prejudice, based on the fact that a few of the species live mainly on smaller birds.

General condemnation of hawks is unjust. A few hawks are destructive; some have habits that are mainly beneficial, and some are entirely friendly to man, from their constant destruction of man's rodent enemies. All species are interesting in many ways.

Among the more interesting and beneficial species, the red-shouldered hawk stands high in the list. He should be called a singing hawk, especially in the nesting season, for singing is then his most characteristic attribute. It is his custom to return each spring to the scene of his last year's nesting, usually some grove of lofty trees commanding a fruitful hunting ground.

His wooing is no commonplace affair. High in the air he circles, uttering his screaming notes, some of which are so like those of the bluejay that the less discerning of that tribe must often be deceived.

Suddenly he swoops toward earth, now varying his repertoire with a melody of music. Again he mounts and circles and dives and suddenly perches beside the home of last year, his wings a-flutter, his throat tremulous with his serenade. What lady could resist such art?

Fletcher's CASTORIA

The Young Mother.

The ills of infants and children should be so well known to the youngest of mothers that a reminder or a repetition of the symptoms of illness seems unnecessary, yet there are some mothers who overlook a feverish condition, a little colic, or a disposition to be irritable. If not corrected they may lead to serious sickness. And to correct them, to bring Baby back to its happy self, is so easy by the use of Castoria—a medicine prepared just for infants and children. It will regulate the bowels (not force them), aid digestion and so bring quiet and rest.

Fletcher's Castoria has been doing this for over 30 years; regulating the stomach and bowels of infants and children. It has replaced the nauseating Castor Oil, so-called Soothing Syrup, poisonous Paregoric and other vicious concoctions in the homes of true and honest mothers—mothers who love their children.

Those mothers will give their babies foods and medicines especially prepared for infants and children.

To avoid imitations always look for the signature of Wm. L. Fletcher. Proven directions on each package. Physicians everywhere recommend it.

Mussolini, the lion-hearted—

People in Italy began to whisper: "Mussolini's enemies are too strong for him. He will surely be destroyed."

But enemies did not daunt Mussolini. And to show the Italian people that he had courage and to spare, he strolled into the lion's cage at the Zoo in Rome and had himself photographed patting one of the lions on the head.

The advertisement succeeded. All Italy exclaimed: "Let Mussolini's enemies beware. He has the heart of a lion."

Mussolini was able to advertise his courage in this way only because he had courage. That is the basis of all advertising. Anyone who advertises must have goods that will stand inspection.

Advertisements speak tested truths. Read them. You can act upon them with assurance.

Only true qualities can stand the test of publicity

Cardinals, Bears In 'Big Game' Tomorrow

WET FIELD MAY SLOW WARNER'S GREAT MACHINE

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 19.—Far western gridiron will seethe with color and thrills tomorrow as waning November draws the season toward a close. The week end will see three conference battles. The "big game" at Berkeley between Stanford and California, because of tradition, is commanding major interest. But the Oregon-Oregon Aggies clash at Corvallis, for state honors, is a "big game" for the northwest. The Idaho Vandals make their California premier for 1926 at Los Angeles against U. S. C.

It will be the thirty-third running of the Berkeley classic and tomorrow's game should break an all-time tie. Both Stanford and California have won 13 games of the 32 meetings, while six were tied.

It was back in 1892, when coast football was in its infancy, that these two schools, their student bodies numbering only a handful instead of thousands as today, first met on the gridiron.

Tomorrow fully 30,000 enthusiasts will witness the big game spectacle and it is safe to say about 100,000 more would if they could purloin tickets. Such has been progress of football on the coast. Stanford has driven every team it has met this season before her. The Cardinals are one of the very few teams in the country undefeated. On the other hand California has failed to win single conference game.

While everything points to a slaughter, the Golden Bears by getting all the breaks, by their traditional fighting spirit, by forgetting about straight football and resorting to every trick known to them, might possibly eke out a victory.

The weather element may prove in their favor. Heavy rains fell last night and today and rain tomorrow would slow the great Cardinal offensive.

Both teams would rather defeat each other than win a coast title, so any way you figure it it should be a great spectacle.

HE'S SUPERSTITIOUS

HARRY WILSON

"Red" Grange had his 77. Harry Wilson of West Point is just as strong for No. 10. Some college football stars have in the past attracted attention by claiming No. 13 as their lucky charm. On most squads, however, the numbers 13 and 23 are omitted when assignments are made. In most cases, the players themselves simply take the number given them and let it go at that.

Harry Wilson, sensational Army halfback and former Penn State luminary—who, by the way, in 1923 did just about everything for Penn State that "Red" Grange did for Illinois in 1925—has his own ideas about the number business. He has stuck to the same digits for six straight years!

As a sophomore halfback at Penn State, he was not showing too much advantage when the numbers were given out early in the fall. But about mid-season he substituted at halfback in the game with Harvard and made his debut to the intercollegiate gridiron with a 60-yard dash through the Crimson team. He figured prominently in that sensational 21-21 tie game.

When he entered that game he wore No. 10 on his back, this being the jersey of an injured player. Wilson's own number had been down in the thirties somewhere and had not been attached to a jersey. He continued to wear No. 10 with great success, and in 1922 and 1923, when he was at his best, No. 10 brought agony to the heart of many an opposing cheering section.

His career at Penn State ended, Wilson accepted an appointment to West Point and for the past three years he has been a "galloping ghost" on the Army eleven.

During those same three seasons No. 10 has continued to adorn his broad back. What is more, he even insists on having No. 10 on his basketball and lacrosse jerseys. There may be nothing in numbers, but you can't prove it by Wilson.

'SPEEDY' FAIRCHILDS RACES 50 AND 35 YARDS TO SCORES AS POLY B'S BEAT ALHAMBRA

Little Clarence ("Speedy") Fairchild, halfback, lived up to his reputation when he broke away and raced for two touchdowns that enabled the Santa Ana high school Class B (130-pound) team to win, 12 to 6, over the Alhambra Moors in a game played on the Poly auxiliary football field yesterday afternoon.

Santa Ana completely outplayed the visitors during the first half when the two winning touchdowns were made. About the middle of the first quarter, Fairchild twisted through the center of the Alhambra line, dodged the secondary and sped 50 yards to the goal. Captain Hillgass failed to convert. Again in the first quarter, Santa Ana threatened when the ball was taken to the Alhambra 15-yard line in bucks and runs by Beatty, Manderschied and Hillgass. Alhambra, however, held.

The second score was made by Fairchild in returning a punt 35 yards to a touchdown. Good interference was given Fairchild. Alhambra scored in the closing minutes. Captain Maynard Mohler, quarterback, snatched a pass to the Santa Ana goal. Smith, Santa Ana halfback, made a flying tackle for him but the Moor interference protected Mohler. Bud White, Santa Ana end, blocked Mohler's try for goal.

Legion to Sponsor Basketball Games

ORANGE, Nov. 19.—Decision to sponsor a city basketball league of six teams was made by the local post of the American Legion at its meeting here last night. Lynn Wallace, manager of the Legion team, was delegated to handle the business end of the venture.

A free lance team from Santa Ana, the Concordia club, Mueller's Drug company and the Legion teams have indicated their intention of joining. The local De Molay lodge may also enter a team, it was announced.

The Orange County Harbor league's only undefeated teams—the Republic Supply company of Huntington Beach and the Laguna Beach Lumber company of Laguna Beach—hook up Sunday afternoon in a game that may go a long way in determining the 1926 championship of the winter baseball circuit. The contest will be played at Huntington Beach.

Joe Rodgers' Seaside trounced the Tiernan Typewriters of Santa Ana, Westminster and the Union Oilers of Huntington Beach in successive weeks and have won their last eight starts. Laguna Beach began its league season by tying Westminster but has beaten Orange and the Tiernans since.

George Lackaye's Tiernans, capable of playing better baseball than they have shown to date, tackle the rejuvenated Orange Merchants, now under the leadership of Charley Bustillos, at Irvine park.

The Union Oil company travels to Midway City to face Westminster, another club that has not been going as well as it should.

Poly is definitely out of the championship picture, Long Beach apparently having a clear call to the title, but the locals are determined to make a fast finish and wind up somewhere near the top of the heap. Victories over Alhambra and San Diego, the latter school to be met here a week from tomorrow, will land Santa Ana in the first division.

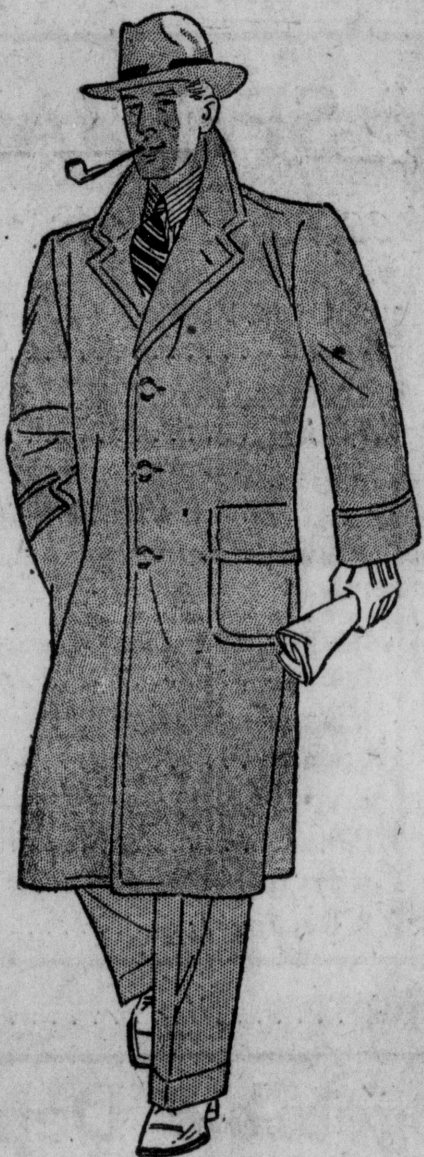

Alhambra Powerful
Alhambra, however, has one of the most powerful elevens in its history, only a couple of early season defeats preventing it from making a great fight for the championship. The Moors have been going great guns in the past three weeks, having knocked off Whittier, Pasadena and Glendale by decisive scores, and they will enter tomorrow's activity top-heavy favorites to upset Oliver's machine.

Oliver announced today he would start John Casey and John Gallagher, a pair of scrappy Irishmen, at guards in place of Frank Wurster and Bill Dotts. Casey, the best linesman on the squad, has been on the shelf ever since the contest with Long Beach in which he suffered a dislocated elbow. Gallagher has shown so much ability in his recent trials that he has earned the honor of starting.

Oliver Names Lineup
Capt. Dean Miller and Charles Ehrhorn will play the tackle positions and the crack Poly ends, Jack Blakeney and Francis Harvey, are certain to be in their at the opening whistle.

Oliver is still somewhat undecided as to whom he will use in the backfield but it is understood that Stanley Norton will play quarter, Ralph Selway and "Bono" Koral the halves, and "Venus" Harvey full. There is a possibility that Olsen may start instead of Harvey in order that the plunging Poly fullback may

EXPERTS AGREE ON SATURDAY'S GAME RESULTSBy HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Prices quoted by the betting commission in the financial district where those with luck at picking can make almost as much money these days off football as off the stock ticker, reflected today the even division of opinion on most of the big games scheduled for tomorrow.

With the exception of a few games, the tendency seemed to be to let the other fellow do the picking and bet that he is wrong. So far this season it has proved to be a good system.

It is the only system for the professional, where the prices are close as those who make their living betting know that college football is played on its merit and that luck is the factor when two evenly matched teams meet.

Western Games Interesting
The western games will hold the bulk of interest for the day both for a financial and technical standpoint.

New Yorkers, with the first chance in years to demonstrate civic interest in a team, were taking even money that the undefeated New York university, the youngest, but one of the best teams in the west, would win from Nebraska at Lincoln.

Eight to five and a little better was offered that Michigan would beat Minnesota and that Northwestern would beat Iowa.

Ohio State was a six to five favorite to win from Illinois and Wisconsin was a seven to five favorite to beat Chicago.

Notre Dame's team work in winning from the Army here last week made Rockne's team a three to one favorite to beat Drake, as Drake didn't make much of a showing against Navy earlier in the season.

Stanford Heavy Favorite
Stanford was a nine to five favorite to win from California and the odds would have been higher on the comparative records all season if it was not taken into consideration that form doesn't count everything in these old family battles.

Most of the southern and eastern teams will be out of action for the day, getting ready for Thanksgiving day games.

The defenders of the game, who made so much criticism of "over emphasis" a year ago will complain about the tendency to manifest interest in the game by betting but it is being done and it always has been done and it is one real way to get a kick out of judgment in rating the class of teams.

There may be scandals in handling tickets—as some congressmen see reasons for deploring about the Chicago situation—but friendly betting never will hurt the game.

HOCKEY CHAMPS WIN
NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The Montreal Maroons, ice hockey champions, defeated the New York Americans, 2 to 0, at Madison Square garden last night.

MORGAN VS. DUANE
NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Tod Morgan, junior lightweight champion, will meet Carl Duane in a 15-round title bout at Madison Square garden tonight.

Country Club Dinner
Is Tonight

Members of the Santa Ana Country club will meet at 6:30 o'clock tonight for dinner and a stag smoker in the clubhouse on Newport boulevard.

The object of this and other smokers, according to President H. B. Van Dien, is to promote acquaintanceship between members.

OXY STARS IN SHAPE TO PLAY AGAINST HENS

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 19.—Solly

Mishkin and Captain Vic Conde, Occidental stars, injured in scrimmages this week, will be able to start against Pomona tomorrow in the annual tangle between those rivals at Eagle Rock, it became known today.

With Mishkin and Conde in the lineup Coach Exendine will be able to start his strongest eleven and the Tigers and Sagehens will go into battle on practically even terms.

The Southern Branch-Caltech game will probably develop into an aerial exhibition before the contest is many months old.

"Fox" Stanton's charges have been using the forward to advantage all year proving particularly efficient in their win over Occidental.

Bill Spaulding's Bruins have been developing a couple of air plays for the particular benefit of the Caltech entry.

The Pomona Occidental and Southern Branch-Caltech games will mark the close of the Southern Pacific conference schedule and the race winner will be decided by the result of those contests.

A victory will clinch the championship for Pomona but the Bruins can win the title if they defeat Caltech and Pomona losses to Occidental.

FIGHTING CHAMPION

In the death of Harry Greb the fistic sport lost its only fighting champion. Greb was of the old

It has always been an accepted belief in the sport world that a champion should have no fear of 95 per cent of the men able to make his weight.

As a matter of fact, in the old days, it was not at all uncommon for champions to go out of their class, when worthwhile competition dwindled among the men of their own weight.

Attell, McGovern, Fitzsimmons and Ketchel were fighters of that type. To my way of thinking I never saw a more interesting fighter to watch than Stanley Ketchel.

COLORFUL KETCHEL

"Any fighter I can hit on the button, I can whip," Ketchel once told me. That was just before he met Jack Johnson. When I questioned him as to chances if such a bout was arranged, he simply answered:

"Well, I am positive that I can hit Johnson. All I need to do is crack the right spot."

Johnson, a great fighter, then at the top of his game, panther-like in his movements, was a fleeting target. Many of the experts didn't give Ketchel much of a chance to hit him.

Ketchel did reach Johnson in that fight, scoring a clean knock-down. However, it was that knock-down that caused his defeat. Having sublime confidence in his punching powers and encouraged by the knockdown, Ketchel threw science to the winds and started slugging, feeling he had Johnson on the verge of a knockout.

Wide open, he was made to order for Johnson, a master sharp-shooter, and a few rounds later paid

the penalty for that one punch.

BUSINESS FIGHTERS

The fighters of today are business men rather than fighting champions. Nowadays the winning of a title calls for a cessation of ring activities. The champion seeks to capitalize on the prestige that goes with a title.

First comes a vaudeville tour, in which the champion rather dumbly tells how he won his fistic honors.

He may also box three one-minute rounds with pillow-like gloves.

Second comes a movie contract and then follows the lift story of the champ. All champions must become literary at some time in their career.

GREB'S POLICY

Dempsey spent three years in idleness while Tunney was being built up for him, and can charge

his defeat to that long layoff.

Tunney's plans call for practically a year's rest before he engages in another bout involving the championship.

Greb believed a champion should defend his title any time a logical contender presented himself, and religiously adhered to his belief.

The ring could well stand a few more fighting champions after the style of Stanley Ketchel and Harry

Greb.

PRINCETON'S BREAK WITH HARVARD

Princeton's break with Harvard

will be generally applauded by the sport world. Even Harvard alumni and undergraduates seem to approve Princeton's stand.

For five years Harvard has been threatening to erase Princeton from its football schedule. Princeton, tired of these threats, no doubt, beat Harvard to it.

Since the resumption of athletics between the two teams at the close of the World war, Harvard has been very unsuccessful in its clashes with Princeton.

Starting with 1913, the Crimson has been able to win only one game out of eight from the Tiger.

Two of the games ended in ties, while Princeton was victorious in the remaining five.

Such a poor showing unquestion-ably has nettled Harvard.

with Santa Ana just one step out of the cellar, the basketball outlook in the Southern California junior

MONEY NEEDED FOR CARE OF WAR VETERANS

By ED. McFADDEN
Chairman, Veterans' Welfare Committee.

Listed among organizations participating in the Community Chest of Santa Ana and Tustin is the Veterans' Welfare association. This organization is charged with the duty of extending assistance to veterans of any war who may be in need of help. Contrary to general belief, its relief activities are not limited to World war veterans and their dependents, but extended to veterans of all wars and their families. For this reason, a Civil war veteran, or one who served in the Spanish-American war, is given the same consideration as the man who saw service in the World war.

Have Claim on Gratitude
Another erroneous belief entertained by the general public and often advanced as an excuse for not giving, is that all needy World war veterans are amply being cared for by the government. Only the committee in charge of this work knows better. Because of unforeseen circumstances, for which neither the government nor the individual veteran is to blame, there are many war veterans who are badly in need of temporary assistance. All of them have rendered a service that hardly can be measured in dollars and cents, hence they have a claim on the gratitude of the nation.

A man is taken sick—maybe suffering from after-effects of wounds, exposure, etc. There is no pay check; his wife and babies must have food and other necessities.

Look After Dependents
Another war veteran is in bed with tuberculosis—the result of being gassed. He must be given a ticket to a government hospital. If he has dependents, some one must look after them. Or, a man may be on his way to Camp Kearney hospital, but lacks funds to get there.

Last year the greater portion of the Veterans' Welfare fund was used to build billet homes for Orange county war orphans. This work must be done and there should be sufficient funds to do it with.

AGITATION FOR EXTRA SESSION HELD PROBABLE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—A systematized agitation to force an extra session of the new congress after March 4 is being undertaken here, although the chances today seem to be against the session.

In anticipation that much important legislation will not be touched in the coming short session in December, farm bloc members and some others are beginning to plan to compel President Coolidge to summon the new congress in extra session.

Two very different courses of action lay open to agitators:

1.—A determined filibuster, which would tie up enough appropriation bills to require Mr. Coolidge to call an extra session, so government departments could be supplied with funds for operation.

2.—Continued agitation to arouse public demand for the extra session, so Mr. Coolidge would be induced to change his mind.

Filibusters are the final resort of statesmen, willing to sacrifice their careers on tying up all legislation. It is not being done very often nowadays. Furthermore, the proponents of an extra session thus far have been unable to muster sufficient strength to conduct any extensive filibuster.

SEAL BEACH TO STAGE RECALL ELECTION SOON

SEAL BEACH, Nov. 19.—The new recall petition was certified to the board of trustees last night by the city clerk as having 114 good signatures. City Attorney Brown held that the petition was sufficient and he was instructed to prepare an ordinance calling an election and have it ready to submit at the next meeting of the board.

The recall is directed at R. E. Dolley, J. R. John and C. O. Wheat, who were elected as members of the board at the municipal election held last April. The movement for their recall was started in June, when they discharged Julius Hammer Jr., their appointee as city marshal, without what many considered sufficient reasons.

Seventy per cent or more of those who signed the recall petition admit having voted for the three trustees they must be recalled. It is stated that the petition would have been circulated and filed three months ago had it not been for the law providing that an official cannot be recalled until after holding the office for six months.

The board of trustees adopted on second reading an ordinance making the coast highway a boulevard stop for Main street traffic and Main street a boulevard stop for traffic on Electric and Central avenues.

An ordinance fixing the speed limit on Anaheim bay bridge at 15 miles per hour and the weight of vehicles to four tons, including the load, was given first reading.

Plans and specifications for paving an alley from Marine avenue to Ocean avenue were adopted and the clerk was instructed to advertise for bids.

By a three-two vote, the city attorney was retained to represent the board in the hearing before Judge Marks in the Superior court at Santa Ana today. The hearing is on the restraining order in regard to Parry's cafe license, which was ordered revoked by a three-two vote of the board at the last meeting. At the meeting last night, Trustees Transue and Walker contended they did not need the services of an attorney.

LAGUNA BEACH

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew S. Hall were hosts to a few friends in honor of Mrs. H. H. Boone, of Fort Worth, Texas, one evening this week. To meet Mrs. Boone, Mr. and Mrs. Hall asked Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Thurston, Miss Ann B. Mason, Charles A. Kaichen and Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. DeAhna. Mrs. DeAhna and the honor guest are sisters and Mrs. Boone is the house guest for the winter in the DeAhna home.

Several Santa Ana women were guests of Mrs. Lee Hayes when the Missionary society of the Community church held its regular meeting at her home. Among those present were Mrs. Lenore Ward, Miss Edith Ward, Mrs. Charles Davis, Mrs. J. A. Blair and Mrs. Edna Alger Gall, who was the speaker of the afternoon. Mrs. Gall, who has returned recently from China, where she was in the missionary work for 12 years, proved a most entertaining talker and held the women of the society with her descriptions of life in the Orient.

House guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. House, of Pasadena and Laguna Beach, included this last week end, Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Heddes, Miss Henrietta Heddes, Miss Isobel Tabor, Mrs. James Fletcher Skinner, Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Meier, Mrs. William P. Herbert, all of Pasadena; Mrs. William Henry Russell, of Los Angeles, and Brude Parrott, of Seattle.

Known internationally as a figure and portrait painter, Helen Watson Phelps, vice president of the New York Society of Painters, is visiting in Laguna Beach for a week at the home of Miss N. Grace Bentley. Miss Phelps, who has a studio in New York City and another in the Adirondacks, is in the west to execute a commission. She is to paint a second portrait of Mrs. A. S. Bridges, of San Diego.

Madame Beatrice Bowman, former grand opera singer, who is now doing concert work, will spend the rest of the winter in Laguna Beach. Madame Bowman was here last year and liked it so well that she ordered a house found for her this winter. The Norwood cottage at Arch Beach was chosen. With madame will come her invalid sister and an attendant.

RAILWAY WILL GO ON AUCTION BLOCK MONDAY

BUTTE, Mont., Nov. 19.—Advertised through thousands of words of legal verbiage as the world's greatest bargain sale, the one and only of its kind, good between 11 and 12 o'clock and in cash-and-carry style, the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, appraised at $750,000,000, will be sold at public auction to the money kings of the nation here next Monday morning.

Modern jargon of display page advertising would make this gigantic deal a 50-word splash reading more to this effect:

"Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul electrified, slightly used but in splendid working order, regularly priced at $750,000,000, now to close out at huge discount. No exchanges, no approvals, no alterations, no charge accounts."

That the sale will attract a large number of early morning shoppers, who will crawl out of their Pullmans in time to rush up to the Milwaukee station in the world's greatest copper camp and put in their prices, and that the grabbing for bargains will be similar in many ways to the anniversary crushes of the big department stores, is promised in the lively battle between the Jamieson group of bondholders and the Kuhn-Loeb group of holders of Milwaukee securities.

The order for the sale was issued by a federal district judge in Chicago, after much litigation. The reason for holding the sale in Butte has never been divulged, but Butte is not particularly amazed or excited about the deal. Butte feels that it is her due, that she is being given credit for the big business which she does and also because of the chain of circumstances which link Butte, her copper mines and the "Milwaukee." For years, the directors of the Anaconda Copper Mining company, the Rockefeller interests and the "Milwaukee" were interlocking.

SMELTZER

SMELTZER, Nov. 19.—Mr. and Mrs. John Murdy and daughter, Miss Ella Murdy, attended the South Dakota picnic in Bixby park, Long Beach, and there enjoyed the opportunity of meeting many old friends from that state, among whom were several men and women whom they had known as children during their residence there a number of years ago. In the Murdy party at the picnic were their son and daughter-in-law, Charles Murdy, and daughter, Miss Iola Murdy, of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Groves are entertaining as house guests, Mrs. Groves' mother, Mrs. Roher, and young sister, who arrived this week from DeKalb, Ill., on a visit.

Mrs. J. T. Worthy returned Tuesday from Willowbrook, where she has been a visitor since Sunday at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Prof. and Mrs. Boydon Hall.

H. T. Dunning, part owner and manager of the Golden West warehouse at Smeltzer, has sent out checks to bean growers whose crops went onto the market during the month. The price, which at the commencement of the shipping season, September 20, stood at $6.75, has lowered to $6 per hundred. Association ranchers receive a higher rate. In the neighborhood of 25,000 sacks of beans have been shipped during the seven weeks' run and there remain for cleaning about 55,000 sacks of beans.

A crew of 18 workers is employed at the warehouse. There was a lay off Monday while repairs were being made on the machinery.

Charles Parr has just given a 10 years' lease to the Julian Oil company on his filling station at the Aldrich subdivision corner, a half mile east of Smeltzer on the Huntington Beach boulevard. E. A. Demerest, of Anaheim, will be in charge of the station and is now repainting the station and preparing for the opening, which will probably be within a week.

Mrs. Clarence Groves and sister, Miss Roher, and Mrs. L. E. Barry, Mrs. J. A. Murdy, Mrs. Charles Parr, of this place, attended on Wednesday the Happy Workers' meeting at Westminster.

Mrs. Groves gave a piano solo as a number on the program. Mrs. Barry was in charge of a pageant.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Grana and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Woodington motored to Los Angeles Wednesday evening and were guests at dinner in the home of Mrs. Grana's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. George Soude. A birthday dinner was given by Mrs. Soude for her husband.

Mrs. Vernon Hall drove in to Santa Ana several days this week to be with her mother, Mrs. Minnie Allen, who is ill.

Mrs. Wilfred Lewis returned home Tuesday evening from Big Bear lake, where she has been in company with a party of Santa Ana friends since Armistice day. Mr. Lewis took the party up that day, returning Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Hurst were down from Los Angeles to spend the week-end with Mr. Hurst's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hurst.

Santa Ana, November 19.

Dear Lois: Haven't you read about old time country fairs, when once or twice a year all the townspeople and farmers of the surrounding country gathered and sold their wares? Some brought fruit, some vegetables, some grain, some pigs, others chickens, cattle, horses and many home made articles to sell or trade.

Here, the housewife's shopping for the next year was done, huge stocks of necessary articles were purchased, and it was a great day or week, for all concerned.

It all is so different today, isn't it. Every day of the year, not excluding holidays, one always can find some store open where a necessary purchase can be made. But in very few cases may the purchasing be done as it was years and years ago. It is more difficult now for a housewife to pick up her basket, go to the "public square" and there purchase anything that she might need.

Two Interesting Markets

In Santa Ana, though, we are more lucky, for we have two very interesting markets, where nearly anything one can name may be found. These places bring pictures of bygone days and bygone markets and fairs and such things.

Wednesday, Katie and I visited the Grand Central market, on Broadway, and to see so many varieties of stalls and shops all under one roof was most interesting. Among the main places we visited were the meat markets, for Katie was in search of skewers. Of course you don't know what skewers are. At least I didn't and I am judging you by myself. They are the tiny pointed sticks used to hold roasts together and they closely resemble the sticks found in all-day suckers.

Katie wanted the skewers to use in making pom-poms for the junior college dance, which is going to be held Wednesday night. In Orange, in honor of the football team, I think that it is an awfully cute idea, having as favors miniature pom-poms, in the college colors. The idea was Mary Grisset's, Katie said.

We visited Decker's candyland, also, in search of sticks, but as they do not make all-day suckers we could not get them. They make plenty of other candy, however. It was lucky that I had no money with me or I could not have resisted buying some, it looked so fresh.

Modern improvements But to get back to the subject

Our Neighbors

LONG BEACH—Long Beach will soon have its first experiment with control of pedestrian traffic. Plans for limited use of the system, found successful in Los Angeles and other cities, are now being made, according to City Manager Charles S. Henderson.

The manager's intention is to install the automatic traffic signals on 10 prominent corners in the downtown district of greatest traffic congestion. When the subject came up for discussion at a recent meeting of the city council, Manager Henderson mentioned that $25,000 for the purpose had been put in the municipal budget this fiscal year. Not more than half of this amount will be appropriated now for the signals. The great advantage of signals over attempts to control pedestrian traffic with police officers is that the mechanical devices give an intermediate warning between the changes of signals, so that the person walking is prepared for the change in the direction of the movement of vehicular traffic.

SAN DIEGO — Giving every promise that San Diego's predicted $20,000,000 building year will become a reality, the building permit total for the year to date has passed the $17,000,000 mark. The total stands at $17,067,428. Permits for at least two large buildings are to be taken out before the end of the year, and these, with the natural large number of small permits are expected to put the total well over the $20,000,000 mark.

SAN BERNARDINO—Establishing a mark which has only been equaled once in the past 21 years, San Bernardino county's 1925-1926 citrus fruit crop produced 6,056,543 packed boxes, according to figures compiled by County Horticultural Commissioner John P. Coy. A total of 15,141 cars with a capacity of 400 packed boxes per car left the county for the world's markets during the season. The only season in the past 21 years to surpass this mark was in 1923-24 when a total of 6,595,022 boxes was the county's record for citrus production. Of the total production 5,290,498 boxes and 13,001 cars were oranges. There were 8,875 cars of navela shipped, 3,359 cars of valencia, 738 cars of miscellaneous varieties, 394 cars of grapefruit and 1,746 cars of lemons.

RIVERSIDE — The first car of navel oranges from the Riverside district this season left this week on the Santa Fe railroad. The Highgrove Mutual Citrus association has the honor of shipping the first of the 1926-27 fruit, the oranges being Thompson Improved. The fruit is reported to be of fine quality, testing high and showing splendid color. The officials of the packing house report that the car will be sold in transit. Three more cars are to follow from the same packing house this week.

Phone 1172, Turner Radio Co., and have an Atwater-Kent placed in your home.

of an old fashioned market. This was very similar, except for modern improvements and the capacities of some of the stalls. Such places as the cleaning establishment and shoe shining place would not be appropriate in a fair existing some place in England some time during the twelfth century. Instead, I rather imagine that they would have to have a place for polishing armor.

And the Hoover vacuum cleaners would have been sadly out of place in that day and age, because I have heard that the castles of such persons as Sir Galahad and King Arthur were cleaned through what the hounds cared to carry off.

The grocery stores probably had no special counterpart in the days of chivalry, but they are most convenient in the markets of today, and it truly is amazing to see the completeness of such places as Daley's and Friend and Ramsdale.

I shouldn't doubt but what Ward's stand, which carries such things as are commonly found in hardware stores, and Taylor's stove store could be compared favorably with little stalls where knights of old purchased helmets and, perhaps, screws for their armor and much decorated saddles.

Foods of Long Ago

I have heard that cheese was a food of long ago, as was fish, so there would be no need to compare today's dairy store and the fish and poultry stand with those of Camelot and vicinity.

And besides the ones I have mentioned there are dozens (perhaps I exaggerated slightly) of other shops in the one market. There is a hemstitching establishment, a cigar stand, a delicatessen, a real estate office and others.

I suppose you are interested in what Dixie is going to do. As far as Katie and I know, she is planning to leave Wednesday. She says that she will be gone for some time, but somehow we can't believe it. We have decided that she will be back in Santa Ana in two months, or Jack will have gone east. But we aren't absolutely sure, for we saw him at a dance with Jean. I wonder if he took her and, if he did, if Dixie knows. Or, maybe, she is telling the truth when she says she doesn't care.

Katie said to tell you that she will write in a few days. She feels much more like writing now, since quarterly exams are over.

Love, LOUISE.

WASHINGTON LETTER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—There's one thing to be said for ex-Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall. He can stand punishment.

Ex-Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty nearly went to pieces under the prolonged strain of the investigation of his administration of the justice department and his subsequent trial, with ex-Alien Custodian Thomas W. Miller.

He left the justice department a plump, smiling, typical politician and then went rapidly down hill until, at his trial, the prosecutor himself had to admit that he looked pitiful.

Fall, on the other hand, seemed on the verge of a breakdown when summoned before the Walsh committee in connection with the Teapot Dome and Elk Hills oil scandals.

But when he appeared before Justice Hoehling of the District of Columbia supreme court to plead not guilty, with E. L. Doheny, to a charge of conspiracy to defraud the government, he appeared in the pink of condition—about as unlike the popular idea of a "broken old man" as it's possible to imagine.

Doheny was bristling and defiant.

Fall was cool and self-possessed. Affable also. He shook hands with numerous acquaintances, posed for the cameraman, was polite to reporters, and never was more at his ease, seemingly, at his desk in the interior department or his seat in the U. S. senate.

Fall's defense may easily ruin him financially. It was hard to withhold a tribute of admiration for his nerve, under the circumstances.

Fall isn't a rich man. He has his ranch at Three Rivers (N. M.) and he got $100,000 from Doheny. That's admitted, though it's denied that there's any impropriety in it. The defense account is that Fall and Doheny were old fellow prospectors, which is true unquestionably; that Doheny learned Fall was in financial difficulties and that the former simply handed the $100,000 over, as "pardon" to "pardon" to be repaid or not, at Fall's convenience.

Presumably that placed him on "easy street" assuming that nothing went wrong subsequently. But something else did go wrong. He's under one indictment with Doheny and under another one with Harry Sinclair.

A ranch and $100,000 won't go far toward defending him.

Bedding Plants

With the promise of cooler weather and possible early rains, we are able to consider a few of the plants which it has been unwise to plant in recent weeks. Most of them are common and are friends to practically every gardener.

Pansies

What is a garden without a pansy bed or border? These cheerful little plants, with individual color characteristics, are unsurpassed for a low, free-blooming plant. Upon examining a pansy bed, you will find an indescribable fascination that places them high in the ranks of plant popularity.

The most theory of planting has been, generally speaking, that the pansy requires shade. The most beautiful pansies will be found in beds of full sunlight. Partial shade is not to be avoided, however, as some very pretty beds are the result of such plantings.

Best results are obtained from pansies if soil is quite loose at planting time and they are kept moist by sprinkling. The cooling effect of sprinkling is very beneficial to pansies. There is greater assurance of blossoming and better flowers if the flowers are kept picked pretty close. When they are not used as cut flowers, which is difficult, the flowers may be left until they start to deteriorate before plucking.

Either seeds or young plants may be used at this time for starting pansies. Greater success is assured from plants unless the planter is accustomed to handling seed beds.

Cinerarias

One group of plants that always is admired and its name mispronounced, is the cineraria. Favored by Southern California climate, it is used extensively out of doors. Under more severe weather conditions, it has gained great prominence as a house plant. We use it here in the Southland quite extensively for outdoor decorating.

The cineraria must be kept cool and moist at all times. Because of this, we are able to use it under shade conditions that offer such a problem in our gardening. So many of our plants and shrubs cannot be used in intense shade, but the cineraria not only thrives, but puts forth beautiful rich beds of color. The seed must be sown from May to August for winter and spring bloom. The best practice is to use the small seedling plants, as the cineraria seed bed is hard to handle. Be sure and plant them in a cool spot and keep moist.

Once you have a bed of these showy plants, you may have a constant supply by keeping ground wet after plants have died down. This brings forth the small seedlings, which, when two or three inches tall, may be transplanted or thinned out as desired.

Violets

One of our oldest plants and one with which practically everyone is familiar is the violet. There are numerous types, but the most popular one is the "Princess of Wales" with its long stems of dark blue or purple flowers.

Violets may be grown in shade or in full sunlight. The commercial plantings, which furnish cut violets for the floral trade, are grown in full sunlight.

One of the chief problems locally is the eradication of snails and slugs in the violet bed. These pests are reduced considerably if the plants are not too close together and in full sunlight. About a foot apart is a good distance to plant. After the plants have been in the ground a year or two, it is advisable to remove old stalks and save the newly rooted runners to form a new bed.

Previous articles have dealt with stocks and snapdragons. They both may be planted to advantage for some time yet.

The following questions were submitted:

Q.—How often should a new hedge be trimmed?
A.—The average hedge should be allowed to produce eight to 12 inches of growth and then trim away half of it. This is the best rule to follow.

Q.—What can I use for snails?
A.—Snail is very good. You also may prepare equal parts of lead arsenate and bran mash.

WESTERN PACIFIC WILL BE IMPROVED

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 18.—Arthur Curtiss James, principal stockholder of the Western Pacific railroad, has been elected chairman of the board of directors, succeeding Alvin W. Krech, New York, resigned.

The directors, in reorganization meeting, approved plans for railroad developments, involving the expenditure of millions of dollars.

Principal projects included: Establishment of a faster freight and passenger service between San Francisco, Denver, and Chicago; linking the Denver Rio Grande Western and allied lines by means of a new railroad line through the Moffat tunnel, Colorado's state project piercing the continental divide of the Rocky mountains, 50 miles west of Denver; new line to cost $2,000,000.

Of still greater importance was the approved plan for extension of the company's Tidewater and Southern line from Stanislaus county as far south as Fresno, the cost estimated at $10,000,000.

WOULD REOPEN BORDER

According to a news dispatch from San Diego, those interested in the financial success of the dives at Tia Juana are raising a fund of $200,000 to be used in a campaign seeking to change the closing hour at the border. At present, the border closes at 6 o'clock. The Tia Juanaans want the hour extended to 10 o'clock. That is, the campaign will be made for a 10 o'clock closing; what the advocates of the 10 o'clock rule really want is a border that will be open day and night without troublesome inspectors anywhere within sight.

Mayor Bacon, of San Diego, who is not counted as a friend of border opening, has declared that the program of those raising the $200,000 fund also calls for the elimination of a border inspector who has insisted that 6 o'clock means 6 o'clock and doesn't mean 6:05 o'clock or any other o'clock.

Word from Washington indicates that there is no weakening on the part of authorities there. Certain it is that Congressman Phil D. Swing will fight any effort for changing the closing hour. It was largely through his efforts that closing was secured. He has the backing of the great majority of the people of the 11th congressional district. The demand for reopening of the border comes from very much interested and very active interests in San Diego and Los Angeles. Closing of the border at 6 o'clock has reduced the profits of Tia Juana's owners. The night life with all its viciousness still exists, but American patrons, willing to spend a few hours there, do not fancy staying there all night; they know the place too well; for sleep, they seek the safety of American soil. Six o'clock closing has been a hard blow to Tia Juana.

An expenditure of $200,000 in maintenance of a lobby at Washington, in spreading propaganda and in doing whatever else that $200,000 might do, would be quickly returned to the subscribers to the fund if the border were open until 10 o'clock. And while the owners of the dives were getting their money away from Americans, Tia Juana's trail on this side of the border would be strewn afresh with embezzlements, with suicides, with broken bodies and broken fortunes, with ruined homes and ruined lives.

OUR ACTIVITY IN OIL

Orange county still is making history in the oil industry in California. This week's developments have been interesting. First, the residents of Huntington Beach voted to open up all of its residential area, hitherto closed to drillers, for drilling. Then, unexpectedly a 10,000 barrel well came in on the Marland lease near Seal Beach. True, the well itself is nearly a quarter of a mile over the Orange county line, but the bringing in of the well brings into consideration an area inside Orange county, close to the county line.

The history of oil development in Orange county is a fascinating story. Before the Spaniards arrived, Indians used brea, gathered on the surface of the ground, for patching boats and for rimming their stone mortars, in which they ground their food. Drilling began in a small way a half a century or so ago, but most of the heavy development dates back no more than 25 years, much of it no more than six or eight years.

While a large share of the county has been prospected by wildcat operators, there remains always the probability that a new field will be brought in. Deep drilling has revived areas and made good producers out of wells that seemed to have been pumped out.

Oil has brought millions of wealth into the county and has taken many more millions of wealth in oil away. Orange county residents, some of them, have been enriched by oil; many others have lost their life savings. Oil investments, more often than not, are of uncertain quantity. For one who does not understand the "game," they are risky.

FACIAL ARTISTRY

"My word!" cries Hugh Walpole, English author, sizing us up. "You go on the streets of your cities and look at the faces of the women, and you cannot believe your eyes. Faces are not faces here, but masks. Certainly there is much to be taught in the application of rouge and lipstick."

There's the big objection to most of the facial decoration seen in public nowadays. The decorators are bad artists.

The niftiest thing about royalty is just signing your first name and ignoring everybody who doesn't know what that means.

SPEEDING INDUSTRY

Henry Ford, who has made industrial history on several occasions, may be making more history than usual with his five-day week. As explained in recent interviews, there is something more to his plan than appeared at first.

Mr. Ford stoutly disclaims any philanthropic intent or economic whim. He insists that his five-day week is a straight business proposition based on sound principles, which should work for an efficient industry as well as for his own.

In the first place, he is not giving his men six days' pay for five days' work. He gives them their full week's pay only as they do six of their former days' work in five days.

This means speeding up all the processes in his factories, mechanical as well as human. He says that it takes a little time, but the transition in his shops is being accomplished satisfactorily. He will have to drop some employees because of laziness or inability to endure the pace. Many are already nearing their old earning capacity in the shortened week. He expects entire success for his men and plants within a reasonable time.

Thus his employees will have two days' leisure a week instead of one. That, he is sure, will be good for the workers, because "they are learning how to make good use of their leisure." He is equally sure it will be good for Henry Ford. For having more leisure, they will spend more money, particularly for automobiles. That will give the Ford Motor company more business and more profits, which in turn he expects to share with the workmen.

With two days off a week, he suggests that people will have one day to run around and one to go to church. He thinks it will help religion.

Here is a challenge to all industry, for all citizens to think about. Are we all taking an unnecessary amount of time for our work? Could we do as much in five days as in six? And would it be worth while for society as a whole to speed up and work harder in working hours, in order to have more leisure?

Now that we know light travels 30 miles a second slower than we thought it did, we can sleep a little later in the morning with a clear conscience.

Hospital Service for All

Long Beach Press-Telegram

One family out of every five in the United States has a hospital experience each year, according to reliable statistics. The hospital as a public institution has a recognition not far removed from that of the public schools. It has grown and improved prodigiously during recent years. The high character of its service is granted on every hand. Imagine, if possible, what conditions would be in Long Beach without a hospital.

The hospital does something more than care for emergency cases, or act as a haven for those who have no homes but who are in need of medical or surgical attention and of proper nursing. The hospital serves its community by segregating contagious carriers, thus keeping to a minimum the losses from disease and the resulting quarantine.

The hospital of today is quite a different establishment from that of twenty-five years ago. Its service is much more complete, its equipment much more costly, its benefits much more widespread. Naturally, this progress cannot be attained without increase in cost. And here is found what many students of economic and social problems believe to be the most serious question in hospitalization.

How can the hospital be made available to the family of moderate means, the family that is representative of the average American, the family whose budget cannot withstand an expense ranging from $50 to $150 a week in the event of sickness or accident, without making disastrous if not fatal inroads into the home purse?

Between the two extremes of wealth and that poverty which must accept charity, there is the great body of Americans to whom this situation has a vital meaning. Their incomes may be able to carry comfortably the ordinary demands, but they cannot readily face the extraordinary requirements that come all too frequently to confuse and discourage.

One suggestion that would more quickly meet the issue is the granting of municipal support to community hospitals that such items as overhead and general maintenance may be cared for out of public funds, thus making it possible to reduce the charges to the patients. Some such thought was in mind when the Community Hospital in Long Beach was organized; and Long Beach has been able to grant rates much lower than in many other cities of the Southwest. This advantage has been due to private beneficence rather than to aid from public sources.

These considerations are certain to become more acute, and they should receive the earnest thought of people in every line of work, and especially of municipal administrators.

More Economic Pressure

San Bernardino Sun

Another big newspaper consolidation leaves the city of Memphis, Tenn., with but one afternoon paper, and likewise with one paper in its morning field.

The development is one of the most notable recently announced, all of them following in the same direction. Memphis was a city of 162,000 in 1920. Presumably it is now verging toward 200,000. Yet the competition involved in the publication of two afternoon papers there was finally voted unwise and unprofitable, and the News-Scimitar, established in 1881, and the Press, established in 1906, go under a single ownership and management, and one of them will disappear.

Which means that a leading city of the South will have but one morning and one evening newspaper. The tremendous increased costs of publication furnish the explanation.

NATURE WARNS MIDDLE-AGED MAN

As man approaches middle age and his body begins to lose its powers of recovery from degeneration and disease, certain symptoms may appear which must be taken as danger signals on the road of life.

They are definite warnings to slow down, to keep to the center of the road and to avoid complications. Chief among these are obesity, high blood pressure, albumin in kidney excretions, gout, and diabetes.

There is a tendency in persons past middle age to take on fat. All medical authorities are agreed that it is well for a person after 60 years of age to diminish in weight, and that if he fails to do so, the deposits of fat must be regarded as a bad sign. It is well for the man of middle age to realize that the time to begin to take off fat is before he reaches 60.

The insurance companies have found from an investigation of their records of death that the elderly man with a large amount of fat is likely to have a shorter life expectancy than the one who is lean. A large amount of fat beneath the skin probably means also a great amount of fat around the heart and liver.

A heart surrounded with fat hardly has sufficient elbow room for the extra work it may be required to accomplish should the person become infected with pneumonia or some other disease that places an unusual burden on that organ.

The liver, which is a mass of fat, is able to respond with difficulty to any unusual burden which may be placed upon it by the digestive tract after middle age.

High blood pressure is a disease condition associated frequently with intoxication of the body of various types. The person with a very high blood pressure is placing a burden on his arterial system which may cause a rupture at some weakened point.

Frequent bleeding of the nose in a person past middle age may be a symptom of high blood pressure and should not be belittled until its importance is understood.

The appearance of albumin in excretions from the kidney indicates that this organ is not functioning adequately, and must be taken as a warning sign. When it is the only symptom, it is not a cause for extreme anxiety, but it is always a signal for careful and complete investigation.

Gout is less common now than formerly. Its exact cause has not, however, yet been established. The "big toe" gout of the irascible, retired millionaire is now seldom seen, probably because of increasing temperance in both food and drink.

When this form appears, or when the person beyond middle age has the other manifestations, including pains in the muscle, nerve, and joints, these must be taken as warning signals for lessened speed and lessened quantities of body fuel.

Diabetes represents difficulty in the body's ability to handle sugars. It is a disease that can be controlled easily by modern methods, but unless seen early, may produce effects that are promptly fatal. It demands a scientific consideration of the diet, such as only a trained physician can give.

Pleads for Tolerant National Spirit

Pasadena Star-News

There is much of fine sentiment in the Armistice day address of President Coolidge, at Kansas City. There is much of it that should be re-read and pondered. The overtone of peace was heard through the whole address. Peace and its promotion were discussed from several angles. One phase is of especial importance and significance. That treated peace as something to be promoted and perpetuated by national spirit. "We look to the arts of peace rather than war as the means by which mankind will finally develop its greatest spiritual power." Amplifying this, Mr. Coolidge observed pertinently that "we shall not be able to cultivate the arts of peace by constant appeal to primal instincts." And this added thought:

"Nothing is easier than an appeal to suspicion and distrust. It is always certain that the unthinking will respond to such efforts. But such reaction is of the flesh, not of the spirit. It represents the opportunist, not the idealist. It serves the imperialistic cause of conquest but it is not found in the lesson of the sermon on the mount. It may flourish as the impulse of the day, but it is not the standard which will finally prevail in the world. . . . If we are to have peace, therefore, we are to live in accordance with the dictates of a higher life. We shall avoid any national spirit of suspicion, distrust and hatred toward other nations."

This is wholesome gospel of international good will. America should be saturated with it. Americans are too intelligent, too broad of mind and too generous of heart to harbor hatred or distrust toward any nation or people. The psychology reaction of this nation and people toward other nations and peoples is of primal importance as a fostering influence for world peace.

Let America keep its own heart clean and free from grudges and suspicions against any other nations or peoples. Then this nation safely may trust to fate and over-ruling providence to bring other nations and peoples around to the point of trusting this country and not hating it.

Worth While Verse

ON HIS BLINDNESS

When I consider how my light is spent Ere half my day, in this dark world and wide,
And that one talent which is death to hide
Lodged with me useless, though my soul more bent
To serve wherewith my Maker, and present

My true account, lest He returning chide—
"Dost God exact day labor, light denied?"
I fondly ask: But Patience prevent

That murmur, soon replies: God doth not need Either man's work, or His own gifts, who best Bear His mild yoke, they serve Him best: His state

Is kingly; thousands at His bidding speed
And post o'er land and ocean without rest;
They also serve who only stand and wait.
—Milton.

SONG OF THE DANCING GIRL OF RAJPUTANA

I would make feast for thee, Beloved,
I would make feast—
Yea of thy servants, I, the very least
Would bid thee pass my humble threshold o'er
And yield thee fruits from this, my scanty store.

I would weave garlands Beloved, garlands for thee
Of scarlet blossom from pomegranate tree,
And for thy rest, soft cushions I would place,
And for thy comfort, fan thy flushing face.

All that I own is thine, Beloved, all that I own.
Warm thou thy hands before this small hearthstone.
I pray press closer to the glowing fire
And warm thy heart with all my heart's desire.

Wide is the door for thee, Beloved, wide the door:
Walk proudly through, where ne'er a trod man before—
I kneel in ecstasy, face to the east
I would make feast for thee, Beloved, I would make feast.

ONLY A LITTLE BOY

Listen, son: I am saying this to you, as you lie asleep, one little paw crumpled under your cheek and the blond curls stickily wet on your damp forehead. I have stolen into your room alone. Just a few moments ago as I sat reading my paper in the library, a hot stifling wave of remorse swept over me. I could not resist it. Guiltily I came to your bedside.

These are the things I was thinking, son: I had been cross to you. I scolded you as you were dressing for school, because you gave your face merely a dab with a towel. I took you to task for not cleaning your shoes. I called out angrily when I found you had thrown some of your things on the floor.

At breakfast I found fault, too. You spilled things. You gulped down your food. You put your elbows on the table. You spread butter too thick on your bread. And as you started off to play and I waved a little hand and called, "Good-by, Daddy!" and I frowned and said in reply, "Hold your shoulders back!"

Then it began all over again the late afternoon. As I came up the hill road I spied you, down on your knees playing marbles. There were holes in your stockings. I humiliated you before your boy friends by making you march ahead of me to the house. Stockings were expensive—and if you had to buy them you would be more careful! Imagine that, son, from a father!

It was such stupid, silly logic. Do you remember, later, when I was reading in the library, how you came in softly, timidly, with a sort of hurt, hunted look in your eyes? When I glanced up over my paper, impatient at the interruption, you hesitated at the door.

"What is it that you want?" I snapped.

You said nothing, but you ran across, in one tempestuous plunge, and threw your arms around my neck and kissed me, again and again, and your small arms tightened with an action that God had set blooming in your heart and which even neglect could not wither. And then you were gone, patting the stairs.

Well, son, it was shortly afterwards, that my paper slipped from my hand and a terrible, sickening fear came over me. Suddenly I saw myself as I really was, in all my horrible selfishness, and I felt sick at heart.

What had habit been doing to me? The habit of complaining, of finding fault, of reprimanding—all of these were my rewards to you for being a boy. It was not that I did not love you; it was that I expected so much of youth. It was measuring you by the yardstick of my own years.

And there was so much that was good, and fine, and true in your character. You did not deserve my treatment of you, son. The little heart of you was as big as the dawn itself over the wide hills.

And I have prayed God to strengthen me in my new resolve. Tomorrow I will be a real daddy! I will chum with you, and suffer when you suffer and laugh when you laugh. I will bite my tongue when impatient words come. I will keep saying, as if it were a ritual: "He is nothing but a boy—a little boy!"

I am afraid I have visualized you as a man. Yet as I see you now, son, crumpled and weary in your cot, I see that you are still a baby. Yesterday you were in your mother's arms, your head on her shoulder. I have asked too much, too much!

Dear boy! Dear little son! A penitent kneels at your infant shrine, here in the moonlight. I kiss the little fingers, and the damp forehead, and the yellow curls; and if it were not for waking you, I would snatch you up and crush you to my breast.

Too came, and heartache, and remorse, and think—a greater, deeper love, when you ran through the library door and wanted to kiss me!

—The Lions Club Magazine.

Dear Patcher Lady:—

I guess you almost cried 'cause I didn't ever write you a letter last summer. Please 'scuse me. I had such a be-a-u-t-i-f-u-l time playing with the little waves at the beach. I couldn't stop to wrt—now that I've written, won't you please be as happy as a house I'm going to tell you about? It's a schoolhouse and I know it's happy, now that the children are back there. All summer, that great big building stood so lonely, gazing out over the ocean and every night after dark, when our family walks past it and got just by the corner of the porch, we could hear the softest low music, like voices singing way off inside, but not a gleam of light in the building, so there wasn't really anybody there to be singing; so I think perhaps the schoolhouse was thinking about all the happy little voices that sang songs there during the school term, and being so lonesome, on summer evenings, it just sang over to itself all the pretty songs it had heard, and longed so to hear again.

LITTLE SISTER.

CONFESION

The secret's out! The beans are spilled!

I may as well confess it!

For "Stubbydee," (who's tall and slim),

Was keen enough to guess it!

No use disguising any more,—

I shall not even try to,— Henceforth I'll simply hyphenate Nemo-Incognito.

"Jewels," "Disillusionment,"

Received no commendation:

The "Lyrics of a Booklover" caused not the least sensation:

I felt a weak and witty

When questioned as to authorship

Of course I answered "Guilty."

I'd seek another nom de plume

For lyric, ode, and sonnet,—

But what use is a nom de plume, if there are ear-marks on it?

To have "no name"—"to be disguised,"—

I'd try to, (but not lie to),

And so, I'll merely hyphenate,

NEMO-INCOGNITO.

(Had any of the Quilt readers guessed that NEMO and INCOGNITO were one and the same? Are there any others who send contributions under two noms de plume?)

DELIVERING ON THE DAD BUSINESS.

by FRANK H. CHELEY

No. 17 Are You "Dad" or the "Old Man"?

THOUGHTFUL FATHERS DO NOT COMPEL THE RESPECT OF their boys, but rather strive to be eminently worthy of it. Consequently, it never occurs to such sons ever to think of their fathers as the "old man," or "the old gent," or "the governor."

DADS WIN BECAUSE THEY ARE CONVINCED VITAL CHARACTER is as contagious as the measles and never lose an opportunity to "expose" the boys and themselves to it, and—

BECAUSE THEY DO NOT BLAME THE BOYS for every occasional failing in love with the girls. They did it themselves once, and are convinced that comradeship with the right sort of girls, under reasonable supervision, is the greatest tonic in the world for right living, and—

BECAUSE THEY BELIEVE that boys must actually both earn and spend money in order to learn practical thrift and so take pains to provide them with ample opportunity for both, not forgetting to have them give, too, in keeping with their means, and—

BECAUSE THEY UNDERSTAND PERFECTLY that a broken will is a greater misfortune than a crippled body to a boy; while a directed will is the greatest of boy possessions.
